THE QUESTION.

BY MONROE H. ROSENFELD.

Oh, winds that chill grow
Adown the dusty street,
With portent of the snow,
Of tempest and of sleet,
Why stir this longing pain
Within my throbbing breast?
Why lingers in my brain
This infinite unrest?

Is it because the last
Of Summer's blush and bloom
And all its joys have past,
O'erwhelmed in sombre gloom?
Is it because the birds
Have ceased their rapturous song,
And gone the low of herds
The leafy lanes along?

Ah, no, 'tis not for these
The spirit sadly yearns,
That all Life's sympathies
To gall the season turns.
Oh, unalloyed regret!
Oh, vista, dim, remote!
How am I going to get My Winter overcoat?

UNTO THE THIRD AND FOURTH GENERATION

BY ANNA B. PATTEN.

The history of many of the landmarks of Washington have found conspicuous pages in national records. With some the skeleton in the closet has been laid bare to curious scrutiny; with others it has been buried in oblivion. It is the purpose of this romance to unearth one of these carefully concealed heirlooms, and the roof that sheltered the secret was known as "The Southern Cross." It was a beautiful plantation, standing on a thickly wooded hill overlooking the Potomac, and had formerly been honored with the title of manor—a dignity conferred upon it by the English crown. In the course of time the old place had been remodeled, enlarged and extended on all sides of the compass, until the old wing and the new combined had assumed the form of a cross, and the former title had gradually been submerged into the latter.

Popular taste in the choice of a residence had shifted with advancing years from the region of the capitol to the extreme Northwest, but the Southern Cross, like many another ancient roof tree, preserved its own individuality from regime to regime, while its inhabitants held themselves somewhat aloof from the human tide that ebbed to and fro with each returning administration, standing pre-eminently as representatives of the blue blood of the District.

The house itself was capacious enough to accommodate any number of guests. A stranger might easily lose his way among the multitudinous turns and passages leading in every direction. Especially was this the case should he chance to investigate the old wing, connected with the main house by a narrow corridor. Here one found such an array of spider legged furniture, ebony pedestals holding branch candlesticks, and canopied bedsteads with carpeted steps to mount to restful slumber, as would have set a collector of antiques wild with delight.

Over this part of the establishment hung the mystic air that always surrounds the uninhabited, and this was augmented in one sense by the presence of secret doors of which no one had ever taken the trouble to inquire the ingenious workings. Whatever the crime to which these had once offered an avenue of escape might be, it was now shrouded in oblivion.

In great contrast to this stillness and nun-like solitude was the bustle and confusion holding sway in the more modern mansion, one October afternoon, not only in the private apartments, but down even to the servants' quarters and the numerous outbuildings. Carriage after carriage swept through the portentous gates that flanked the driveway and deposited their occupants in the vestibule. Into the wide, spacious halls and up the broad and imposing stairway tripped light footsteps to the music of laughter and happy voices, for these guests were the favored few bidden to the bridal party in honor of the nuptials of the daughter of the house, the only child and sole heir to the Ghent name and estate.

The proud possessor of these honors stood by her mother's side to greet each fresh arrival. The light from an oriole window fell on the prettily poised head and touched with a rosy glow the perfect outlines of the face that needed not to rely on the tricks of toilet to enhance its charms. Only such classical outlines could have shone serene under the severe parting of the hair above the white forehead. Many an envious glance was directed backward at the young girl who was such a striking illustration of the biblical adage, "To him that hath shall be given"—for in a week's time the heiress of millions was to wed a prominent member of a New England banking firm, a union that would weld together the ancient houses of the Puritan and the Cavalier. At the convent where Genevieve Ghent had been educated the sisters had daily tried to instill into their pupil's mind the lesson of humility, warning her against pride as a besetting sin, but their instructions had not brought forth good fruit. She had withdrawn in stately reserve from the other scholars, making few friends and but one intimate. It was while on a visit to the latter at her home in the North, one year ago, that she had met Jerome Sears, and after a short siege had unconditionally surrendered her heart and hand scious of her scrutiny. She laid her hand on his arm and ventured timidly:

"Henry—don't you think she ought to know? It doesn't seem right —"

He met this stammering overture with a scowl of discontent.

"I thought that question was settled, once and for all, Phoebe. You pretend to love your daughter, and yet you would blight her life? I know the man. Once married he will shield her and hers. Remember, my orders are to be obeyed!"

One of the ancestors of Henry Wise Ghent, it was said, chained his daughter to the attic

"We can send informal invitations this morning, and Marion is quite an adept in designing costumes and studying poses."

This was pronounced on all sides to be a fitting close to the week's festivities, and then began a ransacking of old chests for antediluvian costumes, while it was decided to improvise a stage in the unused picture gallery in the deserted wing.

"Suppose we have 'Genevra' for the grand finale?" was Marion's next proposition. "You know there is a modern interpretation of Rogers' beautiful poem, called 'The Mistletoe Bough.' Rather a travesty, to be sure,

"Perhaps you will object to having Melissa dress my hair. She has taken care of me since babyhood, and if I do not take her North with me it will break her heart."

There was an indignant denial and a swift reconciliation, but Genevieve wondered if such diametrically opposed natures could live in harmony. This was not the time to test the issue of such a question, so she submitted patiently to the decision of her guests, who bore down upon her with proselyting ardor.

"I do not quite like getting into a chest," was her last faint demur. "I always did have such a horror of being buried alive!"

"But we will have the back taken off, and when the curtain comes down you can step right out behind the scenes."

So the last objection was overruled, but Genevieve was imbued with an uneasy sensation all the time she was going through the preliminary practicing of the scenes. They were very simple. The bridal party in the old castle hall, gliding through the stately minuet; the suddenly mischievous desire of the happy bride to play hide and seek; the climbing into the chest when no one is near, and, last of all, the finding of the wedding dress and veil, years after, by the aged groom.

Genevieve's face was so pale as she stood in the wings that night in her bridal array that her lover chafed her tenderly.

"One would think you were committing a capital crime, dear. Are you going to look so sad on our wedding day? Don't you know that I am willing to bear the brunt of all your sins?"

The words were spoken lightly, little knowing how soon they were to be bitterly realized.

The curtain fell on the last tableau and it was time for the closing tragedy. The old chests had unearthed stiff brocades, knee breeches and silver buckles; so, with a profuse powdering of the coiffure and adroit hair dressing, the actors in the cotillion were fine fac similes of the patched, beruffled dames and squires who looked down upon them from the walls.

"Remember, dearest, I shall find you wherever you may be; there is no secret you can hide from me," was the lover's whispered challenge, as she left him with her finger on her lip.

As if her whole soul was not bared to his scrutiny, was her happy, conscious thought as the scene shifted and she went through the required evolutions on the stage, slipping into the old chest and thence behind the curtain to the rear. Once there she breathed a sigh of relief, for now she might take a quiet hour to herself in undisturbed thought of the morrow, when she was to enact a far more momentous part. Her lover, the person most interested in her movements, would be engaged for some time in impersonating the role of the aged, broken hearted man, still searching for his lost bride.

She hurried through the deserted rooms, for the servants, even, were congregated about the doors of the theatre. In the back hall that connected the picture gallery with the dining room were the secret doors which had held such a fear and fascination for her when a child. Now she stood gazing at them with the old time timidity, but the mischievous thought flashed through her consciousness that, if she only knew their secret springs, what a chase she could lead her too confident lover.

The washboards and chairboards running across them were ingeniously cut some distance from the actual door; no key holes, hinges or openings showing on the blind side. The knobs and shutters were of brass, evidently of a special pattern. As she drew nearer for a closer survey she heard a curious clicking sound, as of some one pressing a spring, the door slowly revolved, and, to her amazement and terror, she saw, as it noiselessly swung aside, her mother's figure standing in the aperture thus revealed, dressed in her gala attire, a candle held high in one hand.

At the first glimpse of her daughter and her cry of alarm, the lady staggered backward and stood staring as if transfixed.

"Mother!" Genevieve fond her voice at last. The words of her lover—"There is no secret you can hide from me"—had struck a swift terror to her heart at first, and made her dumb. "What are you doing here? I thought you were entertaining our guests."

Her mother's lips trembled; they were as white as the lisse around her throat.

"You know, my dear, the old wing has been so long uninhabited, there is always danger of fire, young people are so careless using burnt cork, and —"

It was a lame subterfuge. Genevieve came forward and took the trembling hands within her own and looked down from her superior height.

"You must tell me what it is, mother, dear. You surely have nothing that you wish to hide from me?"

The poor woman broke down and sobbed helplessly. She was of a weak, frail nature, always overborne by the imperious will of her husband and the stronger personality of her young daughter.

to his keeping.

He was a member now of the family group, as he was also a recipient of the gushing congratulations, but when these ceased at last and the rustling frou-frou of alken petticoats was lost in the capacious corridors overhead, he turned to his sweetheart with a long sigh of relief. The studied quietude of the young girl's face was broken and an eager light took its place as she held out both hands impetuously to her lover.

"Now I am yours till the dinner bell sounds, Jerome! Just forty-five minutes, is it not, mother? After that it will be 'what next on the programme'—and I cannot promise you an hour ahead —"

The two strolled off, hand in hand, through the wide glass doors that opened on the quaint old garden with its winding avenues of box, and its numerous shady nooks where lovers could hold secret converse. The eyes of the mother followed the pair anxiously. A little sigh escaped her lips, as if at some forbidden thought, and she glanced up appealingly at her husband. His face was turned away but there was something in the set of his stern lips that showed he was conscious of her scrutiny. She laid her hand on his arm and ventured timidly:

"I was afraid—dear—she might blame us if—she ever found it out—that was all," was her apologetic reply as she meekly accepted the ultimatum.

In the fleeting days that followed "what next on the programme" became the byword on every lip. Such a round of gaieties was crowded into every passing hour. Not only were there the delights of the capitol to exhaust, but the Southern Cross, itself, abounded in resources to attract the varied tastes.

"How noiseless falls the foot of Time That only treads on flowers."

quoted one of the party on the last day before the eventful ceremony. A rehearsal had been planned at the church that evening, but the unceasing downpour outdoors precluded the possibility of indulging in that preliminary caution.

"We might try tableaux?" suggested Genevieve, for she was mindful that the elements had created havoc with many pet arrangements of the day.

but I am familiar with the refrain and Anna McLean can sing it. There are no speaking lines—it is all pantomime—and it will give Genevieve an opportunity to practice with her train, for of course no one else can be the bride."

Genevieve glanced up in startled surprise from her difficult task of improvising a wig out of curled hair.

"Oh, but you know it's considered unlucky to wear one's wedding gown —" she began, and then stopped, as she met her lover's eyes fixed on her face in amused toleration.

She knew he had a scorn for anything bordering on superstition, as he also had a secret antipathy for the sable skin of the colored race.

"How can you eat what they cook?" he had exclaimed one day, in evident repugnance, when he had invaded the precincts of the outbuildings, under her guidance, and found Chloe kneading bread, her dusky arms bare to the elbow.

This descendant of an abolitionist persisted in the theory that their palms were unclean, and at last his sweetheart said a little pettishly:

Vaudeville & Minstrel

GAY BUTTERFLY NOTES.—We are now in the seventh week of continued prosperity, and can find little cause for complaint, as our business has been the best we have ever had. Election night the house was sold out for the midnight show long before the regular performance was half over. Edwin Weston takes considerable credit, as the entire first part and burlesque were written and produced by him. He is now writing a new first part, to be produced in New York, and it promises to be one of the best of his many productions. We have an elegant new first part set. Nellie Stapleton has proved her versatility in playing the different parts assigned to her, besides working in the new act with Eddie Weston. Barry and Fleming are doing an entirely new comedy sketch. Leslie and Curly have made considerable mirth in their parodies. Amy Nelson has introduced a new song that might well be termed an encore winner. Our company is looking forward to our New York time. The company, Mrs. Jacoby, Edwin Weston, Harry Werner, Louis Bassett, Leslie and Curly, Barry and Fleming, Amy Nelson, Metcalf Duo, Weston and Stapleton, Irene White, Addie Barrington, Vera Courtney, Grace Hamilton, Rosa Franks, Eva Manstello, Kitty Cameron, Agnes Thompson and Nellie Stapleton.

THE NEW VANITY FAIR.—EXTRAVAGANZA COMPANY, which recently opened the season, is by far the best organization that ever toured under this title, and was the last of ten theatrical enterprises to be launched this season by Gus Hill. The company is superior in detail, and one of the best of its kind in the country. A long string of names prominent in vaudeville, among the number being the popular star, Frank Bush, who has a new introductory scheme for his clever entertainment in mimicry. Niblo and Riley also present an up to date act, while Harry and Sadie Fields, Nick and Lillian Walton, Clifford and Dixie, Leslie and Adams, Bessie May Hall and other specialties of the lively sort. Gus Hill, Eva Horner, Estelle Morton, Lillian Dean, Lillian Stone, Eva Williams, Carroll Hall, Sylvia Leslie, Lena Beckham and others also have parts in the two well written acts. "The Cadet Girl" and "A Good Thing at Paris Fair." The scenery and costumes are all new and brilliant in design. George Marshall has charge of the musical end of it and C. C. Keener is managing the tour of the company.

AL. G. FIELD gave another evidence of his up to date methods just after the recent Presidential election, which probably eclipsed anything in that line on the minstrel stage. Since his company opened, early in August last, the first part finale has been a political satire, entitled "The Front Porch Campaign," in which a joint debate, rich in political fun, was the feature. The skit was, of course, worthless after election, and was put on for the last time at Sherman, Tex., Nov. 6. Some managers would doubtless have been satisfied to make a few minor changes and let the finale stand until there had been ample time to put together a new one, but not Al. G. Field. He wanted a new finale, and politics still being the leading topic in the public mind, he wanted one on that topic. And he got one. Wednesday morning, Nov. 7, the company was called together for rehearsal at Paris, Tex., and by night a brand new finale, entitled "One Day in the White House," was ready to go on that night. The new act introduces McKinley, Roosevelt, Hanna and other public characters, and its up to date dialogue, brimful of hot political shots, so constructed as not to unduly offend the most ardent republican or democrat, has since been one of the features of his big bill of entertainment.

NOTES FROM T. W. DINKINS' UTOPIANS.—The Utopians is now in its sixth week on the Western circuit, and business has been all that could be expected. Business recently in Milwaukee was especially good, taking in consideration that it was election week. We gave a midnight performance election night after the regular show, and the house was packed to its capacity, standing room being at a premium. The election returns were read from the stage at both performances, and that with the show kept the audience in good humor until after 12 o'clock. The military finish to the burlesque has created quite a sensation out here, as nothing so elaborate has ever been attempted before by a burlesque company, and never fails to receive flattering notices from the press. Nellie Sylvester was the recipient of two baskets of beautiful flowers during her specialty at the matinee, Sunday afternoon, from some admiring friends in Milwaukee. Hattie Whiting, of Whiting and Whiting, has been obliged to lay off temporarily on account of ill health, and her parts are being played by Gladys St. John.

ROSTER OF JNO. W. VOGEL & ARTHUR DEMING'S BIG MINSTRELS: Jno. W. Vogel, owner and manager; I. S. Potts, general agent; Ray Violet, assistant agent; Ralph Somers, programmer; J. J. Smith, stage manager; Sol Blitzen, electrician; W. B. James, master of properties; Arthur Deming, Jno. T. Hoffman, Ed. A. Oakley, George Jones, Earl Taylor, Thos. Merrick, Jno. P. Moore, Ed. Parsons, Hugh J. Brown, Wm. Merkle, A. L. Tracy, E. V. Lynch, Bert Bolton, Jos. Norton, Bert True, W. J. Grooms, W. W. Plumley, Wallace Kneese, Paul Brown, T. Stewart, W. B. Henton, Phil Moore, Chas. Grimley, Gus Taylor, Bob Armstrong, Theodore Black and Duke Ridgour.

J. M. WALL writes as follows: "I closed with Oliver Scott's Big Minstrels at Bennington Oct. 3, owing to being unable to work any longer, and am at Denver, Col., trying to get back my old good health." BENJAMIN AND BRYAN are touring the South with the Melville Company. They will shortly produce their new white face act. DOLAN and LEMMAIRE are giving their sketch, "A High Toned Burglar," on the Orpheum circuit.

PASCATEL has joined Al. G. Field's Minstrels, now playing the South.

CRAIG AND ARDELL are at the Auditorium, Des Moines, Ia., this week, and have Pittsburg, Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and St. Paul to follow.

ANDY GARDNER is working alone and is not connected with the team of Lampe and Wicke. He has signed with the Farrell Stock Co. to play parts and do his specialty.

THE TROYS and their dogs were at the Lyceum, Niagara Falls, last week, and appear at Syracuse, N. Y., week of Nov. 19. They then sail for Cuba, and the West Indies, where they have a five months' engagement with E. C. Maginley's Anglo-American Circus.

FRANK LOVELL, of the Bowman Comedy Co., has joined hands with Mamie Burk, of the Burk Sisters.

MARIE HENRY has taken her own name and will be known hereafter as Marie Nash. PHIL and CARRIE RUSSELL have closed engagements at the Howard and Austin & Stone's, Boston, and on Nov. 17 closed eight weeks through New England.

O'BRIEN AND HEROLD have booked Gloucester, Mass., Elmira, N. Y., and Buffalo, N. Y., on their way to open on the Kohl & Castle circuit.

DICK and KITTIE KUMMS were engaged by W. B. Watson for the Empire Theatre, Brooklyn, last week.

THE BROS. DORAN sailed Nov. 17 for Hamburg, Germany.

GLANT'S COMEDY AND VAUDEVILLE CO.—We opened our winter season at Washington, Pa., Nov. 8, to good business. Our company is much stronger than any of previous seasons. Roster: Irvin E. Glant, proprietor and manager; May Glant, treasurer; C. J. Bucher, advance; Claud Sheads, Lew Benedict, Irvin E. Glant, May Glant, J. Stewart Bucher, Rosa Bucher, pianist. At Hughesville, Pa., Nov. 12, Mrs. Monroe closed on account of her mother's death at Kane, Pa. We are playing one and three night stands. The Old Reliable is a welcome visitor each Thursday.

RAYMOND, WEST and SUNSHINE were featured in the bill at Dockstader's, Wilmington, Del., last week. Their East Boston friends have decided to give them a testimonial Nov. 27, in which May Mooney will share. Plans are being laid for an auspicious affair.

ARTIE HALL has formed a partnership with Bob Roberts, and they are now rehearsing a new sketch, written on original lines, by Mr. Roberts, and which they will produce shortly.

PAULINETTI and PICO have returned to this country for a tour of the leading vaudeville houses.

JOHN J. SULLY and BLANCHER PHELPS report success in their sketch, "Brother John." They state that they have lost but one week this season and are booked in the South until after the holidays.

HINES and REMINGTON write: "Our new sketch, 'The Woman and the Axe,' is immensely successful. Last week we played Dockstader's Theatre, Wilmington, Del., and Manager Dockstader pronounced it the best thing we have ever done. This week we are playing the Auditorium, Baltimore, Md."

EDWARD LACT has formed a partnership with the Seymour Sisters, and the trio will do an act written by Edward Kraus.

LA FOY is playing Liebh's Establishment in Breslau.

JOHN W. WORLD and Beatrice Hastings produced a new sketch, written by Arthur Lamb, called "A Dummy's Antics," at the Orpheum Theatre, San Francisco, week of Nov. 5, which met with instantaneous success.

EMERY and BRELTON are now in their eighth week on the New England circuit, with two more weeks to follow, before opening on the New York circuit, of which they have ten weeks at Bill, and then they go on the Kohl and Castle circuit, opening at Chicago.

FRANK and LILLIAN SMITH are back in town, having finished nineteen consecutive weeks in vaudeville at Keith's, Philadelphia, recently, with their sharp shooting act.

JOHN A. AYER has leased the old Vine Street Opera House, Cincinnati, and will open it as a vaudeville house next month.

JOHNNY NALOR, trick violinist, played at Huber's Museum last week, and made a hit with his act.

HEN WISE and KATE MILTON write: "We arrived in Frisco from Australia Oct. 16, via Honolulu. We played at Orpheum Theatre, San Francisco, and opened at Chutes, same city, 22, and week following. We are at present playing the coast, prior to going East. We played Australia fourteen months with O. M. McAdoo's Co. Mr. McAdoo died July 16, in Sydney, N. S. W., after an illness of two or three months, from consumption. We intend putting our own company on the road season of 1901-2."

THE MARINELLAS, double ring experts, are playing a month's engagement in Montreal, Can. They played Sunday at Sohmer Park, and they are engaged for three Sundays during their stay in Montreal.

GUS C. KLINGNER will enter the vaudeville ranks and will soon be seen in a character sketch which he has now in preparation. He is also revising his play, "A Day at the Race Course," of which he has secured absolute control having come to a settlement with the heirs of his deceased partner, and the play will have an early production.

THE GASPARD BROTHERS are appearing on the Moore circuit for two weeks.

GAYLOR and GRAFF were at the Music Hall, Boston, last week, with the Brooklyn Music Hall and Novelty Theatre, Brooklyn, to follow, with the Willett and Thorne Comedy Co.

F. V. BURKHART is playing club dates in and around Milwaukee.

ERNEST DALLS and Frank Lenton, known as the Lenton Bros., have dissolved partnership.

IDA HOWELL sails for Honolulu Nov. 21. She will probably go to Manila before returning to America.

KATHRYN OSTERMAN states that her new one act play, "The Widow," is a big hit. Irving Brooks is doing splendid work with Miss Osterman.

GUSTIE HESTON, of the Vanity Fair Co., was taken ill in Louisville, Ky., but hopes to recover in time to rejoin the show in Chicago.

DOUGLAS and FORD have scored heavily in "The Telephone Girl," as Snuffles and Toots, and their new song, "I Know Them All," is one of the big hits of the year.

THE HIGH ROLLERS write: "We broke the season's record at St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Columbus. A. H. Woodhill's new attraction for next season, the Blue Blood's Vaudeville Co., has been fully booked up."

WALDO B. BURTO has formed a partnership with Scotty, formerly with "The Queen of Chinatown" Co.

JEANNETTE ELLIOTT, of the Parisian Widows Co., secured an absolute divorce on statutory grounds from Judge Leventritt, of the New York Supreme Court, from her husband, who is one of the Rimini Bros. Miss Elliott was represented by Attorney M. Strassman.

CARRIE SCOTT is pictured on the front page of a recent number of The London Music Hall. She is engaged in England for several months, including Edinburgh, for pantomime. When last heard from she was playing three London halls, the Paragon, Metropolitan and Canterbury, repeating her original London success.

EDWARD ARMSTRONG and Rose Wright, of the Three Wright Sisters, were married in this city Nov. 12.

WALTER and WAKEFIELD were made members of the order of White Rats of America Nov. 11.

LORRAINE ARMOUR and Chas. Baguley have a new opera, written for them by Chas. P. Flockton and Culbert Cooper, which they will produce very soon.

ROSAIRES has joined the Vogel & Deming Minstrels for the season.

DE VEAUX and DE VEAUX are no longer with Burke & Chase's Co., having closed in Baltimore. They are booked for several weeks at clubs in this city.

MARION WINCHESTER, danseuse and originator of eccentric novelties in terpsichorean work, who has been appearing with the "Woman and Wine" Co., will re-enter the vaudeville field in a few weeks.

PAULINE BISHAW is recovering from a performance at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, in this city.

NOTES FROM BARLOW & WILSON'S MINSTRELS.—We are now in our third month and our business has been excellent, playing to packed houses everywhere. We expect our new sleeping car, Progress, in about a week. General Agent M. E. Tilton rejoined in Clarksburg, W. Va., after a two weeks' vacation, to take charge of our forces ahead.

FROM THE JOLLY GRASS WIDOWS.—Allen and Alma, comedy acrobats, now open the bill, which includes: Paulo and Dika, gay Parisians; Dodge, Hayward and Lancaster, Imperial Trio, in "A Pleasant Evening"; Howard and Moore, Hebrew character; Lorenz and Halpin, parody singers and dancers; and Gussie Vivian, the so-called Carrie Fulton playing a leading part in the burlesques which open and close the performance.

ELLA CARLINGTON returned to New York last week from the Paris Exposition after a seven months' absence from the United States.

HARRY J. HARRINGTON has closed with the Wells & Samon show and is at his home in Buffalo, where his little son is very ill.

THE WORLD COMEDY FOUR, Conlan, Smith, Vance and Smith, played Polli's Theatre week of Nov. 12, and this week are at the Music Hall, Boston.

FORRESTER and FLOYD played Keith's Theatre, Providence, week of Nov. 12, and open at Keith's Theatre, Boston, 19, presenting their latest and most popular act, "Twenty Minutes."

WELCH BROS., Jim and Frank, are to open in New York City soon, after a visit of three weeks at their home in Connecticut.

FRANK BIRNY closed a thirty-three weeks' engagement as manager of the Royal Music Hall, Savannah, Ga., Nov. 17, and together with his wife, Kittie Chapman, opens at the Imperial Theatre, Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 26.

THE MAZZIOTTAS have in preparation a new musical act which they expect to produce about the middle of March. The act will contain several new features and will be elaborately dressed. Mr. Mazziotta plays Dockstader's, Wilmington, Del., week of Nov. 19, with Polli's, New Haven, to follow.

MAINE.

Portland.—At the Jefferson Theatre (Cahn & Grant, managers) "An American Gentleman" played to fair returns Nov. 9, 10. The next attraction was "The Cadet Girl," which proved a winner for two performances, at advanced prices, 13, 14. Andrew Mack, producing "The Rebel," came for one night, 15, and was greeted by packed house. Booked: The Nashville Students 16, 17; The Phelan Stock Co. 19-24, Corse Payton's Comedy Co. 26-Dec. 8.

PORTLAND THEATRE (E. E. Rounds, manager).—The Bennett-Moulton Co. was accorded excellent patronage at this house for the week ending 10. The Robinson-Derrys did a fair business 12-15, in the following pieces: "The Fatal Card," "Eckie's Girls," "My Georgia Rose," "The Postmaster," "The Vagabond," "The New East Lynne" and "True Irish Hearts." Coming: Culhane, Chase & Weston's Minstrels 16, 17, "The Gay Masqueraders" 19-21, Alma Chester 26-Dec. 1.

KOTZACHANOFF HALL.—The concert given by Annie Swasey, presenting Alfred Farland, the well known banjoist, drew a large audience 13.

EMERY CHASE, of this city, for the past season with Ringling Bros. Circus, is home for a short period.

Baby Estelle and Allen Family are in the twelfth week with the Della Pringle Co., en route to the coast.

IOWA.

Cedar Rapids.—At Greene's Opera House (John B. Henderson, manager) the Chase-Later Co. (Southern) Nov. 6-10, turned people away election night and did fair business the rest of the week. The company is not as strong as when here last season. The repertoire was: "The Smugglers," "For the Love of a Girl," "Monte Cristo," "Young Mrs. Winthrop," "East Lynne" and "Mystic Mountain." Between acts specialties were given by Will M. Carroll, Edwin Kraft, J. H. Lewis, Bay Whipple, Madge Daley and Lucille Carey. Coming: "A Female Drummer" 10, "Sherlock Holmes" 19, "Way Down East" 20, Rose Melville 23, "Mistake Will Happen" 24, "Princess Chic" 26, "A Brass Monkey" 27, "Zaza" 29, Oliver Scott's Minstrels Dec. 1.

AUDITORIUM (C. L. Miller, manager).—Due: Sugemoto Japanese acrobats Nov. 19-24.

NOTES.—A. M. McPhail, representing "A Female Drummer," was here 8, 9, 10. Horace McVicker, ahead of "Sherlock Holmes," was in town 12, 13, 14. George Murray, advance manager for "Way Down East," was in the city 13, 14. Johnson Bane, guitarist of New York City, gave a recital in the College of Music 12, 13. "Hogan's Alley" Co. was here 14, en route to Belle Plaine, 15, 16. The Carnival Association at its annual meeting, 13, elected the following directors and officers: G. K. Barton, president; F. M. Tull, vice president; A. Sherman, secretary; C. L. Miller, treasurer; S. G. Armstrong, G. B. Ludy and C. Denekne. The fifth annual carnival will be held Oct. 7-12, 1901.

Davenport.—At the Burtis Opera House (Messrs. Chamberlin & Kindt managers) "Blue Jeans" played to a moderate business Nov. 7. Clay Clement, in "The New Dominion," had good house 8. "The Missouri Girl" did big business 11. "A Wise Guy" came to an ordinary house. Coming: "The Royal Box," with Andrew Robeson as leading man, 15; "A Female Drummer" 17, "A Brass Monkey" 18, "Way Down East" 19.

TURNER GRAND OPERA HOUSE (Fred Kuehl, manager).—The German Opera Co. did big business and was well received 11. The Symphony Concert, by Strasser's Orchestra, was well rendered and received 12. May Hosmer Stock Co. in "Camille," commenced 13 an annual engagement at popular prices, and the company was well received the opening night.

Dubuque.—At the Grand Opera House (Wm. T. Roehl, manager) during the past week our theatre has been dark, owing to cancellations. Clay Clement, in "A New Dominion," Nov. 17, "Sis Hopkins," with Rose Melville, 20, "Princess Chic" 21, Walker Whiteside 22, "The Little Minister," with Grace Hoyer as Babble (Miss Hoyer, being a native of Dubuque, her first appearance here in a prominent role, was anxiously awaited), 24; "At the White Horse Tavern" 26, "Vanity Fair" 29.

Marshalltown.—At the Odeon Theatre (Ike C. Speers, manager) Ferris Comedy Co. came Nov. 12, for one week, opening to a big house, presenting "My Jim." An entertaining performance was given and the specialties were much appreciated. The Black and White Comedy Co. came 8-10, presenting "Beyond Pardon," "The Senator's Daughter" and "The Police Inspector," opening to good business, but failed to draw balance of dating. Coming: "Way Down East" 21, "His Busy Day" 26, "Zaza" 27, Scott's Minstrels 29, "A Brass Monkey" 30.

Council Bluffs.—At the Dohoney Theatre (Stevenson & Kennedy, managers) "A Female Drummer" was well received by a large audience Nov. 10. "Finnigan's 400," announced for 11, canceled. The Redmond Co. came 11, and presented "Escaped from Sing Sing," and "The Girl Who Came to the New Woman" is due 18, the Redmond Co., in repertoire, is announced for week of 19.

Keokuk.—At the Keokuk Opera House (Ed. Jaeger Jr., resident manager) Clay Clement, in "The New Dominion," played a fairly good house Nov. 13. "Way Down East" did big business for 15. Coming: "The Burgomaster" 19, "A Brass Monkey" 22.

COLORADO.

Denver.—At Tabor Grand Opera House (Peter McCourt, manager) Jas. Neil and his company opened Nov. 11, with a top heavy matinee Sunday, in "An American Citizen," to be followed by "A Bachelor's Romance" and "A Parisian Romance." Business is good. Week of 18 "The King of the Opioid Ring" will be the attraction.

BROADWAY THEATRE (Peter McCourt, manager).—The Allen Nielsen Opera Co. opened at this house Monday evening, 12, for week, in "The Singing Girl," and will also play "The Fortune Teller." From indications this company will break the comic opera record for Denver. Week of 19, Frederick Warde and the Brune company are billed to appear.

DENVER THEATRE (D. A. Barton, manager).—"Kelly's Kids" is attracting good audiences at this house (where they opened for the week with Sunday matinee). Week of 18 comes the screaming farce comedy, "Where is Cobb?"

LUCRUM THEATRE (Davis & Harley, managers).—The programme for week of 18: Busch, Ethel Carter, Loudon and Messick, Walter Thompson, Belle Thurston, Major J. P. Maguire. Special feature every Friday night is amateur night.

ALPINE THEATRE (Savannah, manager).—Week of 19: Brady and Hamilton, Wm. McCall, King Sisters, the Denores, Latour Sisters, Ira Moss, Zelma Summers, Lewis and Green, Grace Fowles, Zulu Courtney, Lottie Devorn, Bohannon and Cameron, Kelly and Bertha and Harry Devoy.

Pueblo.—At the Grand Opera House (H. F. Sharpless, manager) "A Texas Steer" played to a full house Nov. 2. Frank Daniels presented, for the first time here, "The Amerer," and had a good house 5. "A Day and a Night," had a large audience 6. Elmer Walters, "Where is Cobb?" played to a slim house 8. James Neil did well 9, Frederick Warde, in "The Duke's Jester," is down for 12, and "The King of the Opioid Ring" comes 16.

MONTANA.

Butte.—At the Grand Opera House (D. P. Sutton, manager) "Human Hearts" played a very successful engagement Nov. 8-10, and "My Friend from India" opened to standing room 11, for four nights. Coming: "Shenandoah" 16, 17, Man from Mexico 18-20.

SUTTON'S NEW THEATRE (D. P. Sutton, manager).—"Brownies in Fairyland" occupied this house week of 4, and played to increased business every night of their engagement. It is without doubt the best juvenile show ever seen in this city. Among those of the company worthy of special mention are Maud Sorenson, Eva Lester, Queenie Tilton and Florence Emery. The company has been detained in town for the past month, owing to scarlet fever breaking out among them, but fortunately all recovered. Lizzie Pope, skirt dancer, joined them here.

MONTANA MUSIC HALL (J. W. Kenney, manager).—People week of 11: Electric Clark Sisters, Richards and Helyea, Vera Chandler, Dollie Grooms, Pearl Gordon, Belle Lawrence, Grace Fisher, Alda Armour, Anna Reed, Jerry Owen, Evans and Maitland, and Amy Bissell.

CASINO (Tommy Gilmore, manager).—People week of 18: Walter Reed, Mamie McGinnis, Nellie Thomson, Eva Pierre, Florence Peasnell, Frank Barton, Dick Reed, Goldie Fox, Madeleine Chase Moore, and Gillen and Gillen.

Gossip.—Manager Sam Friedlander and Mrs. Sorenson, of "The Brownies," were the guests of Mrs. C. W. Pope, Sunday, 11. Mrs. Pope's little child, Lizzie, joined "The Brownies" here.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis.—At English's Opera House (Ad. P. Miller, manager) "The House that Jack Built," Nov. 9, 10, did a moderate business. The show abounds in humorous situations and has many bright lines. Anna Held and Chas. A. Bigelow, in "Papa's Wife," 12, 13, seen here for the first time, stood them up at both performances. Minnie Seligman, in "When a Woman Loves," 15, 16, is next on the book. Chas. Frohman's comedians, booked for 19, canceled. "A Runaway Girl" 21, 22.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (Dickson & Talbott, managers).—The Grand Stock Co. has made the success of the season with "Sweet Lavender" 12-17.

PARK THEATRE (Dickson & Talbott, managers).—The Behman Show, 12-17, opened to S. R. O. business at both performances. The Four Cohans, York and Adams, John Kennell, Balke and Senon, Olympia Quartette, Ethel Levey, Ramon and Arno, Casswell and Arnold, and Zeno, Carl and Zeno make an unusually strong bill. Business was up to the top notch during the week. "The Night Before Christmas" 19-21, "On the Stroke of Twelve" 22-24.

EMPIRE THEATRE (Chas. Zimmermann, manager).—The Dewey Theatre Extravaganza Co., 12-17, opened to the capacity of the house. The performance opens with an olio of specialties of merit. The Two Laves, Quigley Bros., Jordan and Welch, La Pa Pa, and Weston and Yost were applauded. The closing burlesque, entitled "David's Harem," was well put on with the usual good looking and well drilled chorus. Lottie Fremont's French doll impersonation was the most artistic piece of character work seen in this house for several weeks. Indian Maidens week of 19. The Indian Maidens Co. laid off here 15-17.

Evansville.—The Grand Opera House (Tom Grover, manager) was crowded election night and the returns were read from the stage. The Holden Co. was also a good attraction that evening, and the performance was entirely vaudeville. The company is especially good in their particular line, and includes the Two Reynolds children, daughters of a former Evansville man. "The Sorrows of Satan" Co. appeared to a fair audience, and was well received. "In Old Kentucky" is booked for 16, "The Belle of New York" 17, "Man-o-War's Man" 21, West's Minstrels 23.

THE PEOPLE'S THEATRE (Tom Grover, manager).—An enormous crowd to see "David Crockett" 11. The audience was pleased and applauded generously. "On the Suwanee River" comes 18, Van Dyke & Eaton Co. week of 25.

NOTES.—Capt. Louis Sorchos and company are giving continuous performances, to good crowds, of diving exhibitions. The captain did some good diving for the battle ship, Maine. The Ferris Wheel continues to do good business. The Bostonia Sextet Orchestra passed through Evansville en route to New Harmon, Ind., where it appeared to a crowded house at Munford's Hall, 19, 20. Mary French Field will be here 21 in reading Eugene Field's poems. The local lodge of B. P. O. Elks gave a bazaar in Evans Hall from 12 to 17.

Marion.—At the Grand (E. L. Kinneman, manager) the Irene Myers Comedy Co., under the direction of Will H. Myers, ended their week's engagement Nov. 10 by presenting "The Maid of the Mill" before an audience which put standing room at a premium. This was the company's first appearance here, and they were warmly received for week stands. Little Irene Myers, the child star, became a decided favorite with the first performance, and the cast surrounding her was practically faultless. Manager Myers has booked a return date. Barney Gilmore, always a favorite here, did his usual packed house 13, presenting "Kidnaped in New York." Booked: "What Happened to Jones" 15, Prof. J. B. De Motte 16, "Courtship at Green's" 17 and matinee, Manning and Yale 19, 20, "In Old Kentucky" 21, and matinee, "At the Eleventh Hour" 22, "The Man from Mexico" 24 and matinee. The annual Y. M. C. A. lecture course will open 16, with Prof. B. De Motte in his new lecture, "The Python Egg and the Boy." Nat S. Smith, of Ft. Wayne, will shortly assume the management of Dowling's Theatre, where, under the Dowling management, Robert, retiring, will be the amusement season at the Soldiers' Home was inaugurated at Stinson Hall 10, by the Chicago Opera Co. The Big Four Railway is trying an experiment by putting on a "theatre train" between here and Indianapolis, stopping at intermediate stations. The fare for the fourth fare has been made, and the first train will leave here the evening of 15. If the venture is successful it will be made permanent. Ledy, for three seasons past with Al. G. Field's Minstrels, has been secured by Manager Will H. Myers for the Irene Myers Comedy Co.

VIRGINIA.

Norfolk.—At the Academy of Music (T. G. Leath, manager) Murray and Mack, presenting "Shooting the Chutes," gave two performances, Nov. 8, to satisfactory returns. "A Milk White Flag" did fair business only 9-10. Bob Fitzsimmons, in "The Honest Hamlet," was greeted by a top heavy house 12. The Duchemin Vaudeville Co. drew large audiences, matinee and night, 14. Booked: Mathews and Bulger 17, "Spider and Fly" 21, Dr. Stafford 22, Rusco & Holland's Minstrels 23.

ST. THOMAS.—People to be seen here week of 19: Abbott Sisters, Lillie Howard, Inez F. Lee, St. Clair Sisters, Millie Scott, Mildred Drew, Eddie Bell, Edward Wright and Charles M. West. Business good. Henri De Grau and wife, an aerial team, known as the De Graus, met with quite an accident at this house 9. While breaking in a new act, for some unaccountable reason their traps gave way, throwing Mr. De Grau and wife upon the seats below. The fall was fully twenty feet, and the wonder is that they were not killed. Mr. De Grau suffers from a broken arm and internal injuries, while his wife, who was more fortunate, is laid up with a broken collar bone. They are both at St. Vincent's Hospital.

AUDITORIUM THEATRE (J. M. Barton, manager).—People who appear here week of 19: Ed. Reynard, Sinclair and Carlisle, the Chicks, Little May Hoey, the Sweeneys, Overt, Hellen Delmar, Conroy and Murray, and stock. Business good.

ATLANTIC GARDEN (S. Wasserman, manager).—People to be seen here week of 19: Horndecker Bros., the Macks, the Caldwell, Dot Stanley, Carrie Scott, Bessie Leonard, Geo. Gilbert, James T. West, Bella Doyle, and Allen and Appleton. Felix Greenwald is acting manager at this house. The burlesque, "The Cannibal King," will be produced.

Lynchburg.—At the Opera House (F. M. Dawson, manager) "Amik White Flag" was the attraction Nov. 12, at advanced prices, to S. R. O. Those deserving special mention were Little Chip and the Three Pancholette Sisters. The Woodward-Warner Co. is booked for week of 19-24.

Petersburg.—At the Academy of Music (Wm. E. French, manager) Mabel Paige, supported by the Southern Stock Co., in repertoire, played to good business week of Nov. 12. Murray and Mack, in "Shooting the Chutes," pleased a fair sized gathering 9.

WASHINGTON.

Seattle.—At the Grand Opera House (John Cort, manager), week of Nov. 4, "Uncle Josh Sprucey" broke all records in this house. Week of 11, the Bittner Co. in "My Uncle from Japan," turned them away at matinee and night performances, and they are in for a big week. Week of 18, "The Great Northwest."

SEATTLE THEATRE (J. P. Howe, manager).—The Jule Gray Opera Co. opened week of 4 and continued through the week to large business, at prices 25 to 75 cents. "A Trip to Chintown" opened to a three nights' engagement 11, packed house. "At the White Horse Tavern" 14, 15, Haverly's Minstrels 16, 17.

THIRD AVENUE THEATRE (W. M. Russell, manager).—"A Hot Old Time," week of 4, to good business. "The Fast Mail" opened 11 a week's engagement, to large business. Week of 18, "Tennessee's Pardner."

STAR MUSIC HALL (Frank Monroe, manager).—Jennie G. Gerrard's Lady Orchestra, Dot Stanley, Lamond Sisters, Helen Jewel, Alice Clark, Wilma Sisters and Lulu Watts are playing to crowded houses nightly.

MONTREY MUSIC HALL (Joe Watkins, manager).—Fox and Long, Dot Palmer, Edna Earle, Jessie White and Roxie Wade had good houses.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE (Ned Foster, manager).—Louise Lister, Rooney and Foster, Marion Blake, Pearl Ashley and Madame Schell's troupe of performing lions are crowding this resort nightly.

MARCO THEATRE (Mike Goldsmith, proprietor).—This house is producing burlesque to good business.

MANAGER COURT, of the Grand Opera House, left last night for Butte on a business trip. Four thousand eight hundred attended the three theatres on election night. Pretty good for a city of 85,000 population, after crowding them on Sunday with only one day's intermission.

Spokane.—At the Auditorium (Harry C. Hayward, manager).—"At the White Horse Tavern" came to good business Nov. 12. "A Breezy Time" played to a small house 10. "A Trip to Chintown" drew average houses 8, 9. Haverly's Minstrels came 5, 6, playing to S. R. O. business on election night. Returns were read from the stage by the company. Coming: "My Friend from India" 19, "Black Crook" 21, "Shenandoah" 22-24, Fawley Co. 26-28, "Why Smith Left Home" 29-30.

CORUS D'ALENE (Al. Onken, manager).—The new attractions for week of 12 include: Wm. J. Mills, Lellette Hyatt and the Chicago Burlesque Co. in "Boccaccio." The Flecht Quartet close 17 a run of twenty-seven weeks.

COMIQUE (John Holland, manager).—The new faces are: Tillie Hazel, Bessie Vernon, Russell, Williams and Jenkins, and Ida Melville.

ALABAMA.

Birmingham.—Box office receipts showed splendid results last week, which was attributable not only to the immense fair crowds in the city, but to the creditable attractions offered.

JACKSON THEATRE (R. S. Douglas, manager).—The usual good business still rules here, and the excellent bills Manager Douglas offered his patrons week of Nov. 5, fared week. "The Christian" had excellent business three performances 5, 6, Matthews and Bulger, whose popularity with local theatregoers is unbounded, were greeted by a large gathering 7, in "The Night of the Fourth," which was received with every mark of favor throughout the three acts, and made a big hit. The principal part makers were the stars, but their efforts were seconded by Walter Jones, who contributed several taking specialties. "The Prisoner of Zenda" was presented to a crowded house 8. The company was an adequate one and the play was heartily enjoyed. Vaughan Glasser filled the title role of Prince Rudolph admirably. Dug Innes, Band 13, Murray and Mack 15, Thos. G. Seabrooke, in "The Rounders" 21; James-Kidder 22, Ward and Vokes 23, Howard Gould, in "Rupert of Hentzau" 24; Braunig Dramatic Co. 26, Dec. 1, save Nov. 29, when "Town Topics" comes.

AUDITORIUM (Ben S. Thelus, manager).—"A Trip to Trampstown" had good business Nov. 9, 10. On the way: Hoyt's Comedy Co. 12-17, "The Belle of Manila" 19, 20, Rider's Night Owls 21, 22, Quo Vadis 23, 24. "Smash! Ha!" (Robert Seals, manager).—General Joe Wheeler and Lieut. Richmond P. Hobson addressed an immense audience 7.

NOTES.—H. G. Allen came to tell of Hoyt's Comedy Co. . . . Fred Gurth, a well known showman, died here . . . He was proprietor of the Hindoo Swing, the mysterious Luna, the Gypsy Camp, Artists' Studio and Alme, the fire dancer in the Midway at the State fair. His home is in Kansas City. . . . The Alabama State Fair was highly successful from every standpoint and will be repeated next year.

Montgomery.—At the Montgomery Theatre (Hirsch Bros., managers).—"The Prisoner of Zenda" was greeted by an S. R. O. matinee and a good and appreciative house Nov. 10. Vaughan Glasser made many friends for himself by his clever rendition of his dual role. Contender's Concert Band and "The Battles of Our Nation" was the bill 12-14 and matinee 14, and drew fair business. Coming: Ward and Vokes 20, "Rupert of Hentzau" 21, James-Kidder Co. 23.

MCDONALD'S THEATRE (G. F. McDonald, manager).—"The Perichinco" opened on a return engagement, filled the house matinee and night 14. Coming: "The Belle of Manila" 21, the Olympia Opera Co. 17.

GILLET'S NOVELTY SHOW, under canvas, did fairly well week of 12.

Mobile.—At the Mobile Theatre (J. Tanenbaum, manager).—"The Christian" came Nov. 9, 10, to good business. The Aubrey Dramatic Co. week of 12, with the exception of night of 13, did good business. "The Prisoner of Zenda," 13, had a good attendance. Coming: Ward and Vokes 19, "The Rounders" 20.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Charlotte.—At the Charlotte Opera House (Nat Gray, manager) Lewis Morrison's "Faust" played to a large audience Nov. 9. The Columbia Co. opened 12-14, played to packed houses, presenting "La Mascotte," "Olivette," "The Mikado" and "Two Vagabonds." 19, "A Milk White Flag."

—Melvin Hunt writes from Ypsilanti, Mich.: "The Edwin Rossell Co. closed here Saturday, Nov. 10, some of the members returning to New York and others to Chicago, but Samuel V. Morgan, who played heavily, also myself, playing juveniles, were immediately engaged by the Wm. Owen Co., joining at St. Cloud, Minn."

World of Players

—Notes from the Elroy Stock Co.: We have done a very good business in New England and Manager Elroy was more than pleased with the reception given in cities that he has played for the first time. The opening night at Bridgeport last week was a record breaker at Smith's Theatre, one of the few houses that has done a phenomenal business all through election excitement. Lillian Mae Crawford, our leading woman, is becoming a great favorite in the East. Beahan and Mascotte have joined, doing a strong singing and dancing act, making our vaudeville contingent the largest and finest we ever carried. Moran and McClelland are making good and receiving five and six calls nightly. Edward O'Kelly is a favorite in the East. Mr. Kelly and Moran and McClelland were tendered a private banquet at New Britain by some brother Elks. Harbor's "A Spring Chicken" is a strong bill in our repertoire and always gives satisfaction. THE CLIPPER is eagerly sought in every city by entire company of twenty-one people.

—Robert Sherman Notes: We are now doing a splendid business and since our fair dates we have played to record breaking business in many towns. We opened at Trenton, Mo., on election night to the largest number of paid admissions ever in the house and turned many people away on account of having no place for them to stand. We are booked solid in the last two weeks, Missouri, Kansas and Arkansas, and, considering the strength of the show, there is every indication of the season's business being enormous. Our plays are nearly all new, and the specialties by Harry Brady, Fred Hubbard, Juno Barrett and Nellie Thomas never fail to make decided hits. The complete roster of the company is as follows: Robert Sherman, Fred Hubbard, Harry Brady, Howard Benton, Edwin Coffin, E. S. Lawrence, William Thomas, Aaron Sullivan, Juno Barrett, Nellie Thomas, Nellie Barrett and Edna.

Business is reported good with both the "Coon Hollow" companies. Several changes were made at the close of last week. Fred J. Woodward and Chas. Moore, of the Western Co., being transferred to the Eastern Co., changing off with Stanley, John and Albert Butler, who went to the Western Co. The Western Co. is to open the new theatres in Scottsdale, Pa., and Connersville, Pa. Louise Arnot, Clara Joel and Helen E. Fiske, of this company, are well noticed. The Eastern Co. is preparing to play a new version of "Foggy Ferry," with Lizzie Evans in her old role of Chip. "Foggy Ferry" is to be the Thanksgiving attraction in Troy.

A new play, by Daniel L. Hart, author of "The Parish Priest," called "Pennsylvania," will shortly be put out, under the management of C. C. Callahan.

—Geo. R. Schuyler has opened for the season with the "Black Diamond" Co. —Alma Chester Notes: "Her Husband's Sin," written by Miss Chester, was given its first production at Manchester, N. H. New scenery for its production was provided by Fraser, and the piece was staged by our stage director, Lee Sterritt, under whose personal direction our plays (and they are all heavy productions) are staged. Our production of "The Lady of Lyons" is an important feature in our repertoire. Our season is booked solid for thirty-six weeks over the same cities as last season. Wm. Daly and wife, Marion Chester, were the guests of Miss Chester and J. Irving White for a day at Manchester. The former are members of the Cook & Church Co.

—John M. Cooke, who is permanently located in New York in the interest of Davis, Cullen & Cooke's attractions, made a flying trip to Toronto last week in the interest of their "Reaping the Whirlwind" Company, which is doing a very large business even in their first week of one night stands previous to their engagement in Toronto.

—Roster of "Duffy's Jubilee." Frank W. Nason, Charley Frey, Carl Johnson, Frank Walsh, Chas. W. Wheelock, Dan Anderson, Oscar Goodfriend, Hamlin and Hamlin, Geo. Irving, representative; Francis Aldrich, Minnie Evans, Addie Thorne, Blanche de Cotret, Madge Ellerton, Sisters Irwin.

—Carrie Louis joined the Lyceum Stock Co., St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 19. —F. A. Ward's "A Turkish Bath" Co. includes: F. A. Ward, proprietor and manager; E. L. Graves, Wm. Cleveland, Wm. Woolfall, Larry Mack, W. W. Hankins, Edw. Cummings, Etta Merris, Fanny Graves, Olive Hays, Albert Kleist, director; Dora Kleist, pianist; D. L. Mudge, representative. Asa Lee Willard has closed with "The Village Postmaster" at the Girard Avenue stock, Philadelphia.

—Notes from the Chas. Mortimer Co.: Our opening performances and financial returns have exceeded anticipation, and the press and our patrons have been lavish in their praise of our efforts to please. We enter West Virginia Thanksgiving week, thence Southward as far as Atlanta, Ga., our time being solidly booked in the best houses. We perform the somewhat noteworthy feat making seven different States in as many stands. Frank I. Minnelli, business manager, and Edna Caldwell-Minnelli, identified with Mr. Mortimer in former seasons, have recently been signed by Manager C. Y. Parsons and are at their old posts.

T. J. Maguire, for many years well known as manager and treasurer, has entered a new line of business. He is now managing the uptown branch office of Alfred Burrows & Co., stock brokers and bankers.

—"A Spring Chicken" Notes: We are having a record business. Our roster includes: E. H. O'Connor, David Rivers, E. S. Norton, Jesse Bardness, Sid Hughes, Gertrude Barnes, Harriet Clarke, Maud Davis, Nesta Johnson, Mlle. Charnon, Beatrice Jensen, Mae Jensen and Freddie Foy, with J. A. Ready and A. R. Gosling, managers. We are now touring Ohio.

—Whiting & Willis, managers of "A Hindoo Hoodoo" Co., report success. —Gus C. Weinberg, who is at present playing Lonny Bowles, in "Caleb West," has been engaged to play the part of Peter Stuyvesant, in "The Burgomaster."

—Anna Wilks is still meeting with success in her role of Chic Dobbie, in Jas. J. Jeffries' "The Man from the West" Co. Her specialty in the last act is winning much favor.

—Frank E. Gilbert has joined Joe W. Spears' "Irish Pawnbroker" Co., to play the part of Danny Murphy, and do his acrobatic specialty with Carrie Bowman.

—Gus Rapier and Edna Knopp, members of "Railroad Jack" Co., were married in Newton, Ia., Nov. 7, the date being fixed as a result of the election. The lady's side of the bet was on Bryan, and if winner the wedding would have come off at her home in Kansas City one year from election day. The gentleman bet on McKinley, and if winner the wedding was to come off immediately.

—Will S. Beecher is in his sixth week with Conroy, Mack & Edwards' Company, playing old men.

The name of the new extravaganza in which Edna May will appear has been changed from "The Golden Cup" to "The Girl From Up There." Farren Sutter and Harry Conner have engaged for leading roles.

—Fanny Burt goes with "Barbara Freiliche." —Charles Frohman has contracted with Stephen Phillips, the author of "Herod," which Beerbohm Tree produced recently in London, for his next play, which is to be in prose.

—J. Sydney Macy has resigned as general stage director of Benedict's "Quo Vadis" Co.

WERDEN AND SHEPHERD.

The well known Western exponents of illustrated songs, will shortly make their debut in the metropolis. This capable team, consisting of Prof. William L. Werden and Edna Shepherd, stand pre-eminently at the head of their profession for the novelty of their acts. Mr. Werden has attained the universal reputation not only as a student of the art electric, but as an admirable master of the new verescope, with which he displays all the latest and most intricate life motion pictures and scenes from nature; while Miss Shepherd possesses a rich contralto voice of more than ordinary culture and resonance, with which she interprets the newest ballads of the day in conjunction with the mechanical appliances of her partner. The latter is a young, prepossessing miss, scarcely out of her teens, and of engaging personality on the stage. Their repertoire consists of both classical and popular songs, invariably illustrated expressly for their acts, and consisting of a score or more of the latest works by well known composers.

Robert Lowe has gone with Blanche Walsh.

—Frank Camp has left the American Theatre Stock Company, this city, and gone to play the leads in "The Village Postmaster."

—Heck's Metropolitan Players are touring Indiana, Ohio and Illinois. The following are the members of the company: Miles and Ireland, Clint and Bessie Robbins, Bob Brannigan, May Walsh, Addie Favart, Lylen Radcliff, Chas. Schad, Edmond Flaig, Chas. Bostwick, Nellie Granville. Will S. Heck, of Cincinnati Museum note, is proprietor; A. Gallagher, treasurer; Fred Ireland, manager; John Trueman, props. and master of transportation.

—N. S. Wood went to Philadelphia week of Nov. 5 to make a production of "Out in the Streets" at the Standard Theatre, supported by the stock company. So great was the success that manager Darcy & Speck extended his engagement for two weeks more, the subsequent plays being "The Orphans of New York" and "The Boy Scout."

—C. Haddon Chambers, the well known English playwright, sails for this country on Dec. 1. Mr. Chambers expects to remain here about three weeks, and will visit Boston and Philadelphia, as well as New York. During his stay he will gather material for an American play for Charles Frohman. On his return to London Mr. Chambers will begin rehearsals of his new play, which is to be produced at the St. James Theatre, following John Oliver Hobbs' comedy.

—Evelyn Page, a chorus girl, formerly with the "Mam'zelle Awkins" Company, and Walter H. Mann were married recently at St. Charles Church around the Corner.

—Seeker, Wilkes, Seeker & Co. have closed with the Mack-Fenton Stock Co. —Liebler & Co., and all the actors concerned, have been deluged with requests for a repetition of the special performance of "The Merry Tramps," in which Otis Skinner, Eleanor Robson and Sara Corwell, the Moyné scored such an artistic sensation at Wallack's on Oct. 26. Owing to Mr. Skinner's tour in "Prince Otto," it was found impossible to bring the three stars together again this year, but plans are now under way for a special tour in the Browning play some time in the Spring.

—Willis Granger goes out starring in "Woman Against Woman," commencing Nov. 26. Eleanor Barry plays the leads.

—The Barnes, Eddie and Norene, have been engaged to do parts and their sketches with the Warren Noble Dramatic Co.

—Franklin Billeau has joined Herbert Labadie's "Faust" Company as advance agent.

—Pelot is in his eighth week with the Mabel Page Southern Stock Co.

—Al. W. Martin's Eastern "Uncle Tom's Cabin," under the direction of Chas. L. Walters, general manager of Mr. Martin's attractions, has begun its round of the larger Eastern cities, being in Rochester and Syracuse this week. For the remainder of the season Edith G. Barlow will play the role of Uncle Tom's Cabin.

—Grace May, formerly of the "The Case" Co., under the management of Fitz & Webster.

—Frank Beebe made his professional debut with the "Trapper's Daughter" Co. at Watseka, Ill., Nov. 8.

—Harry Crigler, bandmaster, and Emil C. Warnas, clarionetist, have closed with Buckskin Bill's Wild West Co. and resumed the management of Heath's Opera House, Oxford, Ind.

—The Kerkhoff-Loche Dramatic Company has been strengthened by the addition of Dorothy Ross Bourne, who has signed for characters.

—Van Dyke & Eaton Co. Notes: This has been the most successful season, in spite of national election excitement, that we have had since our organization, ten years ago. Mable Wm. Withoff joined at Hanibal, Mo., and B. Lynn of the Giffen Stock Co., St. Louis, joined at Springfield, Ill., Nov. 4, where we broke the 10, 20 and 30 cent record at Chatterton's Opera House, the receipts for that night being $380.20.

In the following Sunday night our receipts were $402.50. Our repertoire includes: "The Parisian Princess," "Friends," "An Enemy to the East," "Law of the Land," "Two Nights in Rome," "France in 1798" and "An Arabian Nights."

—"Robert of Sicily," the new romantic drama written by Grace Livingston Furniss, based on Longfellow's poem, "King Robert of Sicily" ("Tales of a Wayside Inn"), will have its first production next week, with Joseph Harworth starred in the title role. The new production will be very elaborate scenically, and will require the services of sixty-five or more persons.

Among the prominent members of the company are: Mabel Amber, Miriam Nesbitt, Celia Alsberg, Gertrude Makepeace, Katherine McCormack, Alexander Kearney, Herbert Horton Pattee, Sydney De Grey, Charles R. Bowers, Howard Davis, William Thorold, John V. Dalley and Richard B. Milloy.

The Field Stock Co. is on its sixth week. The roster: John W. Field, manager; Frank Harris, Harry Broadbridge, John Combs, Prof. Frank Sylvester, Fred Shultz, Walter Crow, Thomas Wilson, Alma Sylvester, Shirley Nelson and Mildred Shultz.

—Ines Adams is engaged as leading lady for "Lost in Egypt."

—"McCarthy's Mishaps" Co. is enjoying prosperity, playing to good business. We have been out since the middle of August. The hot weather and campaign have not interfered with our business, playing to packed houses in many places. Our tour through Michigan has been exceptionally profitable and successful. The attraction this year is much better than it has been for long time. Our roster: Fitz & Webster, managers; H. M. Blackaller, road manager; John Shayne, advance; Barney Ferguson, Dick Ferguson, Will Howard, Bert Backer, Ed. Grant, Murray Ferguson, Chas. Phelps, Miss Passmore, Pearl Sizer, Miss Howard, Virginia Knight Logan, Little Maybelle Howard and Miss Florida.

—The Phasay Troupe has been specially engaged for Chas. H. Yale's operatic spectacle, "The Evil Eye." They have just concluded a European tour, having successfully appeared in London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, Strassburg and Copenhagen.

Chas. H. Yale and Sydney R. Ellis have provided for their star Al. H. Wilson, who has achieved so great a success in "The Watch On the Rhine," written by Sidney R. Ellis, a scenic equipment that would have made the success of any production. They carry the scenery complete for each of the four acts of "The Watch On the Rhine," which has all been built and painted from models made in Germany. The scenery, while being exquisitely beautiful, is historically correct, and has been highly commended for the reproductions of the picturesque glens, valleys and castles on the Rhine.

—Almea Bernard, who was accused by theatrical agents Blaney & Vanse of perjury in securing a judgment of several hundred dollars back salary against them, was discharged by Magistrate Brann, in the Jefferson Market Police Court.

—"Sorrows of Satan," Company No. 2, goes out next week, under Brady's management. Nellie Yale Nelson is the leading lady. A. Gallagher, treasurer; Fred Ireland, manager; John Trueman, props. and master of transportation.

—"The Highwayman" is to be revived and sent on tour, with Edmund Stanley, H. W. Trednick and Miss Fatimah Diard in the principal roles.

Robert Lowe has gone with Blanche Walsh.

—Frank Camp has left the American Theatre Stock Company, this city, and gone to play the leads in "The Village Postmaster."

—Heck's Metropolitan Players are touring Indiana, Ohio and Illinois. The following are the members of the company: Miles and Ireland, Clint and Bessie Robbins, Bob Brannigan, May Walsh, Addie Favart, Lylen Radcliff, Chas. Schad, Edmond Flaig, Chas. Bostwick, Nellie Granville. Will S. Heck, of Cincinnati Museum note, is proprietor; A. Gallagher, treasurer; Fred Ireland, manager; John Trueman, props. and master of transportation.

—N. S. Wood went to Philadelphia week of Nov. 5 to make a production of "Out in the Streets" at the Standard Theatre, supported by the stock company. So great was the success that manager Darcy & Speck extended his engagement for two weeks more, the subsequent plays being "The Orphans of New York" and "The Boy Scout."

—C. Haddon Chambers, the well known English playwright, sails for this country on Dec. 1. Mr. Chambers expects to remain here about three weeks, and will visit Boston and Philadelphia, as well as New York. During his stay he will gather material for an American play for Charles Frohman. On his return to London Mr. Chambers will begin rehearsals of his new play, which is to be produced at the St. James Theatre, following John Oliver Hobbs' comedy.

—Evelyn Page, a chorus girl, formerly with the "Mam'zelle Awkins" Company, and Walter H. Mann were married recently at St. Charles Church around the Corner.

—Seeker, Wilkes, Seeker & Co. have closed with the Mack-Fenton Stock Co. —Liebler & Co., and all the actors concerned, have been deluged with requests for a repetition of the special performance of "The Merry Tramps," in which Otis Skinner, Eleanor Robson and Sara Corwell, the Moyné scored such an artistic sensation at Wallack's on Oct. 26. Owing to Mr. Skinner's tour in "Prince Otto," it was found impossible to bring the three stars together again this year, but plans are now under way for a special tour in the Browning play some time in the Spring.

—Willis Granger goes out starring in "Woman Against Woman," commencing Nov. 26. Eleanor Barry plays the leads.

—The Barnes, Eddie and Norene, have been engaged to do parts and their sketches with the Warren Noble Dramatic Co.

—Al. W. Martin's Eastern "Uncle Tom's Cabin," under the direction of Chas. L. Walters, general manager of Mr. Martin's attractions, has begun its round of the larger Eastern cities, being in Rochester and Syracuse this week. For the remainder of the season Edith G. Barlow will play the role of Uncle Tom's Cabin.

—Grace May, formerly of the "The Case" Co., under the management of Fitz & Webster.

—Frank Beebe made his professional debut with the "Trapper's Daughter" Co. at Watseka, Ill., Nov. 8.

—Harry Crigler, bandmaster, and Emil C. Warnas, clarionetist, have closed with Buckskin Bill's Wild West Co. and resumed the management of Heath's Opera House, Oxford, Ind.

—The Kerkhoff-Loche Dramatic Company has been strengthened by the addition of Dorothy Ross Bourne, who has signed for characters.

—Van Dyke & Eaton Co. Notes: This has been the most successful season, in spite of national election excitement, that we have had since our organization, ten years ago. Mable Wm. Withoff joined at Hanibal, Mo., and B. Lynn of the Giffen Stock Co., St. Louis, joined at Springfield, Ill., Nov. 4, where we broke the 10, 20 and 30 cent record at Chatterton's Opera House, the receipts for that night being $380.20.

In the following Sunday night our receipts were $402.50. Our repertoire includes: "The Parisian Princess," "Friends," "An Enemy to the East," "Law of the Land," "Two Nights in Rome," "France in 1798" and "An Arabian Nights."

—"Robert of Sicily," the new romantic drama written by Grace Livingston Furniss, based on Longfellow's poem, "King Robert of Sicily" ("Tales of a Wayside Inn"), will have its first production next week, with Joseph Harworth starred in the title role. The new production will be very elaborate scenically, and will require the services of sixty-five or more persons.

Among the prominent members of the company are: Mabel Amber, Miriam Nesbitt, Celia Alsberg, Gertrude Makepeace, Katherine McCormack, Alexander Kearney, Herbert Horton Pattee, Sydney De Grey, Charles R. Bowers, Howard Davis, William Thorold, John V. Dalley and Richard B. Milloy.

The Field Stock Co. is on its sixth week. The roster: John W. Field, manager; Frank Harris, Harry Broadbridge, John Combs, Prof. Frank Sylvester, Fred Shultz, Walter Crow, Thomas Wilson, Alma Sylvester, Shirley Nelson and Mildred Shultz.

—Ines Adams is engaged as leading lady for "Lost in Egypt."

—Matt Naaser, general agent for Jack Hoefler's Stock Co., writes from Cumberland, Md.: "Everything is running along nicely with the Hoefler Stock. The company opened the regular season at Franklin, Pa., Nov. 5, playing to a capacity business during the entire engagement and breaking the record for this house for re-people attractions. We are carrying a complete set of scenery for each production. Our repertoire is admitted by all to be the strongest array of New York productions ever presented by a re-people company. Manager Hoefler's 'Woman in Black' Co. is in Cleveland this week, playing to its usual large business. The company has been playing only cities since the opening of the season, sixteen weeks ago, and has been holding its own everywhere. Now that the Jack Hoefler Stock Co. has been launched and is running along smoothly, Mr. Hoefler is beginning to look forward to his next season's venture, which promises to be a surprise to the theatrical profession at large. All well and happy, and send best wishes to THE CLIPPER."

—Mary Condon joined Carter's "Down in Mobili" to play the lead, at Detroit, Nov. 3, opening at Hamilton, Can. She received several curtain calls during the evening. On the same date Piny Rutledge joined the Chas. Mortimer Co. at Delaware, O., for leading comedy; management of C. Y. Parsons.

—The Horace Noble Stock Co. closed Nov. 3, at Mitchell, Ont.

—Irma La Pierre, leading lady of the Eastern "Way Down East" Company, whom it will be remembered, owing to illness, was suddenly compelled to leave the company in Rochester a few days ago, has fully recovered from a severe ailment, and again rejoined the company in Montreal last week.

—Skelly & Jackson write from Morrison, Ill.: "A new opera house (name to be decided on) will be opened here about Dec. 15; new from cellar to garret. Seating capacity, 700; stage, 35 by 55; orchestra, 25 by 25; 55 feet gridiron. The house is built by popular subscription, and is intended to fill the long felt want we read about. Scenery by Sosman & Landis, of Chicago, and is to be strictly a modern and up to date house, complete in every detail."

"Railroad Jack" played to the largest receipts of any company in four years at Marshalltown, Ia., election night. The entire house was sold out before 10 A. M., and although there were three hundred extra chairs put in several hundred people were turned away.

Tom Oakley writes: "I am with Rowland's Comedy Company, this being my third season under J. H. Rowland's management. Our business since opening this season, Sept. 10, has been elegant, notwithstanding the election, and salaries are as regular as clock work, and consequently we are all well and happy."

—Major O'Laughlin, with "Uncle Josh Sprucey" Co. (Eastern), closes his season with that company at Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 21.

—J. L. Conlon has been engaged to play characters in Hal Reid's "Roanoke," going to the coast.

—Hal Reid's play of Southern life, "Knobs o Tennessee," opened at the Academy of Music, Chicago, Oct. 14. All of the original scenic investments have been secured by W. H. Tabor. The company is headed by Lem. B. Parker as Joe Preston, and Alice Marble, who has enacted so well the role of O'Neil Preston, since the first performance of the play. The company is now in the middle West and about to open at St. Louis.

—The "Hans Hansen" Co. includes Jas. T. McAlpin, proprietor; Dolly Foster, Geo. D. Sweet, Little Marjorie, Flo Beatrice Terry, J. W. Smith, Leo Florence, Stewart H. Buchanan (Stew), Louis Reis, Clarence Fry, Geo. Eisold, Frank Dinger, Herman Nagel, Allen O. Gorrell, Thos. Carlson and Mae Dickerson.

—Louise Gillette has left the Frye Stock Co. to join Edward Harrigan's Co., in "Old Lavender," playing the part of Sally Tracy.

—W. G. Collinge has been engaged as general agent in advance of Leon W. Burnham's "A Mystery Woman" Co. in the role of Topsy Kane has been replaced in the role of Topsy by Kittle Walsh. Big business is reported from both the Eastern and Western shows, the later, under the management of Geo. D. Walters, being now in the Northwest.

—Grace May, formerly of the "The Case" Co., under the management of Fitz & Webster.

—Frank Beebe made his professional debut with the "Trapper's Daughter" Co. at Watseka, Ill., Nov. 8.

—Harry Crigler, bandmaster, and Emil C. Warnas, clarionetist, have closed with Buckskin Bill's Wild West Co. and resumed the management of Heath's Opera House, Oxford, Ind.

—The Kerkhoff-Loche Dramatic Company has

Notes from Fred Ehring's "Uncle Tom's Cabin." This company, which is doing a phenomenal business, opened its season Nov. 5, at West Jefferson, O. The company includes forty-two people, two bands, an orchestra, girls' life and drum corps, etc., and is transported in the private car Amelle (built by the Pullmans for the Rock Island Railway and bought outright last summer by Mr. Ehring). The exterior of the car is a scintillating mass of gilding and pictorial designs, the work of H. Stanley Lewis. The culinary department is presided over by Mrs. Amelle Ehring, with two assistants. The company is under the management of Chas. W. Denner, assisted by H. Stanley Lewis. The rehearsals were conducted under the supervision of Kathryn Barnum. The scenic effects are by Armbruster, of Columbus, and Herfurth, of Cincinnati. Roster: Fred Ehring, sole owner; Chas. W. Denner, general manager; H. The band is directed by Prof. Phillips, the orchestra by Prof. Claffy, and the colored contingent by Hannibal Johnson. Sig. Vallette is chief cook and Tom Jott car porter.

Notes from Gus Cohan's Company. Everything is running smoothly, presenting farce comedy and vaudeville, at popular prices. We are playing only three night stands, and while we have not broken any records, the business is most gratifying, with a cash balance on the right side of the ledger at the end of the week. H. R. De Leon assumes the management this week, and will add one or two more features. The company is headed by Gus Cohan, supported by Kate Watson, Gus Cohan, L. R. De Leon, proprietors and managers; A. Frank, Wood, advance agent; William C. Smith, musical director; Ned Kingston, stage manager; Ben Johnson, electrician; J. H. Jaxon, E. L. Trank, Henry White, Kate Watson, Lillian Staff, Corinne Brown and the Lorrie Sisters.

Olga Netherole on Nov. 10, through her counsel in Washington, withdrew her suit against the Rev. Dr. Easton, of that city, for denouncing her as a "lewd actress" in a sermon preached last summer. "Rapho," the actress' counsel, demanded $20,000 damages. Dr. Easton had publicly disavowed any intention to reflect upon Miss Netherole's character, and her counsel said that she had decided he could make no further reparation.

Edgall and Winthrop closed with Palmer's "Night in a Bar Room" Co. at Athens, Ga.

Miss Tracy, the soprano, has decided to stay in this country during the remainder of the season and will sing in concerts. Henry Wolfson, who is looking after her interests, has been arranged for her appearance in Philadelphia, Albany and Buffalo. On the afternoon of Dec. 12 Miss Tracy will give a song recital in Mendelssohn Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barwald are leaving the McCallie Stock Co.

Notes from the "Steam Laundry" Co.: Business since opening has been immense, and our novel parade has made a hit everywhere. We carry two bands, the Red Hussars and the Chinese Laundrymen. Our parade extends over a block. Our orchestra of fourteen musicians, under the direction of Prof. McDonald, is well received everywhere. Roster: P. C. Wiedemann, Lewis Sutherland, Sam Clark, G. W. McDonald, Chas. France, Ralph Russell, Chas. Carter, Ray Hedges, Tom Wiedemann, Arnold Fabst, Ernest J. Jones, W. C. Chas. More, J. P. Stewart, Wm. Hawkins, Earl Gofforth, W. J. Thomas, D. B. The roster: Charles Leyburne, Emma Bunting, Della Leon, Josie Price, Inez Dean, Margaret Dale, Louis Roche, Louis Deane, Robert Lester, Chas. P. Price, Claude S. Shattoune, Edward Bunting, Harry Jepson, R. S. Saunders, W. R. Gundaker, advance representative; D. V. Vandervort, manager; Prof. Alex. Hunsinger, musical director.

Notes from the "Spoons": "Between Two Forts" a dramatic sketch, in one act and three scenes, by Cecil Spooner, was produced for the first time on any stage in Elizabeth, N. J., Oct. 31. "In 1778," a revolutionary romance, in two acts, by Edna Day Spooner, was given its first production in Trenton, N. J., Nov. 16. Both plays have been received with favor by press and public, and the Spooners, Edna and Cecil, have received many compliments on the clever dialogue, plot and interest of their first work in the way of writing plays. The two plays will be the feature of the Spooners' repertory.

Edna Murrilla is not with the "Old Si Stebbins" Co.

E. J. Carpenter writes from his "Quo Vadis" Co.: "Business continues good with this company, and return dates are being arranged. The week previous to election proved to be the banner one of the season so far. Clay Lambert has been signed as general agent, four weeks in advance. A. J. Hotchkiss one week ahead with the paper." "Casmore and Florence are with Fritz & Webster's 'A Breezy Time' Co., and have in preparation for next season a new act.

Frank J. Bond is with "Hogan's Alley." Western, playing the part of Martin Brogan, also doing a specialty with J. C. Hart, who is playing Michael Hogan.

The show works in Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas and Iowa; is booked almost solid.

Mart. W. Hanley, manager of Robert Mantell, writes from St. Louis: "We are playing to a very large business here this week. 'A Free Lance' has caught on in great shape. Tonight we do 'Hamlet,' and the entire house is sold out, and a big sale for 'Othello' tomorrow (Saturday) night, which closes our engagement here Nov. 17. We open in Louisville at the Avenue Theatre, for one week Nov. 18, producing 'A Free Lance,' 'Romeo and Juliet,' 'Hamlet' and 'Othello.' The week of 25 we play the Walnut Street Theatre, Cincinnati, presenting the same plays that we do in Louisville."

Ben S. Marks, of E. J. Carpenter's "Quo Vadis" Co., was present with a handsome chased cup by Thos. J. Langdon, to use in Marcus Vinicius, which part Mr. Marks is playing.

Playwright Edgar Seiden, manager of the Rays "A Hot Old Time" Co., while playing their first record breaking engagement in Baltimore last week, presented Miles L. Kernan, manager of the Adulfoffs, with a fine blackthorn walking stick, bearing a silver tablet bearing the inscription: "Edgar Seiden to James L. Kernan, Killarney, 1900." Mr. Seiden had the stick cut in Ireland last summer, seasoned and polished. From the root, which forms a knot on the end, two slender branches grow, which have been artistically twisted about the stick, which is prickly with thorns.

Hugh T. Hart and W. H. St. James joined the Elks at Tallahassee, Oct. 15. May Marshall presented her husband, Henry B. Marshall, with a baby boy on Nov. 14, at their home in Little York, Ill. H. B. Miss Dale, of the team Magee and Dale, is very sick in Madison, Ind., and had to be left there in the hospital.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence.—The theatrical business in this city has not been as good for a week or two as it was earlier in the season. The attractions offered have been very good and business should be better.

PROVIDENCE OPERA HOUSE (Felix R. Wendelschafer, manager).—Melbourne McDowell presented "Theodora" Nov. 12-17. Daniel Sully makes his annual visit 20, 21, and will present "The Parish Priest." Mrs. Leslie Mack will present "Zaza" 22-24. For the week of 26 Andrew Mack will be seen in "The Rebel."

EMPIRE THEATRE (Spitz & Nathanson, managers).—"The Girl from Maxim's" was presented 12-17, and Hattie Williams was seen in the leading role. Business was the best for all the week. For week of 19 the Royal Lilliputians come here for the first time. Week of 26 "Because She Loved Him" will be seen here.

KEITH'S NEW THEATRE (Chas. R. Lovenberg, manager).—"There was a good bill 11-17, and the attendance was very good. The program, showing local pictures, is certainly a strong drawing card. For week of 19 the bill will be: Clara Morris, the Three Powers Bros., Jennie Yeamans, Carrol Johnson, Ameta, Hall and Staley, Al. Bellman and Lottie Moore, the Rixfords, Dillon Bros., Anna Teresa Berger, biograph pictures, Leaster and Ferman, Gordon H. Eldrid, the Two Clogs.

OLYMPIC THEATRE (Spitz & Nathanson, managers).—"Al. Reeves' show was the offering 11-17, and neither the public nor the local press seemed to like it. But it is a season's Bowers Burlesques will be with us 19-24. Fred Irvins' Majestic Burlesques is the booking week of 26.

WESTMINSTER THEATRE (Geo. H. Battcheller, manager).—"Jacobs & Lowry's Indian Maidens, 11-17, drew fairly good business. The Rose Hill English Folly Co. 19-24. The Rentz-Santley Co. play a return date week of 26.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville.—Macaulay's Theatre (Jno. T. Macaulay, manager).—"Quo Vadis" was the attraction at this house the whole of last week, playing to crowded houses at every performance. The audience took great interest in the play, remaining through the six acts from 8 o'clock till midnight, and applauding to the end. The company as a whole was good, but the work of Samuel Edwards, as Nero, and Arthur Forrest, as Petronius, were most satisfactory. Dallas Tyler portrayed the character of Lygia to perfection. For Nov. 19, 20, Louis James and Kathryn Kidder: Modjeska 22-24.

AVENUE THEATRE (Chas. A. Shaw, manager).—"On the Stroke of Twelve," a strong and startling melodrama, pleased large audiences throughout last week's run. For week of 18 Robert Mantell.

TEMPLE THEATRE (Meffert & Eagle, managers).—"The Hunchback" was the offering by the stock company last week and drew forth crowded houses. The piece was superbly mounted, the members of the company were exceedingly good in their respective roles, which added to the success of the play. For week of 19, "A Gigantic Liar."

BUCKINGHAM THEATRE (Whallen Bros., managers).—"The Vanity Fair Extravaganza" Co. attracted only fair audiences last week. For week of 18, Dewey Theatre Extravaganza.

BIBBOD'S CONCERT HALL (George Bibb, manager).—"Ella Norman, Kittle Ashley, Leslie and Sarafeld, Marsh De Varo, Nina Mason, Thos. Reynolds, Fred Kelly, the Merediths and Mayme Courtney. Business fair."

ROBINSON'S OLYMPIA (Chas. Robinson, manager).—"Woods and Lincoln, Harry Blair, Lenoir and Hlonel, Josie Duncan, McGinness and Dunn, and Alma Clifton. Business fair."

METROPOLITAN CASINO (Nellie Hammett, manager).—"This house closes the season 18."

BIG CASINO CONCERT HALL (F. B. Bauerle, manager).—"Hurley and Noon, J. E. Livingstone, Vera Phelps, Tom Doyle, T. H. Williams, Dora Roberts, Fannie Day, Edna Hart, Pauline Haertel and Smith Bros. Business fair."

Lexington.—At the Lexington Opera House (Chas. Scott, manager) "Hello Bill" played to good houses Nov. 15, 16, and the play made such a hit that Manager Scott induced them to play a matinee 17. James Kidder Co. filled the house night of 17. Miss Kallie, a great favorite with Lexington theatregoers. Coming: Melville Co. week of 19-23, Black Patti Troubadours 24, Carraway 26-28, "The Colonel and 17" 29, Williams & Walker 30-Dec. 1.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston.—Business was universally brisk at all the houses last week, and some of the strong attractions will hold over for the current week.

THEMONT THEATRE (John B. Schoeffel, manager).—"E. S. Willard will open the second week of his stay here with 'Tom Pinch,' presenting 'David Garrick' at the Wednesday and Saturday matinees. His audiences have been large and enthusiastic during the past week, greeting him with great cordiality. The engagement is for seven weeks, Nov. 26, 'The Middleman.'

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE (Isaac B. Rich, manager).—"The second and last week of their engagement the Empire Stock will give Lord and Lady Alby," which scored such a success here a year ago, and which brings Miss Millward into the cast for the first time this season. "Brother Officers" was stamped with the approval of large and exclusive audiences past week. Leslie Carter, in "Zaza," follows week of 22.

BOSTON MUSEUM (Field, Rich, Harris & Chas. Frohman, managers).—"The 'Pride of Jennico' enters upon its second week 19, and will remain here four weeks. Bertha Galland, who is playing to Boston audiences for the first time, has made a most favorable impression as Princess Eulie. 'Hearts are Trumps' will follow Hackett."

COLUMBIA THEATRE (A. H. Chamberly, manager).—"Marie Dressler is making a big hit in 'Miss Print,' which is packing the house, and is on for an indefinite run. Jobyna Hoad and Theodore Babcock are scoring well, as are other members of the support. Bargain matinees, with reserved seats at popular prices, continue as a feature of the management."

PARK THEATRE (Eugene Tompkins, manager).—"The fourth and last week, Nov. 19, will terminate the brief run of 'Lost River,' which has not won Boston audiences to the extent of the New York success. The retention of Mary Sanders helped box office receipts last week. The present company will play it on the New England circuit for the first time. It is planned to send them to New York and despatch the New York company to Chicago with the same production. 'The House That Jack Built' will follow on Monday, 26.

BOSTON THEATRE (Eugene Tompkins, manager).—"Quo Vadis" is a great run of about six weeks. Wilton Lackaye, Elita Otis, Bijon Hernandez and Aubrey Boncault are making hits. The cast is of unusual strength. The scenery and costumes are those used in the London Adelphi production. Second week, 19.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE (J. H. Emery, manager).—"The 'Nell Gwynne' production, long in preparation, will be given Monday, Nov. 19, by the house stock. This new version is said by the author, Marie Doran, to deviate somewhat from historical accuracy. Edmund Breese, late of O'Neill's Co., has joined the 'Castle Square' and will play the Duke of Buckingham. Lillian Laurence appears as Nell Gwynne and John Craig as Charles II. New stage settings, by Ansel Cook and B. W. Craig, and the whole production under the stage management of J. H. Emery."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (Geo. W. Magee, manager).—"The Sunshine of Paradise Alley" returns week of 19, for its annual engagement here, with Mrs. Chas. Peters, Phila May, Grace Kimball, Helen Gurney, W. J. Sully, Wm. De Wolfe and other favorites in the cast. Friday, Nov. 23, will be souvenir night, celebrating the century performance in Boston and twenty-fifth performance at the Grand Opera House. Next week, "An African King."

KEITH'S THEATRE (B. F. Keith, manager).—"The 'Richard the Third' production, long in the headlines of this week's bill, 19. Jos. Hart and Carrie De Mar are repeating their usual success, and will present "Dr. Chaucer's Visit" for their second and last week. The Three Joscaryns, Midge-Vari and Carl Hovey, Val and Verna, Mlle. Emmy's dogs, Hamilton Hill, Conker and Husted, Carmen Sisters, Forrester and Floyd Lawson and Namon, Mason and Francis, the Tanakas and "Rastus and Dinah" complete a bill of unusual excellence. The latter sketch is of special local interest. It was written by two prominent members of the Tavern Club, which organization will occupy boxes Monday night."

MUSIC HALL AND MUSIC (Harry S. Healey, manager).—"Russell Brothers, Kelly and Ashby and Truly Shattuck are the headliner of this week's bill, which contains other good names, such as Lew Hawkins, Ward and Curran, the Three Lellitts, in "The Professor and His Pupil," Harry Mills and Co. in "A Mock Marriage," McBride and Goodrich, Lyons and Crowley, Gavin and Platt, Matland and Way, Field and McNeil, Cliff and Farrell, Rhoads, Royal Marionettes, World's Comedy Four, Nizazors and the American Vitaphone. The wax collection in the museum is added to weekly and proves an interesting adjunct to the theatre. The much discussed fire proof procenium at the Amphitheatre, which is now under way, is rather notable that the big brick arch was erected while the shows were in progress and without causing the least disturbance to the audiences."

BOWDOIN SQUARE THEATRE (Geo. E. Lothrop, manager).—"Laurie Albert will appear this week in 'East Lynne,' supported by the house stock. Next week, 'Faust.'"

HOWARD ATHENAEUM (Geo. E. Lothrop, manager).—"Al. Reeves' Burlesques, in 'The Silly Social' and 'Old Comedians.' In the olio: Al. Reeves, Inez McCusker, Mr. and Mrs. H. Belmont, Mlle. Belmont, and O'Day, Thatcher and Cottrell. The Howard's own show is headed by McAvoy and May, Vernon, Rae and Benedetto, John E. Drew, De Camo, Geo. K. Morten, Tom Galvin, the Holbrooks."

NEW PALACE THEATRE (Dunn & Waldron, managers).—"Jolly Grass Widow Burlesque" will fill the main part of the bill this week, with Paulo and Dika, Carrie Fulton, the Imperial Trio, Lorenz and Halpin, Guslie Vivian, Howard and Moore, Allen and Allen in the olio."

STONE'S THEATRE (Stone & Shaw, managers).—"Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Morlan, the heavy weights, accompanied by Prince Tinytime, the human atom, are held over for a second week, as curious par excellence. Other features are: Herr Emil and Teeta, of the Juggling Hugs; Hugs' Corn Calfette, the Ryland Family, Warren and Howard, the Three Roosevelt, Owley Randall, Grace and Tony Waters, McIntyre and Primrose, Ned Barry, McKee and Wyatt, Peersless La Tosca, Kelly and West, Geo. H. Stone, Mons. Bonette, and Fred's troupe, the Boyce Sisters, Edison's Bioscope."

GRAND THEATRE (Geo. E. Lothrop, manager).—"Another new melodrama will be given this week by the house stock, entitled 'Wicked London.' Souvenir photos are distributed weekly."

LATYMO THEATRE (Geo. E. Battcheller, manager).—"Abe Leavitt's Rentz-Santley Burlesques, in 'Hotel Matrimony' and 'Broadway to Paris.'"

NICKLEBOON (L. B. Walker, manager).—"Patty Langtry leads the list of freaks this week in exhibitions of bare, pelting. The Razafars, Unionists! the Creole convention, Capt. Fisher, Chas. Milliken and a molasses candy eating contest."

ROMANTIC GREAT CAMP (Nat Burgess, manger).—"Princess Zita is the new addition to the gypsy corps."

NOTES.—Wm. Harris has been in Boston the past week, arranging for enlarged stage accommodations. For "Hearts are Trumps," Mary Sanders will hold a reception on the stage after the Saturday matinee of "Lost River" at the Park, and will present a souvenir photo of herself as Ora. She is said to be considering another starring venture in Lotta's repertory. . . . Martha Holland will replace Madge Cook as Grandine Gates for a few performances in "Lost River."

Twenty-five cents is the bargain price announced for all matinee seats at Music Hall, except on Saturdays and holidays. . . . The rooster song created a diversion at Keith's last week by flying over the footlights. . . . Nellie McHenry, in "Miss" and "San Toy," will be at the Boston Museum in the near future. . . . "Humpty Dumpty" will come to the Grand Opera House Christmas week. . . . Manager Stone will soon start on a Southern trip.

Fall River.—At the Academy of Music (Wm. J. Wiley, manager) the Corse Payton Comedy Co. held the boards for week of Nov. 12, to fair returns. Coming: Y. M. C. A. lecture 21, Andrew Mack, in "The Rebel," 22; "A Hot Old Time" 23, Boston Symphony 27, "Aunt Hannah" 28, "Through the Breakers" 29-Dec. 1.

CASTO THEATRE (Al. Haynes, manager).—"The Casto bill, headed by Oliver Byron and Milton Nobles, respectively, gave excellent satisfaction week of Nov. 12. The new system of two vaudeville shows weekly, alternating between Lawrence and Fall River, has started auspiciously. For week of 19, for three days: Raymond Moore, Baby Grace, Ida Russell, West and Williams, Inga Orner, Pat and Belle Yarrow, George Lingard, the Melrose Bros., West and Williams, Inga Orner, Al. and Minnie Anderson, George C. Davis, Ida Russell, Baby Grace, Raymond Musical Trio, and Raymond Moore."

OLYMPIA THEATRE (W. Robinson, manager).—"Business at this house is very good. Coming week of 19: Russell and Daly, Martine and Martine, Francis Harrison, Bryer and Clifford, stock burlesque, Marie St. Clair, May Rosal, Madeilyn Broughton, Ella Rosal, Minnie Armstrong, Margie Blair, Pauline Cloutier and Annie Mahoney."

Holyoke.—At the Opera House (B. L. Potter, manager) Mrs. Fluke, in "Becky Sharp," Nov. 15, played to the largest house this season here, standing room only being taken at a premium. Charles H. Yales' "The Evil Eye," 16, did satisfactory business. Booked: Corse Payton's Comedy Co. in repertory, week of the 19; "The Girl from Maxim's" 21, comic opera, "Prince Fro Tom," 29 and matinee. EMPIRE THEATRE (T. F. Murray, manager).—"The Heart of Chicago," 12-14, came to good business. "Remember the Maine," 15-17, had fair attendance. Booked: "The Bowers after Dark" 19-21, "A Romance of Coon Hollow" 22-24, "A Ride for Life" 29-Dec. 1.

Taunton.—At the Taunton Theatre (Gilbert H. Padelford, manager) the E. V. Phelan Stock Co. came week of Nov. 12, to large business. Brandy and the magician, with this company, proved a great drawing card, and was featured in the last of the town. "Our New Minister" comes 20, "Joshua Simpkins" 24.

Mrs. Sarah Cowell Le Moine, in "The Greatest Thing in the World," 12, had fair business. Coming: "Secret Service" 20, Harry Glazier, in "The Three Musketeers," 21; Vogel & Deming's Minstrels 23, Neil Burgess, in "The County Fair," 28. "Our New Minister" will be the attraction both afternoon and evening 29 (Thanksgiving).

THE WILSON (Thos. Hanley, manager).—"The Queen of the Orient Burlesques will hold forth 19-21 and two matinees. The company has been strengthened by the Kanons, in a musical comedy and boxing sketch, opening here."

Lawrence.—At the Opera House (A. L. Grant, manager).—"The Cadet Girl" pleased a good house Nov. 12. Mrs. Fluke, in "Becky Sharp," did good business 13. Andrew Mack, in "The Rebel," had a top heavy house 14. "Drummer Boy of Shiloh" (local talent) did good business 16, 17, including matinee. Coming: Bennett and Moulton Co. week of 19, "Our New Minister" 27, "The Sunshine of Paradise Alley" 29. Weston, Culhane and Chace Minstrels Dec. 1.

CASTO THEATRE (Al. Haynes, manager).—"One of the finest little vaudeville houses in New England will open in the following bill: Lotta Gladstone, M. Francols, Zara and Zara, May Mooney, Harry Burlesque, Nat and Belle Yarrow, George Lingard, the Melrose Bros., West and Williams, Inga Orner, Al. and Minnie Anderson, George C. Davis, Ida Russell, Baby Grace, Raymond Musical Trio, and Raymond Moore."

OLYMPIA THEATRE (W. Robinson, manager).—"Business at this house is very good. Coming week of 19: Russell and Daly, Martine and Martine, Francis Harrison, Bryer and Clifford, stock burlesque, Marie St. Clair, May Rosal, Madeilyn Broughton, Ella Rosal, Minnie Armstrong, Margie Blair, Pauline Cloutier and Annie Mahoney."

Holyoke.—At the Opera House (B. L. Potter, manager) Mrs. Fluke, in "Becky Sharp," Nov. 15, played to the largest house this season here, standing room only being taken at a premium. Charles H. Yales' "The Evil Eye," 16, did satisfactory business. Booked: Corse Payton's Comedy Co. in repertory, week of the 19; "The Girl from Maxim's" 21, comic opera, "Prince Fro Tom," 29 and matinee. EMPIRE THEATRE (T. F. Murray, manager).—"The Heart of Chicago," 12-14, came to good business. "Remember the Maine," 15-17, had fair attendance. Booked: "The Bowers after Dark" 19-21, "A Romance of Coon Hollow" 22-24, "A Ride for Life" 29-Dec. 1.

Taunton.—At the Taunton Theatre (Gilbert H. Padelford, manager) the E. V. Phelan Stock Co. came week of Nov. 12, to large business. Brandy and the magician, with this company, proved a great drawing card, and was featured in the last of the town. "Our New Minister" comes 20, "Joshua Simpkins" 24.

GOLDEN GATE GLEANINGS.

Grand Opera Season Continues Successful—New Comic Opera Stock Company at the Tivoli Finds Favor.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK CLIPPER.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—At the Columbia Theatre the second and last week of the Frank Danville Co. in "The Amer." began last night. The Alice Nelsen Opera Co. follows 24, for three weeks.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—The Grau Grand Opera Co. has made a big hit. Business last week, from the attendance standpoint, was not thoroughly satisfactory. There is a larger advance sale for the Wagner opera, and extra performances will be given at popular prices.

CALIFORNIA THEATRE.—The Royal Italian Marine Band continues the attraction here. Next week, Haverly's Minstrels. The Tivoli Opera House, which began last night, was the bill here last night to a crowded house. The new company includes: Ferris Hartman, Helen Merrill, Annie Meyers, Grace Orr, Tom Greene, Bernice Holmes, Tenbrooke Dale and Edward Webb, the latter two entirely new people, the first a baritone and the second a comedian.

ALCAZAR THEATRE.—The stock company presented "The Railroad of Love" last night to unusual good business. Lilla Converse, new leading lady, and Harry Braham, comedian, opened with the company, and created a good impression.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.—The people for the current week: Stelling and Revelle, Max Waldon, the Brothers Marline, Condit and Morey, and Ione MacLouth.

CRUISE.—The bill week of 19: Shields Bros., Gus Leonard, Norah Bayes, Boggs and Haverly, Hunt's dog circus, Dan Mack, John Tamplin, Leander Bros., Little Alma, Grans, animatopie, Chame, a large monkey from Africa; Cannon, the fat man, and the Congo Family.

NOTES.—Big business rules at the various houses. Every professional in town has volunteered for the benefit of the Associated Theatrical Managers of San Francisco, which occurs 22, at the Orpheum. The prices of admission will be advanced for this occasion.

FROM OTHER POINTS.

"The Prophet" Sung in St. Louis for the First Time—Big Business Reported East and West.

Special Dispatches to THE NEW YORK CLIPPER.

BOSTON, Nov. 20.—The Castle Square production of "The Prophet" was the only absolute novelty on the boards last night. The production, by Marie Doran, was excellently interpreted by the stock company. Lillian Lawrence and John Craig in leading roles. Large matinee and evening audiences enjoyed the performances. E. S. Willard opened the second week of his engagement at the Tremont with "Tom Pinch," to a very large audience. The Empire Stock appeared in "Lord and Lady Algy" at the Hollis Street, for the second and last week of their engagement, duplicating their success of a year ago in this piece. At the Boston Museum Jan. K. Hackett began his second week of "The Pride of Jennie." In which the star and Bertha Galland have made such strong impressions. "Quo Vadis" at the Boston Theatre, went into a second very successful week. "Lost River" entered upon its fourth and last week at the Park. "Miss Printz" at the Columbia, is one of the successes of the town, and Marie Dressler is, as always, a great drawing card. J. E. Dodson scored a great big hit at Keith's, which held two big audiences yesterday. The Russell Brothers have not yet palled upon Boston audiences, judging from their success as leaders of the Music Hall bill. "The Sunshine of Paradise Alley" was given at the Grand Opera House to a crowded house. "East Lynne" at the Bowdoin Square, with Laura Albert in the leading role, brought good business. The other houses found nothing to complain of.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 20.—Several novelties, at least to St. Louis, are again here this week. Otis Skinner, in "Prince Otto," and Al. Wilson, in "The Watch on the Rhine," both present their new plays, and the Castle Square Co. gave "The Prophet" its first presentation in this city. "Phineas Otto" is at the Century, opening Nov. 10 to very satisfactory business. Mr. Wilson opened Sunday, 18, at the Grand, and both Sunday's and Monday's houses were good sized. At Music Hall the Castle Square Co. opened 19, to a veritable triumph. The audience showed by its size and enthusiasm the genuine liking St. Louisans have for the organization, and the production warrants the enthusiasm. At Havlin's, "The Sorrows of Satan" opened 18, for its second annual engagement. Business here also is excellent. At the Olympic, "Quo Vadis" returns after a month's absence for another week's engagement and still draws good business. The Ramblers is at the Standard with a very good burlesque show. Lydia Dexter is featured. The Columbia has another clever bill, with Lillian Burkhardt as the chief attraction. This house also opens to a promising week. "Camille" is the offering of the Imperial Stock Company, Miss Odell and Mr. Ratcliff taking the leading roles, and the whole cast winning approval.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 20.—The most interesting of this week's openings was the first night at the Academy, when "Julius Caesar" was presented by the Thannhouser Company. The production was both mammoth and magnificent and was witnessed by a packed house. Frederick Paulding, as Cassius, and Eugene Moore, as Marc Antony, surprised their most ardent admirers. Edgar Baume, as Caesar, and Wm. Yerance, as Brutus, all won high honors. At the Alhambra "A Female Drummer" opened to a big matinee and played to capacity at night. Nellie O'Neil and Harry J. Lord carried the house by storm. At the Davidson "The Only Way," with Creston Clarke in the leading role, scored well before a good audience. At the Bijou "Shore Acres" was received by two immense audiences, and indications point to one of the most successful weeks of the season. At the Pabst "Uddie Goldie Grube," Sunday night's offering of the Wachsmann Co., proved the laughing success of the season. At the Star Scribner's Gay Morning Glories, fresh as their names, opened to capacity and turned them away at night. Dryden and Leslie, Kherns and Cole, and McCabe and Sabine, assisted by Mlle. Vera, were all big winners.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—There were goodly gatherings at the theatres for the opening of this week, but many more could have been accommodated had they but come. "Self and Lady" opened at the Broad to excellent audiences, entertained by the amusing complications admirably presented. "Ben Hur" continued to draw heavily at the Opera House. "The Sign of the Cross," at the Chestnut, and "Hearts are Trumps," at the Walnut, continued to fair attendance. At Matthews & Bulger's clever company presented an excellent entertainment in "The Night of the Fourth," at the Auditorium, the house being crowded. "The Girl from Maxim's" drew well at the Park, the same being true of "Miss of the Nation" at the Lyceum. At the People's the stock companies achieved their usual success before crowded audiences. Vaudeville at Keith's and the Grand came in for popular approval. The afternoon and evening performances of burlesque proved profitable at the Lyceum. The Grand Star and Kensington. The Museum. Eleventh and the other houses were by no means neglected.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—The week again opened well. Anna Held was greeted by a good house at the Illinois Sunday, upon the opening of her engagement in "The Wife." The play was conspicuous for fine costumes and brilliant color. Anna Held's simulation of intoxication and her fun making were equal to Charles Bigelow's success. Eugene Blair made her stellar entry into Chicago, in "A Lady of Quality," at the Great Northern Sunday, with excellent attendance. The star was liberally applauded. The Goodwins and William Collier continued at Powers' and the Grand, respectively, to large houses. "Caleb West" entered upon its last week at McVicker's with big business. The local organizations opened to good business without exception. Cole and Johnson, at the Alhambra, drew packed houses Sunday and last night. "Lost in the Desert" drew crowded houses at the Academy. Terry McGovern opened to splendid business at the Criterion Sunday, and the week began well. The vaudeville and burlesque houses continued with prosperity their lot.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—William Gillette presented "Sherlock Holmes," for the first time in Washington, to an audience which filled the National Theatre to repletion. The strong play made a decided hit and the promised large financial results. Denman Thompson's "Old Homestead," at the Columbia, had a standing room house last night, and the house is well sold for the week. "The Great Ruby" was magnificently set at the Lafayette Square last night, and the house was crowded. It is its first Washington production and created a decided impression. Filson and Errol, Digby Bell, Josephine Gassman and seven other prime people were greeted by two large audiences yesterday at the New Theatre. Hurtig and Scoville's "The Maid" had a large following twice yesterday at the Lyceum. The European Sensation Burlesques made good twice yesterday, to crowded houses, at the Bijou. The Academy of Music, owing to its abandonment of the Italian bill, closed this week, but will reopen next week, under the management of E. D. Stair, as a popular price house of comedy and drama.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 20.—Viola Allen received a magnificent greeting from Cincinnati theatregoers Monday night. She appeared at the Grand in her own play, "The Palace of the King." Sunday night a remarkable record was made. Every house in town turned people away, although the night was sultry for November. "Rosemary" at the Pike was voted one of the greatest successes of the year. "War on Women," full of Indians and bowie knives, proved a wonderful offering at the Walnut. There was plenty of variety in the Behman Show at Heuck's. The Empire Vaudevilleans at the Columbia, and Sam Devere's Own Show at the People's, all doing houses. The "A Ward of France" pleased the Lyceum crowds. At Robinson's the Baldwin Melville Co. put on "The Two Orphans."

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 20.—Charles Dickson, in "Mistakes Will Happen," opened at the Tivoli Sunday matinee, and in spite of reduced prices drew a poor house. The night attendance was not much better. At the Grand, a big matinee and S. R. O. night house, saw and cheered "Across the Pacific." The usual big Sunday houses enjoyed the new bill at the Orpheum, in which Tom Nawa and the other headliners. The Woodward's Stock Company put out "Turned Up" at the Auditorium to their same Sunday followers. Harry Beresford was the hit of the performance. The "Fide of Life" at the Gillis, played to two big houses. The standard Clark Brothers' Royal Burlesquers drew well. Julia Mariowe comes to the Coates Thursday night.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 20.—Louis James and Kathryn Kidder opened at Macaulay's last night, presenting "A Midsummer Night's Dream" to a packed house. Robert Mantell opened at the Avenue Sunday, playing to a crowded house. The Temple offered "The Corsican Brothers" as their attraction, drawing big audiences. The Bucking ham Theatre was packed to the doors Sunday to see the Dewey Extravaganza company.

FRANCIS ALDOROTH has joined "Duffy's Jubilee" for the rest of the season.

OHIO.

Cincinnati.—Dame Rumor masqueraded in the role of a grave digger during the past week. Theatregoers were shocked by the story from Edgewater, Col., that Hobart Bosworth, who was leading man at the Pike last year, had died suddenly. Few people were aware that he had been ill. Telegraphic orders for flowers were hurried to Colorado, but they found "the dead man" the liveliest mortal in the Silver State. He is getting along famously and returned from a fishing trip just in time to head off a procession of florists' boys bearing a choice selection of pillows inscribed "At Rest." Bosworth was a great favorite in Cincinnati, and there are many people within the city gates who are not yet reconciled to his absence.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (Harry Rainforth & John H. Havlin, managers).—Viola Allen will come Nov. 19, to present "In the Palace of the King." Last week Otto Skinner was seen in "Prince Otto," supported by Percy Haswell, Grace Filkins, Maud Durbin and others of a well balanced company. For some unknown reason Cincinnati has failed to take Skinner to his theatrical heart with the fervor that his ability deserves. Business averaged good. The audiences were enthusiastic and some of them demanded curtain speeches. Louis Mann and Clara Lipman, in "All on Account of Eliza," 26.

PIKE OPERA HOUSE (D. H. Hunt, manager).—The Pike Stock Co. will put on "Rosemary" 18. Last week "Camille," which was voted on the boards by the constituents of the house, played to splendid business. Lizzie Hudson Collier played the title role with remarkable force and Byron Douglass was cast as Armand. The play was beautifully staged. "An American Citizen" 25.

COLUMBIA THEATRE (M. C. Anderson, manager).—The Empire Vaudevilleans, with Johnstone Bennett featured, in "A Quiet Evening at Home," will come 18. Last week large audiences enjoyed the show that was given.

WALNUT STREET THEATRE (M. C. Anderson, manager).—Hope Booth will be seen 18, in "War or Woman." Frank J. Keenan enjoyed a continuous triumph last week, when "A Poor Relation" crowded the house at every performance. At one of the matinees his former stock company, the Pike and in front and added their applause to the generous proofs of appreciation. Robert Mantell 25.

HECK'S OPERA HOUSE (Heuck, Fennessy & Stair, managers).—The Bohemian Show will open 18. Last week "A Rough Rider's Romance," with Edwin Mordeant, Frank Campeau, Caroline Franklin and Leola May played to big business. The patriotic sympathies of the crowds were aroused and there was plenty of cheering. "A Wise Guy" 25.

ST. CECILIA THEATRE (Heuck, Stair & Fennessy, managers).—"A Ward of France" is promised 18. Last week Carl Haswin appeared in "A Lion's Heart," to good business. "On the Stroke of Twelve" 25.

ROBINSON'S OPERA HOUSE (George E. Baker, resident manager).—"The Hildy-Melville Stock Company" will put on "The Two Orphans" 18. Last week the revival of "Hazel Kirke" was rewarded by overflowing houses. Lorraine Drexler, in the title role, won great praise, and E. R. Murock, as Lord Travers, did splendid work. Dunstan Kirke was in the good hands of Mr. Harbourn.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE (Heuck & Fennessy, managers).—Sam Devere's Own Co. pays its annual visit 18. Last week will remain historic as the red letter week in the annals of the house. "The Ramblers," Heuck & Fennessy's Own Company, turned people away on several occasions. Two ladies' nights and baseball night were featured. Cincinnati gave loyal support to a home enterprise, and the general verdict was that the company deserved the patronage it received. In compliment to Frank Bancroft on "baseball night," Bobby Raymond wore one of the Bessie uniforms. He played ball in Chattanooga years ago. The Burke Brothers, Bonita and Grace La Rue, Dora Devere—in fact, every member of the troupe was well received. Rice & Barton's Co. 25.

HECK'S WONDER WORLD (Will S. Heck, manager).—Giovanni's performing cock, Signor Arcaris and niece, Prairie Dog Jack and the Romany Gypsy Camp are featured in the curio hall 10. Frank and Ida Williams, Seamon and Monti, John Cristy, Flora Wilkes and Irene Kensington will appear in the olio in the theatre. Business last week was good.

GOSSIP OF THE LOBBY.—Mrs. Walter S. Baldwin has gone to New Orleans, where she will spend the winter. Manager Will Heck has returned from Newcastle, Ind., where he witnessed the successful opening of the season of the Metropolitan Players. Manager James E. Fennessy was presented with a magnificent Masonic charm, the emblem of the Shrine, by Dr. Querner, in behalf of his associates and employees, after the first performance of "The Ramblers." Percy Haswell closes with Otto Skinner, who joins the National Theatre Stock Co. at Washington. E. G. Edmund Hatcher, late press agent at the Pike, is mingling with old Cincinnati friends. It is stated that Manager John A. Avery is to give Cincinnati a roof garden next summer. The Vine Street Opera House will be open all the year round. Musical Cincinnati has lost W. Yeatman Griffith, who has gone to Pittsburgh. The first May festival chorus rehearsal was held last week. Dora Devere and Grace La Rue, of "The Ramblers," are Cincinnati girls. Heuck, Fennessy & Stair, who are entitled to St. Paul Minn., by the illness of his father, and Ernest Elton assumed his role of Count de Varville, in "Camille." Frank Bancroft moved on to St. Louis. Tom De Angellis was too ill to move on with his father's company, but returned to New York City. The Saengerfest Hall, a $100,000 white elephant, reminiscent of the failure of two years ago, only brought $5,200 at auction. The chateaux of the Ludlow Lagoon are to be sold at auction to satisfy a $10,000 judgment. Nellie Morrill, mother of a little girl who plays one of the child parts in "A Poor Relative," told a story of abuse of the little one while the company was in Cincinnati. Frank Keenan entered a vigorous denial, and the Humane Society's investigation completely exonerated the company. During the trouble "Little Margaret" did not play Patch, and Frank Keenan's daughter, Hilda Keenan, made her debut in that role. Frank Vander Stucken has resigned from the College of Music and Symphony Orchestra and will likely go East. Caroline Butterfield, a Cincinnati girl, was seen in "Prince Otto." She is a daughter of A. R. Butterfield, a local politician of note. The Empire circuit added three houses to the organization at the meeting at People's Theatre 15. This is the present roster of the membership: The Monumental Theatre, Baltimore; James I. Kernan, manager; Lyceum Theatre, Washington; James I. Kernan, manager; Williams' Academy, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Harry Williams, manager; People's Theatre, Cincinnati; Heuck & Fennessy, managers; Star Theatre, Cleveland, Ohio; Drew & Campbell, managers; Empire Theatre, Indianapolis, Ind.; Heuck & Fennessy, managers; Buckingham Theatre, Louisville, Ky.; Whallen Bros., managers; Standard Theatre, St. Louis; James J. Butler, manager; and Standard Theatre, Kansas City, Mo.; James J. Butler, manager. All these houses were represented at the conference, which resulted in the election of these officers: President, James J. Butler, of St. Louis; vice president, Hubert Heuck, of Cincinnati; secretary, James E. Fennessy, of Cincinnati, and treasurer, Col. J. H. Whallen, of Louisville. The directors elect are: James I. Kernan, George W. Rife, Harry W. Williams, James E. Fennessy, Hubert Heuck, J. H. Whallen, James J. Butler, Frank Drew and W. T. Campbell. Viola Allen's advance sale resembles a record breaker.

Cleveland.—The business throughout the week can be said to have held its own, particularly in view of the fact that there was no great attraction at either of the houses. Vaudeville particularly seems to still have a strong hold on our people, who do not yet seem to have tired of the lighter things theatrically.

OPERA HOUSE (A. F. Hartz, manager).—"Way Down East" did very nicely week of Nov. 12. The company is quite an excellent one throughout. Odell Williams and Phoebe Davies lead the cast. Much attention has been paid to the detail and the scenic accessories and much live stock and horses added to the picture. The Bostonians sing "The Viceroy," "Robin Hood" and "The Serenade" week of 19. Blanche Walsh, in "More Than Queen," 26 and week.

CLEVELAND THEATRE (E. C. Underner, manager).—"The Angel of the Alley," a thrilling play of some strength, was the play week 12, and seemed to be quite thoroughly enjoyed. The plot is interesting and exciting enough for the patrons of this house and the company is quite strong. "The Limited Mail" shows 19-24, followed by "At Piney Ridge" 26.

LYCEUM THEATRE (J. B. Cookson, manager).—"The Heart of Maryland" was seen week 12 and the attendance was fair. "The Dairy Farm" shows week 19. "The Telephone Girl" 26.

EMPIRE THEATRE (Geo. E. Raymond, manager).—"Hopkins' Trans-Oceanic Stars," week of 12, was the second regular road company to play at this house, and the attendance was very good throughout the week. The "Zouaves" were the special feature, although W. H. Fox, in his now famous impersonation, "Paddywhisk," was well received. The other features were: The Allison Troupe of athletes, Frank Bouman and Rose Adelle, in farce called "The Door Key," the Hoopers, and A. O. Duncan, ventriloquist. Bessie Moore, in songs, and Barnes and Sisson, in "The Mysterious Pill," and Clayton, Jenkins and Jasper, in "Darktown Circus." For week of 19, Della Fox is featured, as is also Kathryn Osterman and company.

STAR THEATRE (F. M. Drew & W. T. Campbell, managers).—"The New York Stars," week of 12, proved a winner in that they presented a bright and pleasing programme of vaudeville specialties. The performance opened with an extravaganza called "The Sousa Girl," which is very good, and includes the new Sousa march, "The Stars." The olio of specialties is contributed by Jack Burke and William McAvoy, in a humorous boxing sketch; Henrietta Dreyer, in song, followed by Sam J. Adams, comedian. Robinson and Irwin, Carl and Brown, the Luckys and the Ricardo family complete the olio. The programme closed with the burlesque called "The Artist's Model," which is also very fair. Rice & Barton's Big Gaiety Co. week 19.

GRAY'S ARMOY.—"The Killies" Forty-eight Highlanders' Band 17. Edouard Strauss' Orchestra 27.

Toledo.—At the Valentine Theatre (Otto F. Kilves, manager) the Empire Vaudevilleans gave a good show to nice business Nov. 12, 13. Anna Held had a big house 14. Maclyn Arbuckle, 15-17, played to small houses. Bookings: Tim Murphy 19, Marion Mancola 20, 21, Gertrude Coghlan 23, 24.

LYCEUM THEATRE (Frank Burt, manager).—"Cole and Johnson, in 'A Trip to County Down' and 'A Tin Soldier,' held the boards last week, to poor business. 'The Telephone Girl' comes 18-21. The rest of the week is dark.

BURT'S THEATRE (Frank Burt, manager).—"We Uns of Tennessee" and "The Land of the Living" were week 12, to fair business. Week of 18, "Man's Enemy" and "Midnight in Chinatown" are the offerings.

EMPIRE THEATRE (I. H. Garson, manager).—Last week's bill drew a fair business. The new people appearing 19 and week are: The Hawaiian Queens, Joe Welsh, Annie Hart, Phyllis Allen, and Edna Burns, Campbell and Dale and the Gaiety.

NOTE.—E. E. Ford, resident manager of the Empire, severed his connection with the house 12, and expects to return to New York in a few days.

Zanesville.—At Schultz's Opera House (W. D. Schultz, manager) "A Ward of France" came Nov. 18, to fair business. "For Her Sake" came 13, to large business, and was well received. Jefferson De Angellis, in "A Royal Rogue," came to good business and a well pleased audience 12. Booked: Marie Von Wegern, in German opera, 19; John Griffith 23, Thomas Jefferson 24, Williams and Walker 27, Al. G. Field's Minstrels 29.

MEMORIAL HALL (T. F. Spangler, manager).—"The Parker Concert Co., under the auspices of the Star course, came 15, to a large and well pleased audience.

THE LOBBY.—The local lobby will give its vaudeville entertainment week of 26. The bill will be: John Ransome, impersonator; Carrie Graham, as Sis Hopkins; Georgia Gardner and Joseph Madden, Gordon and Lick, musical team, and Rita Redman.

Dayton.—At the Victoria Theatre (C. G. Miller, manager) Minnie Seligman, in "When a Woman Loves," did fair business Nov. 12. The Empire Vaudevilleans gave a splendid entertainment to a good house 14. Gertrude Coghlan, in "Vanity Fair," 17, was well patronized. Coming: Macklyn Arbuckle, in "The Sprightly Romance of Matinee," 19, 20; Modjeska, in "Machbeth," 21. FATE DEVEREUX (Henry E. Seicht, manager).—"On the Sawanaw River," did big business 12-14. "A Homespun Heart" attracted well 15-17. "On the Stroke of Twelve" comes 19-21, Morrison's "Faust" 22-24.

SOLDIERS' HOME THEATRE.—"The Royal Burlesque" came 13 to big business. "On the Sawanaw River" comes 22.

Columbus.—At the Great Southern Theatre (Lee M. Boda, manager) Minnie Seligman played to large audiences Nov. 13, 14. Empire Vaudeville had poor business 16, 17. Booked: Gertrude Coghlan, in "Vanity Fair," 19, 20.

HIGH STREET THEATRE (A. G. Owens, manager).—"The Red Cat Inn" did well 15-17. Coming: Lewis Morrison's "Faust" 19-21. "A Tin Soldier" 22-24.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (A. G. Owens, manager).—"Frank B. Carr's Indian Maidens" had good business 12-14. Due: "An American Gentleman" 19-21.

Steubenville.—At the Olympic (Frank J. Watson, manager) "A Ward of France" gave a fine performance to a big house Nov. 14. "The Flaming Arrow" pleased a very large house 16. Coming: Edward Harrigan 19. "My Aunt's Nephew" 21.

LONDON THEATRE.—Week of 19: Carthy, McClellan and Lucille, Dempsey and Forsythe, Haney and Haney, Mack and Morrow, and the stock in burlesque.

Akron.—At the Grand Opera House (T. K. Abaugh, manager) Marion Manola, in "Friend Fritz," had a large and well pleased house Nov. 15. John Griffith, in "Spartacus," did well 17. Coming: The Highlanders' Band 18, Murray & Mack's "Finian's Rainbow" 19, Thomas Jefferson, in "Rip Van Winkle," 20; Isham's Octoroons 21, 22.

Youngstown.—At the Youngstown Opera House (Eugene Rook, manager) the Wilbur Opera Co. played week of Nov. 5 to fair business. Black Patti's Troubadours, 13, did well. Coming: John Griffith, in "Spartacus," 14; Creston Clarke 15. Marion Manola 17. Edward Harrigan 20. The Howe pictures 21.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the Opera House, now being erected, W. H. Park, of this city, was appointed manager, with Edward M. Stanley, who was manager of the Mill Creek Park Casino last summer, as assistant. The house will be run as a vaudeville resort. An effort is being made to open the theatre Christmas week.

Mansfield.—At Memorial Opera House (E. R. Endly, manager) Marion Manola, in "Friend Fritz," with a good supporting company, deserved the hearty reception accorded her by a large house Nov. 13. Empire Book, pressing "War or Woman" had a top heavy house 15. Bookings: "Finian's Rainbow" 21, "The Telephone Girl" 23, "Little Egypt" 26, Thomas Jefferson, in "Rip Van Winkle," 29.

Marion.—At the Grand Opera House (Chas. E. Perry, manager) "A Tin Soldier," Nov. 16, and the Harry Shannon 12-14, did well. Tim Murphy, in "A Bachelor's Romance," 16, was greeted by a crowded house. Coming: Gertrude Coghlan, in "Vanity Fair," 21; Stetson's "U. T. C." Co. 22. "Sandy Bottom" 23.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee.—There was little cause for complaint the past week, as the attendance was uniformly large. "Miss Hobbs" and "A Runaway Girl" divided the week at the Davidson Theatre. Lella Bronson and Walter Hodgson handled the principal roles in Mr. Jerome's comedy in a highly satisfactory manner. The pleasing feature of "A Runaway Girl" was Arthur Dunn and Clara Belle Jerome. Their rendering of "The Goblins" was the hit of the show. That Mr. Dunn is a decided success as Flipper is evidenced by the fact that he has had a corded him. Manager Theiman Brown offers Creston Clarke, in "The Only Way," Nov. 18-21; "The Tyranny of Tears" 22-24 and Otis Skinner week of 26.

ACADEMY (Edwin Thannhouser, manager).—"Captain Letterhead" was the bill at this house the past week. Eugene Moore and Eva Taylor, as usual, were very successful in the leading roles. For next week Stage Director Paulding has what is classed as the Thannhouser Co.'s most pretentious production since the beginning of its career at the Academy, two years ago, "Julius Caesar," is the offering and it runs high.

ALHAMBRA THEATRE (O. F. Miller, manager).—"A Female Drummer" comes 18, for a week. "McFadden's Row of Flats" played to good houses the past week. McWaters and Taylor, John Price, Robert Johnston, Jerry Sullivan and Harry Watson all contribute to the success of the performance. Week of 25, Cole and Johnson.

BIJOU OPERA HOUSE (John M. Handley, manager).—"The success of the house since Mr. Handley has taken hold has induced several of the local Bijou patrons with a higher standard of attractions. "Shore Acres" comes 18, for week, and will be followed by Litt's production of "Caleb West."

The past week "The Convent's Daughter" was performed by good sized audiences at every performance.

PABST THEATRE (Leon Wachner, manager).—"Sunday, 18, the Wachner Co. will present "Die Goldrube," which will be followed on Wednesday by "Die Goldene Eva."

Business has been steady and everything points to another successful season for Milwaukee's popular German stock co.

STAR THEATRE (F. R. Trotman, manager).—"The City Club, with two excellent burlesques, made good at this house last week. The scenic equipment was elaborate and surpassed any production at the Star this season. Week of 18, Scribner's Gay Morning Glories, followed by the Indian Maidens week of 25.

NEW PALACE THEATRE, under the management of Barney Hall, will open 24, with a curio hall and a vaudeville theatre. James W. Thompson, Sisters McConnell and Kitty Smith, are vaudeville artists engaged for opening week.

NOTES.—Negotiations have been under way for some time past between Manager Edwin Thannhouser and several stock company managers whereby the Academy may become the leading production point on a circuit of the big productions painted by Artist Neville and presented by the Thannhouser Co. will be sent to other cities. Mr. Thannhouser left for New York Wednesday to close the deal for "Julius Caesar" to go around the circuit. "The Milwaukee Opera House" has had a successful season as manager of O. F. Miller's St. Paul Theatre, the Star, were delighted with a visit from Mort the past week. The date of the national meeting of the Elks, which is to be held in Milwaukee, the coming summer, has been changed from week of July to that of July 23. The fact that the committee has decided to spend the sum of $40,000 guarantees that the coming festival is going to be a winner. The first concert of the Milwaukee Maennerchor, with Thomas' orchestra, will take place Nov. 22, at the Pabst Theatre. A. W. Dingwall was in the city the past week. In three weeks he will sail for Europe in search of theatrical novelties.

TEXAS.

San Antonio.—At the Grand Opera House (Dave A. Wells, manager) Thos. Q. Seabrook in "The Rounders," played to good business. Harry Coghlan, 9, 10, had satisfactory business. West's Minstrels had big houses for three performances 11, 12. Coming: Stuart Robinson 23, 24. "A Black Sheep" 25, 26. "The Prisoner of Zenda" 27. "The Christian" 29, Creston Clarke 30, Dec. 1.

EMPIRE OPERA HOUSE (F. E. Brady Jr., manager).—"The Clara Thropp Stock Co., with Clara Thropp as heroine, is now presenting "The Child of the Regiment" to good business.

Houston.—At Sweeney & Combs' Opera House (Ed. Bergman, business manager).—"The Star Boarder," Nov. 8, gave excellent satisfaction to fair houses. "The Rounders," 9, 10 and matinee, had two immense houses at advanced rates of admission; but the show failed to please. Charles R. Hanford and company, in "Private John Allen," gave two performances 12, to fair houses. Due: West's Minstrels 14, Arthur Johnson 16 and 20, Robert Downing 19.

BROADWAY THEATRE (W. C. Reynolds, manager).—"Business splendid. People 12-17: A. Hensley, Gertrude La Tour, Charles Creston, Grace and Della Hartland, Pauline Blossom, Flo Williams, Mack and Elliot, Thillie Melbourne, Billy Gibson, Dee and Grayson, the Hogs, S. J. Paul, Frank McKenzie, Chas. Flanders and W. H. Wright.

PALACE THEATRE (John Callahan, manager).—"Business continues nightly to crowded houses. People 12-17: W. H. Truheart, Alice Dillon, Marjorie King, Jose De Foe, Lulu Lawton, Jessie Lyell, Dora Adams, Helen Dean, Charles H. Ward, George W. Scott, Rose Mitchell, Charles Willibert and Nellie Cook.

Austin.—At the Hancock Opera House (Geo. Walker, manager), Nov. 5, Frederick Warde, in "The Duke's Jester," drew a fair house, which appreciated Mr. Warde immensely. 7, Thos. Q. Seabrooke, advance prices, drew a crowded house. Harry Corson Clarke, in "What Did Tompkins Do?" did well 8.

Galveston.—At Niemeyer's Mascot Theatre (C. H. Niemeyer, manager) week of Nov. 12: Madeline Laverne, Master Joe Niemeyer, Pearl Lamont, Murphy and Hart, Clara Law, Edna Kelly, May Smith, and Coleman and Mox. Business is big.

Waco.—At the Auditorium (Jake Schwarz, manager) "Zaza," Nov. 5, had good business. "The Duke's Jester," 6, had a full house. A flower show will use this house for week ending 17.

Vaudeville & Minstrel.

O. K. SATO writes from Leipzig, Ger., under date of Nov. 9: "I have been at the 'Krystal-Palast' here since Nov. 1. Besides myself there are two other American acts on the bill, the Deonzo Bros., barrel jumpers, and Alfred Arnesen, the hand balancer. Arnesen is the man who, while the Spanish-American war was at its height, went direct from New York to Madrid, Spain. The Deonzos are topping the bill here, and their act is a big card. Lowell and Lowell opened at the Winter Garden, Berlin, the first, and they made a great success. They were immediately besieged by the different agents who want to book them. They are booked in England for almost a year continuously after their Berlin date, so they had their own troubles refusing offers. Kurtz, the juggler, is to arrive from America the latter part of the month, and opens at the Winter Garden, Berlin, Dec. 1. Everhart, the hoop roller, will arrive on the same ship, and will also appear at the Winter Garden. Harbeck, the erstwhile contortionist, who has copied Everhart's act in all the theatrical papers here an ad. calling himself the original Harbeck, and warning managers against imitations. When Everhart arrives there is likely to be a clashing of 'hoops.' For my own private opinion I think it will only tend to help Everhart when he arrives. Here's a pointer for all the jugglers at home who don't feel satisfied with the way they own manager value 'skilled labor': there are no less than three juggling acts on the Winter Garden programme for the month of December, and all from America. They are Everhart, Kurtz, and Derenda and Breen. Rawson and June are in Amsterdam, Kelly and Gillette are at Dresden. Houdini has been held over for a second month at the Winter Garden, owing to the hit he made there and the drawing card he proved to be. He had contracted for Vienna for this month and the directors had to pay the management where he was booked his month's salary for canceling, so he costs the Winter Garden a considerable sum, from which an idea of his success in Germany can be formed. He has already a half dozen imitators and more are arriving by every boat, but he is booked up for years and years, as they say in the play. Catherine Bartho has made good at Dresden."

ROSEMARY LEXON W. WASHINGTON'S MINSTREL CO. —Fred Washington, owner and manager; Walter Brownlee, business manager; George Titchner, stage manager; George Wilson, band master; Oscar Lindsey, orchestra leader; Wm. Phenix, props; Black Hussar Band; Geo. Wilson, Wm. Toomey, H. B. Brown, Oscar Lindsey, Gilbert Robert, Louis H. Brown, Tommie Crosby, Wm. Garland, Harry Massengale, Oscar Paul, James Brown, Skiff, Farrell, Welch, Wm. Reese; Three Norries, Edna Farrell, Reine, Wesley and Corinne, the great American choir, under direction of Paul C. MARGUERITE CLEMENTS is in her eleventh week at the Standard Theatre, Philadelphia, with her illustrated songs. She has played all the leading clubs in Philadelphia lately.

THE CARMEN SISTERS are now on the Keith circuit with their new banjo act. The imitation of a church organ on the banjo, as played by Belle Carmén, is hailed with applause.

LINA BONNE opens on the Kohl & Castle circuit, Chicago, Nov. 19, and after that goes to Australia for one year, under Manager Rickards.

THE FOUR LA MOTHS were last week at the Empire Theatre, Cleveland, and have the Orpheum circuit to follow.

FRED HAXTABLE, of McDonald and Haxtable, and J. B. Walker, late of the Edie Carleton Co., have joined hands.

ALICE WARREN mourns the death of her niece, M. Theresa Mack, who died in Lynn, Mass., Nov. 7. MERRITT and RACELLA were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Landon at their home warming, in Brooklyn, Friday evening, Nov. 16.

JOHNIE LE FEVRE writes that he has received up to date over sixty-five answers to his recent $3 ad. in THE CLIPPER. He has signed with the Gay Masqueraders for the remainder of the season.

BOBHOOD WYKAS, who has been playing dates and street fairs for the past six weeks, is now laying off at his home, Grand Rapids, Mich.

LARRY TOOLEY has received a paralytic stroke affecting his entire left side, including his brain. He is at present in Atlanta, Ga., the city where he received the attack. He will be taken to the home of his daughter at Angus Inn, City Island, N. Y.

THE EARL SISTERS state that they have not signed to go with any manager to Porto Rico, or do they intend to do so.

FLOYD BERNARD has signed for the Jacksonville, Fla., Street Fair and Carnival, Nov. 27-30.

GEORGE LINDSEY and Joseph Madden are playing the Auditorium, Des Moines, Ia., this week, as a special feature at the new house.

MATTHEWS and HARRIS are resting for a little time at their farm, "Ivy City," near Washington, previous to resuming a tour of the vaudeville circuit, with their newest sketch, "Adam the Second." Elison and Errol and Harold S. Godfrey were their guests last Sunday, previous to beginning a two weeks' engagement at the Grand Opera House, Washington, on Nov. 19. The last named firm are rehearsing a sketch, by Edmund Day, which they will alternate with "A House Divided," their new sketch, by Arthur J. Lamb. The title for Mr. Day's sketch has not been decided upon, but will in all probability be called "The Lie."

JOSEPH LA FLURE closed the season with Ringling Bros. Circus at Monticello, Ark., Nov. 14, and sailed for New Orleans later in an engagement of ten weeks with Otis Brox in Mexico.

THE SPENCER BROS. have joined V. B. Watson's American Burlesque Co., making their second season.

CHAS. AND MILLE FISHER closed a season of thirty weeks with Ringling Bros.' World's Greatest Shows, and have sailed from New Orleans to the John Orrin Bros. Company for a season of ten weeks, returning to the States in time to join the Ringling Shows.

MADGE FOX is playing a return date at Koster & Bial's this week, and will be a feature with Horner's Dramatic Show at the Bijou Theatre, Jersey City, week of Nov. 26.

LYDIA YEAMANS TITUS and Fred J. Titus sail from Liverpool for New York Nov. 23. On Oct. 26 they attended a reception given by the Lord Mayor of Dublin, Ireland, in honor of Julia Neilson and "other distinguished theatrical visitors to Dublin."

SMITH and YARKE appeared at the Fosters' Fair, Schenectady, N. Y., Nov. 12.

DIXON and HOLMES are with "The Star Boarder" company through Texas.

LA SERIDA played a return date at Dietrich's Casino, New York City, last week, and was engaged for this week, making her seventh engagement at that house.

WILLIAM H. WEST, the well known minstrel, underwent an operation for cancer of the tongue at Dr. Bull's sanitarium, in this city, Nov. 15. The operation was performed by Prof. Erdmann, of 141 West Forty-fourth Street, and Dr. W. C. Gilday, of 130 West Thirty-sixth Street. Mr. West was operated upon for the same disease five years ago. This time the development of the cancer reached dangerous proportions, while he was performing with his company in Los Angeles, Cal., last week. He came immediately to New York. The operation was successful, and he has been removed to the Marlborough Hotel, which he will leave some day next week for Memphis, Tenn., to join his company. The new publication of Madison's Biographical, No. 1, which has undoubtedly been looked forward to eagerly by the large number of performers who have embellished their acts with gleanings from the material in former issues, has been published by Mr. Madison. It is the most pretentious book, up to date, and contains fifty pages, printed on fine paper. The contents leave nothing to be wished for. An unusually large number of parodies, conversations, gags, etc., a comedy act, a new stage song, reminiscences about well known actors, old historic programmes, and a funny afterpiece are a few of the good things offered. The price remains as before, by order of the publishers, numbers the issue can be relied upon to give unlimited satisfaction.

THE BROOKS BROS. played last week with the Robinson-De Vyne Co., and will rejoin the show later in the season. This week the Messrs. Brooks are playing Worcester and Springfield, Mass.

FRED MARTIN, of the Six Seabees, and King and Gray act, is still in America, and did not go to Europe with the troupe.

Review and Comment.—The ripple of excitement attendant upon a presidential election having quickly subsided after the announcement of the result, the time was ripe for new productions in the theatrical field, and consequently there were several interesting events last week to engage the attention of first nighters. Foremost of these was the visit of the eminent English player, John Hare, who, this time, brought with him a most acceptable new play. The production of a new musical work, a London success, was also an interesting event, and the return of Olga Nethersole and her revival of "Sapho" afforded much satisfaction and pleasure. "Slaves of Oplum," a melodrama, in three acts, by M. E. Hanley, had its first metropolitan hearing at the TRINITY AVENUE THEATRE, and a German play, new to this country, was seen at the IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Later in the week a matinee performance for the benefit of a popular player, whom illness forced to retire from the stage, aroused much interest and loosened many purse strings. At the METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE "The Mikado" held the boards for a second successful week. Rumor was rife throughout the week that May Irwin had secured a lease of the ELGIN THEATRE, but while it was generally credited it lacked complete authentication. Business was undoubtedly good at almost all the houses, and the few continued attractions which had previously been the least successful, had increased attendance.....

At the CRITERION THEATRE, on Nov. 12, John Hare, supported by Irene Vanbrugh and the company of the London Globe Theatre, began an engagement, presenting, for the first time in this country, "The Gay Lord Quex," a comedy, in four acts, by Arthur W. Pinero. As a specimen of dramatic art, exemplified in its highest and most pleasing way, we have jointly by dramatist and players, we have no hesitation in pronouncing this the most interesting and important offering of the current season, and consequently the most valuable addition thus far made to the season's record. Were there more dramatists like Mr. Pinero capable of writing original plays of this grade of merit there would be little demand from genuine lovers of dramatic art for plays founded upon even the best of novels."....At the CASINO, on Nov. 12, Messrs. Dunne, Ryley & Fisher presented, for the first time in this city, "Florodora," a musical comedy, in two acts, book by Owen Hall and music by Leslie Stuart.

This work, which is now in its second year at the Lyric Theatre, London, had been extensively heralded and was warmly greeted by a large audience that gave it a favorable verdict upon its merits. . . . Olga Nethersole began on Nov. 12 a brief engagement at WAL-

LACK'S, and was again seen here in "Sappho." The remembrance of the wrongs she had endured here upon her last visit was sufficient to secure for her a greeting that was almost affectionate, and the further demonstrations of delight throughout the performance were the inevitable results of her marvelous skill.

....."Die Goldgrube" ("The Gold Mine"), a three act farce, by Carl Lauf and Wilhelm Jacoby, had its first American production at the IRVING PLACE THEATRE on Nov. 14. Further mention of this event will be found elsewhere in this issue. At the HERALD SQUARE THEATRE afternoon of Nov. 16 a performance of "Arizona" was given for the benefit of Thomas Oberle, who has held the role of Sergeant Kellar in that play. Mr. Oberle has been advised to go to California and there seek restoration of health. Many players and managers contributed toward the benefit fund and a number of well known players appeared as cowboys in the third and fourth acts of the play. Among these were: Augustus Thomas, author of the play; De Wolf Hopper, Edwin Arden, William Courtleigh, Robert Edeson, James T. Powers, Arthur Dwyer, Glen M. Gerson, Henry E. Dixon

Nylon, City M. Greene, Henry E. Dixey, Frank Worthing, W. G. Morse, Albert Bruning, Paul Nicholson and James J. Jeffries. There was realized an amount exceeding $3,600. The same evening Wm. Harworth permanently assumed the role of Sergeant Kellar.....The two companies presenting "Lost River," one in Boston and the other in this city, changed places on the night of Nov. 12 and returned to their respective places upon the following day.....The continued attractions for the week ending Nov. 17 were:

the FOURTEENTH STREET, Rogers Bros. at the VICTORIA, and the stock company at the MURRAY HILL.....The one week stands closing Nov. 17 were: "Two Little Vagrants" at the STAR, "Slaves of Opium" at the THIRD AVENUE, James J. Jeffries, in "The Man from the West" at the Grand Opera House, his

the West, at the GRAND OPERA HOUSE, his first appearance as an actor in this city: "The Young Wife" at the METROPOLIS. E. H. Sothern, who was booked at the HARLEM OPERA HOUSE, was unable to appear on account of the injury to his foot. . . . Variety entertainment was furnished at TONY PAS-

TOR'S, PROCTOR'S, KEITH'S UNION SQUARE, KOSTER & BIAL'S, PROCTOR'S FIFTH AVENUE, the NEW YORK, PROCTOR'S PALACE, the LONDON, the DEWEY, PROCTOR'S ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIFTH STREET, HURDIG & SEAMON'S, the OLYMPIC, the ATLANTIC GARDEN, the LION PALACE, and MINER'S BOWERY and

EIGHTH AVENUE.

N. HASHIM has renewed his lease of Korster & Blal's for one year, with the privilege of a five years' renewal. He now obtains full control of the house upon a fixed monthly payment.

MAY IRWIN is to try a new play at a special matinee on Wednesday, Dec. 12, at the Bijou. It was written for her about a year ago by Ramsay Morris and is called "Madge Smith, Attorney." As parts were originally written in it for Ignacio Martinetti and Joseph Sparks, they have been engaged to create the roles. The play will be provided with new scenery, and, in fact, be given a complete production in every way.

Proctor's Palace (J. Austin Fynes, general manager).—The small old story of a filled auditorium prevailed at Manager Proctor's family resort for vaudeville enjoyment. Lafayette made his first appearance at this house this season, in his illusion entertainment, his so-called travesty of Ching Ling Foo being a remarkably clever performance, as were his makeup and imitations of Sousa, Le Roy and Clayton. In "Hogan of the Hansom," made a success in their act, they appearing in the place of Williams and Tucker, Miss Williams being sick and probably unable to appear for a week. Montgomery and Stone, in black face comedy, scored heavily. Smith, Doty and Coe presented their remarkably good instrumental turn and were cordially received. Schuyler Sisters rendered several vocal selections in a very pleasing manner. De Witt and Buras, as eccentric epigrammatists and acrobats, gave a novel performance that won for them marks of approbation; Maud Meredith rendered ballads in an acceptable manner; Mlle. Flora, in her comedy on the wire, merited and received approbation of a marked degree, her comedy work being especially good, and in the wire act, in addition to clever performance, she presented a strikingly taking picture; Josie and Willie Barrows sang and danced themselves into the good graces of the audience; Lou Willis was a musical comedian of merit, and Ed Rogers was also good in his song and dance efforts. Paley's kaleidoscope continued to demonstrate its hold upon the affections of the patrons of this house, and new views of foreign travel were entertainingly and instructively shown. Sunday's concert drew the usual packed houses, the following serving to keep the crowds present in good humor and send them home perfectly satisfied: Ugo Biondi, cleverly imitating John D. Gilbert, Blinn and Blinn, Post and Clinton, Sisson and Wallace, Bennett and Young, Dorge Sisters, John and Nellie Doner, John R. Hartly and the moving pictures, etc.

Bijou Theatre (H. E. Sire, manager).—May Irwin and her capable supporting company like apparitions established themselves here for a long stay, and "The Belle of Bridgeport" is clearly proving her popularity by the number of visitors who seek her at her regular reception hours.

Irving Place Theatre (Heinrich Conrad, manager).—"Die Goldschmied," a farce, in three acts, by Carl Lauff and Wilhelm Jacoby, was produced here Nov. 14, for the first time in America, with the following cast: Eduard Timmerdorf, Gustav von Seiffertitz; Mina, Meta Banger; Betty, Marie Reichardt; Paul, Max Hansen; Robert Kessler, Otto Orther; Vice Consul Hellwig, Franz Kierschner; Ernst, Adolf Zimmermann; Theodore Bennecke, Max Hanser; Therese Johanna, Claussen Koch; Franz Brommel, Geo. Baselt; Papi Gachwandler, Frida Brandt; Krug, Adolf Teley; Fanne-muller, Julius Ascher; Lotte, Gussie Frankel. The play is lively in action and one that would undoubtedly make a hit in English, as the work of the authors has been favorably known through "All the Comforts of Home." In their latest production the principal figures of the melodrama, who objects to a concert hall being conducted next to his residence, and brings suit against the nuisance, until he finds out that by the death of an uncle he becomes the owner of the concert hall. He decides to run the hall without the knowledge of his family, as the profits are large. He is plained to his wife that his income is derived through a cousin's annuity. Through a clause in the uncle's will a yearly allowance is granted to a son-in-law, Peppi, and as Timmerdorf complains on her personally to make payments, Timmerdorf was at his best in the role of Timmerdorf and the support was equally capable.

Koster & Bial's Music Hall (N. Hashim, manager).—A continuation of the excellent bills weekly presented here brought a number of favorites to the fore and Nov. 10, and the programme proved exceedingly enjoyable from start to finish. Martine was in the van on the programme, and his mimicry was well appreciated, while the marvelous Seymours offered their capital foats to much applause. Chas. Rossow appeared in his clever singing act, and the new Francis presented their capable operetta, "The Fryst." Alf. Grant scored well with his stories; O'Brien and Havel gave their thoroughly enjoyable act with unmistakably gratifying effect; Madge Fox unveiled a deal of vivacity into her songs; John D'Alma's dogs and monkeys performed some out of the ordinary feats; the Rossow Midgits were immediately installed into the good graces of the audience, and Nellie Burt proved very pleasing in her singing contribution. Ralph Johnson's trick act brought him stories well merited plaudits. Tenley & Simonds' Irish comedy act elicited laughs in plenty, while the Toozoonia Troupe of Arabs proved a telling card, and were vociferously cheered; Pauline Hall, although suffering from a cold, sang very sweetly, under the circumstances, and was repeatedly permitted to withdraw, while Rita, in her poses and dances, was plainly well liked by the audience.

Third Avenue Theatre (A. H. Sheldon, manager).—"Remember the Maine," Lincoln J. Carter's patriotic production, is the bill for this week, and was liberally applauded Monday night. The cast: Harry Marshall, Herbert Denton; Lieutenant John Haswell, Clarence Bellare; Count Fernando, A. S. Chipman; General Fitzhugh Lee, U. S. Consul, Lew Hopkins; General Weyler, Jose Cabano; Grant, Porgan; Patrick Muller, Irving Wung Wing; Anson Varney; Capt. Sigbee, Phil Riser; Julius Lorady, Ed. Morris; Pierre Lusendo, John Haswell, in disguise; Capt. Frank Stevens, Robert Irving; Fidel Rascol, Chas. Swift; Andrews Sobra, Harry Wilson; Kate Walters, Edith Damber; Mary, Lottie B. Claire; Gale; Sonoria Romora Romora; Beatrice Thorne, W. F. Mann is manager. H. B. Morgan, business representative; Clarence Bellare, stage manager. Next week the Blondells, in "The Katzenjammer Kids."

Dewey Theatre (Sullivan & Kraus, managers).—Fred Irwin's Big Show opened a week's engagement at this house Nov. 19, with a fair sized audience on hand afternoon and evening. The show has been seen and reviewed at other local houses this season, hence it is not necessary to give extended comment. The opening and closing burlesques are "The Man with the Funny Touch" and "A Good Thing," and the olio engages the services of Mildred Stoller, Fitzgibbons, McCoy and Fitzgibbons, Bernard and Watson, the Fauvette Twin Sisters, the Two American Macs and the Eight Jor-nellina. Next week the European Sensation.

Miner's Eighth Avenue Theatre (Edwin D. Miner, manager).—W. R. Watson's American Burlesquers is the current attraction, and opened to a good house on Monday, Nov. 19. The show has been reviewed while at other local houses. Mr. Watson and Miss Du Free head the company and have capable associates in the Empire Comedy Four, Les Voujeres, Diamond and Marsh, and Little Gerlie Keith. Next week the Bohemian Burlesquers play a return engagement.

Daly's (Daniel Frohman, manager).—The deservedly popular musical comedy, "San Toy," is now in the eighth and last week of its run. It will be followed by the beginning of the regular season of the stock company, the first offering of which will be a four-act modern comedy drama, by Walter Firth, entitled "A Man of Fort." Criterion Theatre (Chas. Frohman, manager).—John Hare and Irene Vanbrugh were well deserved fame last week in "The Gay Lord Quex." It is difficult to decide which is the more deserving of commendation, the play or the performance thereof. Both are excellent, and those who are sincerely interested in dramatic art should not fail to see this work.

Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre (J. Austin Fynes, general manager).—Business here continues good. For week of Nov. 19 Ugo Biondi, the protean actor, heads the bill, and at the opening performances Monday he was accorded a rousing reception. He appeared in a sketch, entitled "Scandal in a Restaurant," in which he impersonated six characters, male and female, and his changes are made with such rapidity that at times it seems well nigh impossible that it can be only one performer who is appearing. His imitation of celebrated composers also won him great applause. Henri French, in his bicycle and juggling act, again met with great success. His performance throughout is clever, and the approval extended to him was well deserved. Papinta, with her myriad dances, was retained, and continued to be a leading feature of the bill. McIntyre and Heath, in their black and white comedy, were also good. Foy and Clark, in their grotesque comedy act, were also good laugh makers. Other well liked numbers were furnished by the Bunth and Rudd Co., in a grotesque act; John E. Camp, monologist; Charlie Vance, in songs; Maxwell and Dudley, in a sketch; Gaudino, clay modeler; Frank and Don, comedians; Burt and Bergrath, singers and dancers, and the kalatechnoscope, with new views. The Sunday concert, 18, was given by a good array of talent, and was heartily appreciated by good sized crowds.

Metropolitan Opera House (Maurice Grau, manager).—A house well filled in every part greeted the Grau-Savage English Grand Opera Co. Nov. 19, when "Esmeralda," a grand opera, in four acts, music by A. Goring Thomas, book by Alberto Randegger and Theo. Marzials, was given its first American production. The cast was: Esmeralda, Mlle. Capetaine; John D. Gilbert, Blinn and Blinn, Post and Clinton, Sisson and Wallace, Bennett and Young, Dorge Sisters, John and Nellie Doner, John R. Hartly and the moving pictures, etc.

London Theatre (James H. Curtin, manager).—Louis Roble's Knickerbockers is the attraction for this week, and the excellent reputation acquired by Mr. Roble's attractions in former seasons and in earlier engagements this year served to fill the house Monday evening, Nov. 19. The house is staged with the usual lavishness and attention to detail characteristic of the management, and the comedy element is looked after well by a bunch of comedians, headed by Bert Leslie. In the first part, Mr. Leslie played the role of the "tough guy" in an original manner, and raised a laugh through his quaint methods and expressions. Fred M. Cady, Al. Carleton, Chas. O. Rice, Joseph Wheeler played suitable roles, and Sophie Leslie, as Mag, contributed a striking character. The costumes were handsome and the music numbers made a hit. The Three Wright Sisters, in beautiful dresses of pink color, were well applauded for their clever dancing. Rice, Cady and Vedder, in "A Triple Mistake," introduced laughable comedy and line singing and dancing. The Brothers La Moyne followed in their grotesque bar act, assisted by Speddy, the bag punching dog; Carleton and Terry, in duets and solo songs, which were exceptionally well presented. Bert and Sophie Leslie, in their show-chow of comedy talk and singing, closed the olio with a rush to laughter. In the last act, the title of the burlesque, and it depicts the adventures of two Irishmen in the gay French capital. The costumes for this production are a fine study of effect in colors. "My Curly Kinky Dove," sung by Wm. Terree and the company, was a very pretty number. The pharmacists and the other characters in the idea in costume and song. Bert Leslie, as Willie Wise, caused amusement through his extravagant portrayal of a Jockey. Next week, the Victoria Burlesquers.

Tony Pastor's Theatre (Tony Pastor, manager).—Nov. 19-24 is "circuit week" at the old stand, and the programme is bobbing up at almost every alternating number. Good acts they are, too, and beholders are treated to many rare results in the art of doing "stunts" in mid air and on the stage. Dixon, Bowers and Dixon, with their rattling singing, acrobatic and dancing act, hold the chief station in billing and atop the list of hits, with Cook and Sonora, another act with a tinge of acrobatics, a close second in favor. The Meeker-Baker Trio have "fun with the clowns" as their contribution to the circus element, while Silverne and Emorie do rare feats of the singing rings. Satsuma has a juggling specialty, and Morton and Elliott are to the front with musical novelties, Emerson and Omega, the Mannings, and Dashington and Bryant have comedy turns to offer, and the bill is greatly enhanced in merit through the sketch offering, provided by Fred Manning and Lottie Vincent. Billy Link has a good monologue, Louie Dacre returns to present her clever singing turn, and Vic Leonzo and the American Vitagraph complete the programme. There is diversity and diversion aplenty in the bill, and the volume of applause gave evidence of appreciation. For thanking good Genaro and Bailey will top the bill.

Huber's Palace Museum (John H. Anderson, manager).—The multiplicity of curiosities provided for the current days constitutes an attractive offering, as was made plainly evident on Monday, Nov. 19, when the new bill went into effect. Mascot, a talking horse; Mme. Meyers, a lady with whiskers; White Moon's Indian Village; Moulton, a ventriloquist, and Capt. Chittenden, globe trotter, are the leaders in the curio hall. On the stage, Manager Anderson gave an excellent vaudeville show held sway. Among the entertainers are Lottie West Symonds, Fred Roberts, Fannie Lewis, the Bartons, the Mayos, the Green Sisters and others.

Murray Hill Theatre (Henry V. Donnelly, manager).—"Sheridan, or the Maid of Bath," was produced Nov. 19, considering the peculiar construction of the play, it was well presented. Wm. Bramwell, as Sheridan, looked and acted the part. Thos. L. Coleman, as David Garrick; Walter Allen, as Michael Kelly; Wm. Redmond, as Dr. Linley; Charles E. Waldron, as Captain Pamier; John Westley, as Captain Matthews; Laura Hope Crews, as a vivacious Elizabeth Linley; Mrs. Thos. Barry, as Lady Shuttlecock; and Rose Stuart, as Lady Erskine, gave excellent performances. Next week, "Giorgina."

Proctor's Theatre (J. Austin Fynes, general manager).—Good bills and good business rule at this popular resort. The current bill commencing Nov. 19 is topped by Tag-Blone, a danseuse who won favor. Charles T. Aldrich, in his Ching Ling Foo burlesques, held over and continued to win laughter and applause for his clever work. The Harrows-Lancaster Co., in "Tactics," gave entire satisfaction, and fully earned the approbation shown by the audience. Juan Calcedo, king of the bounding wire, once again proved his right to this title, and deserved the storm of applause which was won by his clever and daring feats. Charles H. Sweet, the musical burglar, was entertaining and met with instant favor. Ida Van Sien and company, in their sketch, entitled "A Sporty Education," were as pleasing as ever. Other good numbers were furnished by: Lawrence Richardson, boy wonder; the Sankey Bros., novelty athletes; Laura Comstock, in songs; Collins and North, comedians; Ida Marie Rogers, comedienne; Chris Green, black face comedian; Gray-Stephens Co., in a sketch, introducing the Landseer Dogs. The kaleidoscope was retained in favor. The usual Sunday concert was given 18, to big business.

Star Theatre (E. J. Nugent, manager).—This house was packed to the limit of its seating and standing room capacity on Monday, Nov. 19, when there was presented, for the first time in this city, by Chas. E. Blaney, "An African King," a five act melodrama, by Madeline Merrill and Chas. E. Blaney. The play was originally acted Nov. 12, at the Hartford (Ct.) Opera House. The scene of action is laid in the Transvaal, near Lady-smith, during the opening of the British Boer war. The Queen's Cavalry, in love with Katherine Livingston, a niece and ward of Gen. Marque, of the Boer forces, Col. Marque, a son of the general, is also in love with his cousin Katherine, and places under arrest Col. Winston, who is a Boer. Col. Marque, in order to see his love, tries to capture him from certain war papers, which the colonel has secured from a spy for the Boers. During the controversy regarding the papers they are passed to Lieut. Persey, a war correspondent, who destroys them, thus leaving no evidence against Col. Winston on which he could be held. The first act is closed with the ultimatum of Oom Paul declaring war. In the second act Col. Winston is discovered in the sitting room of the general's house, which is being used as a hospital for the Boers. Col. Marque, who is a Boer, tells Katherine that her lover is seriously wounded and at the outpost house. She writes a letter asking him to meet her at the outpost, as she has something to say to him. The colonel, acting on this letter, is more in love with his wife, and the Boer king, the African king, in order to save her lover's life, consents to become the wife of Col. Marque, and the marriage is immediately performed in the telegraph station by the army chaplain, Col. Marque, who is a Boer. The African king is brought forth Col. Winston and immediately execute him, and this is prevented by Kahama, the African king, who appears upon the scene with his Zulu soldiers, and the tableau is completed by his order to the African king, the African king, the Black Peril. This African king has become the willing slave of Katherine, for the nursing on her part of some of his people, and he is always in evidence to protect her at all times. The fourth act shows the interior of the Livingston Diamond Mine, and imprisonment of Katherine, the African king, the Boer king, the war correspondent and several others, who are rescued just in time, before the explosion of the mine by Col. Marque, who seeks to destroy them all, and thus gain possession of the property belonging to Katherine. In the last act all things are made right by the killing of Col. Marque by Coralie, a Malay spy, who was the mistress of Col. Marque. As soon as she discovered that he had become married to Katherine by a forced marriage her jealousy overcame her love, and she stabbed him. This leaves Katherine free to marry her own true love, Col. Winston. The presenting company carried the play with considerable skill, and the many stirring scenes evoked the enthusiasm of the tremendous audience in attendance. The scenery is adequate and in some acts very elaborate, and, together with other necessary accessories, constitutes a very complete production. The reception of the play by the audience in attendance at its local initiation would seem to indicate an immediate success and a bright future. The cast: Col. Marque, W. A. Whitecar; Lieut. Persey, Jas. F. Kelly; Jacob, Fred Lotte; Kahama, Laurens Hascall; O'Flarey, W. H. Gough; Stelton, Ed. Cable; the Spy, Jas. A. Boshell; Private Lennox, S. F. Calms; Telegraph Sergeant, Wm. Redmond; Thos. Steadman; First Orderly, F. McTen Broeck; Second Orderly, P. Browning; Boer Runner, Walter Bennis; Scout, Wm. Plantan; Katherine Livingston, Olive White; Polly Stelton, Dorothy Kent; Coralie, Rolinda Bainbridge; Mrs. Persey, Jennie Christie. In the original production, Thos. Steadman played Col. Winston, Chas. Mantion the Spy and F. H. Cumings Private Lennox. Next week, "The Great Train Robbery."

Forty-eighth Street Theatre (J. Wesley Rosenquest, manager).—"Lost River" continues to flow tranquilly along, accumulating profits for its promoters and delighting the crowd which gathers to witness its stirring scenes. Violet Rand has succeeded Mary Saunders as the heroine. The play began its eighth week Nov. 19.

Casino (Geo. W. Lederer, manager).—The new musical comedy, "Flordora," which came to this house last week with the stamp of London approval, has been a great success, and seems to have a prospect of a successful run.

Lycium Theatre (Daniel Frohman, manager).—Annie Russell, in "A Royal Family," continues to be so successful at this house that it is probable that she will remain in New York throughout the season. She is now in the twelfth week of her engagement, and remains at this house until Feb. 2, when she will probably move to another metropolitan theatre.

Garrick Theatre (Chas. Frohman, manager).—Wm. H. Crane, in "David Harum," is reaping a fine harvest. He is now in the eighth week of his engagement, and has had the S. R. O. sign in constant use. The popularity of the book, and of Mr. Crane, attracts crowds of out of town visitors.

Empire Theatre (Chas. Frohman, manager).—John Drew, in "Richard Carvel," entered on Nov. 19 upon the eleventh week of his engagement, with the record of crowded houses unimpaird. Mr. Drew will continue to present this week of her engagement, and remains at this house until Feb. 2, when she will probably move to another metropolitan theatre.

Knickerbocker Theatre (Harry Mann, manager).—Maude Adams is now in the fifth week of her engagement, presenting Restand's "Aladdin." The advance sale was very heavy, and up to date there has been large attendance.

Wallack's (Thos. Moss, manager).—Oiga Netherole entered on Nov. 19 upon the second week of her engagement. "Saphro" is still her offering, and those who have not yet seen her in this play should not neglect this fleeting opportunity. Her engagement in this city is limited to three weeks, and it will be well to make early application for seats.

Manhattan Theatre (Brady & Ziegfeld, managers).—"Her Majesty," with charming Grace George in the role of the youthful queen, is a very clever and amusing play. It is now in the sixth and last fortnight of its run.

Keith's Union Square Theatre (E. F. Albee, general manager).—Reassured by the presence of Mrs. Katherine Bloodgood in the current bill, several boxfuls of society folk ventured to do the vaudeville here on Monday evening, Nov. 19. There was a special setting, a special pianist, a special announcement card and flowers galore for the singer, and she pleased everybody whom she cared anything about and several others in the audience. The genuine feature of the bill, in point of billing, merit and entertainment, was the sketch, "Dicky," which had previously been styled "The Waldorf-Astoria Episode," presented by Clayton White and Marie Stuart, assisted by Belle D'Arcy. The sketch itself is one of the best seen here in many months, and the players kept it radiant with clever character bits and laughable incidents. Clayton White scored an artistic hit in the character "double," as well as in the straight part, and proved himself worthy of his prominent station in the billing. Miss Stuart made a great hit in interpolated specialties, and, with Miss D'Arcy, rendered material aid in bringing the offering to a successful conclusion. Bright comedy is also afforded through Joseph Hart's witty sketch, "Examination Day at School," presented by Al. Leach and the Three Rosebuds, and Lew Bloom, in comedy monologue, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Ellis are seen in "An Artist's Dream," as a prominent feature, and a genuine hit is scored by Leonard and Willy Collin, in a marvelously clever fancy dancing number. The Crane Brothers "Midtown Rubies," are their usual hit, and the bill is completed by specialties presented by the Loken Brothers, whose performances on the elevated bars created enthusiasm; Barrett and Learned, in a comedy sketch; Albert L. Gullie, operatic tenor; the Two Lamonts, acrobats; Eddie Pinaud, trick bicyclist; Chas. Kennan, in a bright monologue number; Grace Alvarez, harp soloist, and the Sisters Lawrence, in songs, dances and acrobatics. The American biograph retains its station in favor through the medium of new views projected in animation.

His furnished much excellent music, his lyric numbers being particularly pleasing. The choruses and chorists are also good. The librettists have likewise done their work well, and taken as a whole, it is a satisfactory work. The production was being well looked after by Edward P. Temple. Grace Golden sang the title role effectively. She took the part of the gypsy, acted it well and rendered the music prettily. Especially well did she sing the air in the first act, for which she received an encore. Grace Van Studdford, as Fleur-de-Lys, had little to do, but did that little well. Philip Broz, sang the role of the gypsy, and was well received throughout the performance. His rendition of "Oh, Vision Enchanting," in the second act, was a particularly praiseworthy effort, and the hearty applause accorded fully warranted a repetition, but he did not respond to the encore. William Paul sang and acted the role of the hunchback capitally, and in the last act was forced to repeat his song, which was rendered with fine effect. Harry Davies, as Gringoire, and E. J. Boyle, as Clopin, were good aids to the leaders. The cast in full: Esmeralda, Grace Golden; Phoebus de Chateaupers, Philip Broz; Claude Frollo, Lam-priere Pringle; Quasimodo, William Paul; Fleur-de-Lys, Grace Van Studdford; Madame Loe, Della Niven; Marquis de Chevreuse, Leslie Walker; Gringoire, Harry Davies; Clopin, E. J. Boyle; Armando Sepplini, conductor; orchestra excellently, with the exception that on one or two occasions the recitations were drowned by the loud playing of the orchestra. The opera will be repeated Wednesday matinee and Friday evening. "Mignon" will be the bill Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings, and "The Merry Widow" will be the bill Wednesday evening and Saturday matinee. Next week, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "H. M. S. Pinafore" will be given in a double bill. For the latter Henry E. Dixey has been especially engaged to play the role of Sir Joseph Porter.

Bohemia Theatre (Edwin D. Miner, manager).—"The Bohemian Burlesquers" is playing a return date this week and opened to good business Monday, Nov. 19. Billy B. Van has recovered sufficiently to play Patsy in the afterpiece, and made his usual hit in "The Scrambled Egg." Ada Lane, stunning as ever in the first part as well as in the burlesque; Andy Gardner, Jack Gardner, Fred Wyckoff, Ed. Johnson and the remainder of the supporting cast united their best efforts to please. In the olio were: Fred Wyckoff, the Lane Sisters, Johnson and Hill, and the Three Gardeners and the Casino Comedy Four. Next week, Harry Bryant's Australian Burlesquers.

American Theatre (J. J. Coleman, business manager).—The stock company opened the week of Nov. 19 with the old and familiar, but ever popular play, "The Two Orphans," before the usual full Monday night house. The play was hand-some as ever. The company gave a thoroughly satisfactory performance. Ralph Stuart made a manly Chevalier, E. L. Snader was excellent as Jacques, and Emile Collins won favor as Pierre. Mary Hampton won new honors as Henrietta. George Willis as Louise was cast in a different role from any in which she has been seen before, but her work fully justified the management in selecting her to play the blind sister. Terese Deagle, a new member of the company, played the roles of the Countess and Marianne. In the latter role she was able to prove her worth, and gave an excellent performance. Julia Blane was a satisfactory La Frochard. The rest of the company gave good support. The cast in full: Chevalier Maurice de Vaudry, Ralph Stuart; Count de Linieres, Frank Lincoln; Icard, Theo. J. Keogh; Jacques Frochard, E. L. Snader; Pierre Frochard, Emile Collins; Marquis de Presley, Wilbur Curry; The Doctor, Herman A. Sheldon; Martin, Jas. Cavanagh; La Fleur, A. E. Dexter; Henrietta, Mary Hampton; Louise, Georgia Welles; Countess de Linieres, Terese Deagle; La Frochard, Julia Blane; Marianne, Terese Deagle; Sister Genevieve, Grace Addison. Next week, "The Power of the Press" will be given. The usual Sunday night concert was given 19.

Weber & Fields' Music Hall (Weber & Fields, managers).—Despite weather conditions and the strong counter attraction of the horse show, "Fiddle-dee-dee" and the burlesque on "Arizona" continue to play to capacity business, and the hearty laughter which fills the house during the performance is evidence that as laugh makers the merry burlesquers have lost none of their potency.

Madison Square Theatre (Chas. Frohman, manager).—Peter F. Dailly, in "Hodge, Podge & Co.," is now in the fifth week of his engagement, and has had no reason to complain of the attendance.

Academy of Music (Gillmore & Tompkins, managers).—James O'Neill, in "Monte Cristo," is having a very successful engagement at this house, where he is now in his fifth week. Messrs. Liebler & Co. have given a fine production of the standard drama, and with Mr. O'Neill and other fine players in the cast it is a very strong attraction.

Garden Theatre (Chas. Frohman, manager).—Richard Mansfield, in "King Henry V.," is now in the eighth and last week of his engagement. On Nov. 23 Sarah Bernhardt and M. Coquelin begin their engagement, with "L'Aiglon" as the offering for the first week.

Broadway Theatre (A. W. Dingwall, manager).—"Fox Queller," now in the third week of its run, is playing to good houses.

Herald Square Theatre (Sam. S. Shubert, manager).—"Arizona" entered on Nov. 19 upon the eleventh week of its run. It is still very prosperous, and is likely to be with us for a long time.

Atlantic Garden (T. Kramer's Sons, managers).—Clemens Brothers, musical clown; Sinclair and Carlisle, in a comic juggling and wire act; the Glenroy Brothers, comedians; the Baileys, colored comedy team; Madeline Burdette, descriptive vocalist, and Sinclair's troupe of performing dogs are the attractions for this week.

Special Notice to Advertisers

The announcement that we would publish a holiday number of THE CLIPPER this year has attracted widespread attention from advertisers, and we are daily in receipt of orders for the insertion of portraits and advertisements in this number. The fact that this hand some issue will be sold at the usual price of ten cents per copy, and that there is no increase in the rates for advertising in the regular advertising pages, insures an unusually large edition and makes it very attractive to advertisers. To issue this special number of THE CLIPPER on its regular day of publication the plans must be made for it several weeks in advance. The number of pages, and the number of illustrations that it will contain, must be known and provided for. In addition to this, the first forms must go to press at least two weeks before the closing of the last form. As these first forms will be on fine paper, and printed with special care, the advantage of having portraits and advertisements in early must be apparent to our patrons as well as a great convenience to us, and we respectfully request that all who desire space in this number will send their orders in at once, together with the copy for their ads. If this matter is delayed there is danger that some will be crowded out. The first orders received will obtain the best positions in the paper, and secure the best results in printing. In making its bow for the first time in holiday attire, THE CLIPPER extends warm greetings to its many friends, thanking them for their loyal support of the "Old Reliable" at all times, and assuring them the same policy that has characterized the sailing of the old ship in the past will be continued, and the bonds of fraternal regard existing between it and its patrons will be cemented and perpetuated.

AN ENTERTAINMENT AND BALL will be given by the executive staff of Hurlitz & Seamon's Music Hall, consisting of Frank Gersten, chairman; Leon Berg, Joe Glask, Sol Schwartz and Harry Hurlitz, at the Lenox Lyceum, on Sunday evening, Jan. 20, 1901. Vandeville will be presented through the courtesy of Hurlitz & Seamon, after which there will be a dance. The affair will be under the direction of Hurlitz & Seamon, and many have volunteered their services. The staff are sparing no expense to make the affair a social success as well as a financial success.

Harlem.—At the Harlem Opera House (Alex. Lichtenstein, manager) this house was dark all of last week, Mr. Sothern being unable to appear. Francis Wilson and company, in "The Monks of Malabar," will be the attraction for this week. There was a large gathering at the opening performance Nov. 19, and the advance is reported as being good. Next week, "San Toy."

Metropolitan (Henry Rosenberg, manager).—Joe Martin, in "Kerry Dow," opened 19, for a week, and met with a royal welcome from a large audience. The supporting company was capable in every respect, and a week of good business is assured.

Proctor's One Hundred and Twenty-Fifth Street Theatre (J. Austin Fynes, general manager).—Notwithstanding the war weather, it had no effect on the attendance during the week, the house being crowded both afternoon and evening. An excellent bill was presented for the approval of the patrons of the house 19. It includes: James J. Morion, monologist; Alcide Capetaine, acrobat; Candia and Carleton, in "The Hoodoo"; Flinn and Blinn, comedians; Conway and Leland, monoped "cyclists"; the Avery, Bennett and Young, MacFayden and Rayal, and the new picture kalatechnoscope.

Hurlitz & Seamon's Music Hall (Ben Hurlitz, manager).—The present week's bill should please most any one, being a very attractive one. The olio includes: Kara, the juggler; Peck and Collins, banjoists; Tom Lewis and Sam Ryan, in sketch; the Hockings, Hyman and Hama, the Herne Bros., Zeb and Zilo, Edna Collins, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sidman. With such an array of talent there can not be a vacant seat during the entire week. Next week, Harry W. Williams' Own Co.

Olympic (Thos. W. Valentine, manager).—Ed. Rush's Victoria Burlesquers holds the bar for the present week. The usual crowd turned out to welcome the company. The first part, entitled "A Nightmare," gave all the members of the company a chance to display their ability and costume. The olio includes: MacFarty, Rawson and Bailey, Al. C. Lawrence, De Groff Sisters, and Markey and Stewart. The show concludes with the burlesque, "Forbidden Fruit," in which all the members contribute to the fun. Next week, the Broadway Girls.

Harlem Wonderland (Jas. Shea, manager).—A good show and good business generally go together, and this was the case during the past week at this house. The bill week of 19: Enoch, "man of fish," is still a hit; C. W. March, fire king, and Alzomara, John, the man of the first curio floor. Nicola, the Wizard, and Big Thunder and his canoe, that he used in coming from Maine to Washington to see the Great Father, are features in second curio floor. In the theatre are Strand and Strand, J. W. McConnell, Cor-alie and Harrigan, Jerry Horner and the St. Alvas.

Brooklyn.—Daniel Frohman's stock company began its annual engagement at the Montauk Theatre (Mrs. Isabel Sinn Hecht, manager) Nov. 19, in "The Mosses of the Mountains." This play will be presented during the entire engagement, except Saturday matinee, when will be given Henry Arthur Jones' comedy, "The Manoeuvre of Jane." In the company are John Mason, Charles Walcott, William Courtenay, James Lee Furney, Philip Cunningham, William E. Owens, John Findlay, Hilda Sponge, Elizabeth Tyne, Mrs. Walcott, Rhoda Cameron, Gertrude Henriques, Ethel Horwich, Beatrice Morgan, Allison Skipworth and Blanche Kelleher. Next week, "The Rogers Brothers in Central Park."

Columbia (J. L. McDonald, manager).—Considerable interest is being manifested in Joseph Jefferson's engagement here for the current week. He will present several plays while here, opening 19, with "Rip Van Winkle," before a large and fashionable audience. This piece will be repeated Tuesday and Thursday evenings and Wednesday and Saturday matinee. On Wednesday and Friday evenings "The Rivals" will be given, and on Saturday evening a double bill will be presented in "Oricket on the Heath" and "Lend Me Five Shillings." Next week, Richard Mansfield, in "Henry V."

Grass (Law. Barker, manager).—James J. Jeffries, champion pugilist, presented a play here 19, new to the theatregoers of the Western District, called "The Man from the West," by Clay M. Greene. There are a number of exceedingly interesting and thrilling scenes, and Mr. Jeffries is given ample opportunity to demonstrate his ability to deal with thugs and villains. He does his work to the entire satisfaction of the gallery. The play kept the house, which was tested to its seating capacity, continuously interested. Several clever specialties were introduced during the action of the play, and all were well liked judging by the applause. The piece is handsomely staged, and some of the scenes are nearly perfect in realism. Next week, "The Village Postmaster." BIJOU (Lester Parker, manager).—Chauncey O'Leary began a two weeks' engagement here 19, in "Mourning," and as is usually the case when he comes here the house was packed, the greater majority being of the gentler sex. During the play Mr. O'Leary sang in his sweetest voice, "Molly O," "The Auld Conntree," "The Little Christmas Tree," "She and I Together," and other delightful ballads not previously heard here. The play is beautifully staged in point of scenery and costuming. The scenery is new throughout, and was painted by John Young and Homer F. Enmons. HYPER & BEHMAN'S (Hyde & Behman, managers).—Ten big acts are given here this week. Two large audiences were present at the afternoon and evening performances given 19. The headlines are Clifford and Ruth, who appear in a new sketch, others on the bill are: The Merry Mortons (Sam, Kitty and Clara Louise), who present their clever dancing act; Smith and Fuller, in a musical act; the Mims Four, who act and sing well, presenting a burlesque of "The Private Secretary"; the St. Onge Brothers, trick bicycle riders; Zazelle and Vernon, in an acrobatic act called "The Clown and the Tumbler"; the Misses Lawton and Haskell, who sing some new songs well; Budd Brothers, numbers and burlesque boxers; Clemence Sisters, in operatic selections; and Lawrence Crane, card manipulator and sleight of hand tricks. Next week Robert Hilliard heads his specialty company.

EVANS (Wm. L. Bissell, manager).—Manager Bissell's own Pads and Follies Co. will furnish the entertainment for the patrons of this house for the current week. They drew two large audiences, afternoon and evening, 19. The show opens with a skit, entitled "Tim Sullivan's Chowder." In the olio that follows are: The Merry Mortons, singers and dancers; Barry C. Thompson and Anna Carter, in "My Wife's Brother"; Bimm Bomm, B'rrr, a trio of musical comedians; Otis Shattuck and Minnie Bernard, in "Don't Leave the Room," and Mark Bennett and Al. Rich, "At Camp in the Philippines." The show concludes with an up to date travesty entitled "A Night on the Boulevard." Next week, Harry Morris' Twentieth Century Maids.

AL. REEVES' MUSIC HALL (Thomas D. Van Osten, manager).—The Oriental Burlesque presents a very clever and pleasing show here this week, opening with a matinee before an appreciative audience. The performance begins with a funny musical skit, called "A Hebrew Serenade," which serves to introduce the entire company. During the action of the burlesque some really clever singing and other features are introduced. The olio included: Harry, eccentric singer; Geo. E. Scanlan and Pearl Stevens, in "After the Review"; Rita Victoria, in contortion and acrobatic act; Phil Mills and Ruth Beecher, in "Filtration"; Evans and Vidocq, comedians; the Rice Brothers, the Chinamen and the Rubes; John E. Howley and Allie Leslie, buck dancing and singing. All to conclude with a one act burlesque, entitled "The Kiah's Hotel." A day of pleasure is given as a grand finale. Next week, Rider's Night Owls.

AMPHION.—David Belasco's successful farce, "Naughty Anthony," with the charming and pathetic Japanese story, "Madam Butterfly," as a curtain raiser, is the double bill which Manager H. Cohen offers this week. On the opening night, 19, the house was crowded from orchestra to gallery. To most of the theatregoers hereabouts Mr. Evans is familiar as the McCorker, of "Parlor Match" fame, and they gave him a most cordial welcome when he appeared in the role of Professor of Moral Culture, in "Naughty Anthony." He has many opportunities for displaying those abilities which brought to the "Parlor Match" money and fame. He is supported by a competent company of players, notably Valerie Berger, who, as the hostess model, made a decided hit; Dan Mason, Helela Phillips, Annie Ward and J. H. Professor of Moral Culture, in "Naughty Anthony." The play is one of the most charming little plays seen here in years. It is full of deep feeling and artistic daintiness. The scenery and stage effects are exceptionally good. Business last week was large. "Hearts are Trumps" is the attraction for the week.

GATRY.—"The Village Postmaster," breathing the atmosphere of country life, is the attraction which Manager Bennett Wilson offers his patrons this week. Though the play is familiar to this part of town, the story it tells is as popular as ever. The house was crowded at the opening performance night 19. Archie Boyd, as of yore, essays the part of the country office holder, and he has the support of a well balanced company. The stage realism shown in the "training dog" incident was received with as much applause as when the rainstorm of the real water was first produced. Business last week was large. Coming week of 26, "The Kery Goo."

EMPIRE.—Manager Clark had a crowded house night of 19, when Harry Bryant's Australian Burlesque opened a week's engagement. There is a big chorus of comely women seen in the play, and the burlesque is a well staged and well acted affair. The olio brings forward Harry Bryant, with his humorous remarks; Perry and Burns, Irish comedians; Leo and Chapman, with their trick donkey; Bryant and Saville, in a musical act; Nolan and White, in a new sketch; Perry and Hyland, dancers, and Kennedy and Quattrelli, jugglers. Coming 26, "The Broadway Burlesque."

PAYTON'S.—Treasurer Percy Rankin reports the largest advance sale this week since Mr. Payton took the house. The play is "The Charity Ball," and every effort has been made to make it of the most finished production. The different members of the stock company are assigned to parts which fit their abilities to a nicety, and the stage settings have been carefully attended to. Miss Reid plays Ann Orger, and incidentally displays some handsome new gowns. Mr. Payton is given the comedy part of Alec Robinson. The opening performance, 19, was crowded. Big business last week. The underline for week of 26 is "A Midnight Follies."

NOVELTY.—Manager Williams presents a varied bill this week. The bill is made up of Mme. Gertrude Planka and her trained lions, Richard Harlow, in female impersonations; H. Murphy and Maudie Allen, in the sketch, "The Fugitive Girl"; Hal Stephens and his company, in the sketch, "A. A. M." Smith and Campbell, in a new sketch; Draxwe, the juggler; Hendrix and Prescott, singers and dancers; Girard and Travis, in songs and moving pictures; and Mous, Prevat, mimic and impersonator. A crowded house marked the opening performance 19. Big business last week.

BROOKLYN MUSIC HALL.—The bill which manager Williams offers here is headed by Edward M. Faver and Edith Sinclair, who present their sketch, "The Magicians." The others are: Nat. M. Willis, in his character of "The Happy Tramp"; Harry Thompson, in "The Fugitive Girl"; and Upton Flat, "The Automobile Girl." Howard Brothers, in selections on the banjo; Artie Hall, Georgia coon shouter; La Moore and Steele, in an act on the flying rings; and Pierce and Kibort, song illustrators. The opening house was large. Business continues good.

UNIQUE.—There was a big audience present night of 19, when Manager Frank Carr presented Fred Rider's Night Owls Burlesque. The opening performance 19 was to a big house. A laughable burlesque, called "A Hot Time," begins the performance, and the burlesque, "The Forbidden Sweets," closes the show. The olio: Mitchell and Love, singing and talking comedians; McCole and Carey, in their funny sketch, "An Irish Landlord"; the Four St. Vins, acrobats and contortionists; Healy and Farnum, comedy dancing duo; Charles H. Duncan, with some new songs, and the original Newboys' Quartet. Crowded houses last week. The underline for week of 26 is "Pulse of New York."

NEW YORK STATE.

ALBANY.—Theatre lobbies filled with first nighters and packed houses ruled during the week just passed.

EMPIRE THEATRE (J. W. Henocksburg, resident manager) had a notable introduction of a new opera Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 12, 13, in "Sweet Anne Page." Lulu Glaser and a very strong company made an immediate and appreciative response. The show was on her and the opera. It is the work of Louis De Lange and Edgar Smith, music by W. H. Neidlinger, and the very big houses were unmistakably in the city in the opening. The record breaking houses for the season, Mary Manning appeared in "Janice Meredith," 16, 17, completely packing the theatre at three performances. Mrs. Leslie Carter, in "Zaza," is due 19; Tale's spectacular production, "The Evil Eye," 20; "The County Fair," 21, and Melbourne McDowell, in "The Odora," 22.

HARMANUS BLECKER HALL (H. R. Jacobs, manager) came in for a strong following during the week, the Geo. Wilson Stock Co. giving a list of popular plays, changing the bill afternoon and evening. Popular prices and good attractions have made this house a great success. The next announcement is "The Span of Life," 19-21.

PROCTOR'S THEATRE (Philip F. Nash, resident manager) could have been filled twice over at each performance during the past week, as people streamed flocked to see the show. Lockhart's elephants scored heavily. Flatow and Dunn, in black face; Lavender Richardson, Laura Comstock-Sankey Brothers, Lou Wells, Terry and Hester, and once more the popular kalatechroscope, with some new pictures. For 19 and week: Wright Huntington and Co., in "The Stolen Kiss"; Brothers Damm, Post and Clinton, Louise Gunning, Glor Bros., Armstrong Bros., the Dorge Sisters and the picture machine.

GATRY THEATRE (Mrs. Agnes Barry, manager) cheered burlesque lovers by offering the Rentz-Santley Co. 12-14, in a particularly pleasing bill. The olio: Blanche Latell, Boyce and Wilson, Barrington and Martell, Charles Robinson, Selma, James and Sadie Reynolds, and Pok and Trest. "Broadway to Paris" was the up to date farce, and was full of catchy songs and witty remarks. Big business ruled during the engagement. The last half of week, 15-17, Chandler and Robinson's Kings and Queens Burlesque made a good impression and drew crowded houses. In the olio were: Grett and Grett, Arlington and Delmore, Clara Douglas, Sharpley and Darling, and the Three Herbert Brothers. Two burlesques were given, "Kings and Queens Reception" and "A Petrified Man," both of which were very laughable. The next engagements here are the Broadway Burlesque, 19-21, and Harry Morris' Twentieth Century Maids 22-24.

TECK THEATRE (J. Laughlin, manager).—The initial production of Marguerite Merrington's comedy drama of rural New England life, "Old Orchard," opens this week in the hands of the regular stock company. "The Fatal Card" is underlined.

COURT STREET THEATRE (M. S. Schlesinger, manager).—Matt J. Flynn's Big Sensation Burlesque this week, "Mia's City Club Thanks-giving week," Harry Williams' J. Imperial Burlesque deserved and received splendid patronage last week.

CONVENT HALL.—The city fathers are rapidly getting the old army building into comfortable shape. Broome's Chicago Marine Band comes 27. Manager T. P. J. Powers' 48th Highlanders (Toronto) Band delighted his gatherings 18. ST. MARK'S HALL.—Robert Palmer's Hopkins' Trans-Oceanic Co., headed by Will H. Fox and the Seven Allison, this week. Business continues excellent.

LYCEUM THEATRE (J. Laughlin, manager).—"The Gunner's Mate" is the current week's melodrama. Chas. H. Kiehl, "The Evil Eye" next week. "Mae's Enemy" did well last week.

WONDERLAND (M. S. Robinson, manager).—McCarthy and Reno, De Bonair, May Kennedy, Harry M. Ward, Osborne and Weldon, William Duncan, Frogman, Hunsdorfer's steam engines.

CONCERT HALL.—The Leipzig Solo Quartet appeared 19-20.

NOTES.—A series of important musical events are booked at the Teck Theatre, under the local direction of Henry L. Meach, the first of which will be the appearance, Dec. 7, of Dobnanyi, to be followed, 16, by Inuit's Band. Mr. and Mrs. George Henschel and Mrs. Henschel will come later. A series of Sunday concerts will be given at the Court Street by Lampe's Orchestra, of that theatre, beginning 25-26. The Filipino Village concession of the Pan American Exposition will be managed by Percy Moore, who is soon to start for Philippine Islands in behalf of this important exhibit. Some seventy-five national conventions will meet here next summer on account of the exposition. Sheridan Holmes was consulted in Municipal Court 16, in his suit against the Greiner Hotel for damages, on the ground that he should have sued in his right name, Chas. J. Conking.

ROCHESTER.—At the Lyceum Theatre (A. E. Wolff, manager) Mary Manning appeared Nov. 12, 13, as Janice Meredith, to the largest and most enthusiastic audiences of the season. Maclyn Arbuckle, in "The Sprightly Romance of Marsac," 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

BAKER THEATRE (Shubert Bros., managers).—"Caught in the Web" drew large and well pleased houses 12-14. William Rayner, in "Song of Ham," 15-17, proved to be the best colored show seen here in some time. Fifty-fourth Regiment Band, assisted by Esther Kraft, soprano; Thomas Shiel, tenor; and the Arion quartet, had good attendance 18. Booked: Martin's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company, 19-21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

MOCK OPERA HOUSE (J. H. Moore, manager).—Last week's bill was an entertaining one from start to finish, and drew a crowded house at every performance. Bill for 19-22: Lockhart's performing elephants, Press Eldridge, Cooke and Clinton, Booker and Davis, Frances Keppel, Famous entertainers, Molly Fuller and Clever and Kae, and Brosche and Sophie Burman. On 23 the vaudeville show will be moved to Pittsburgh Hall for four performances, to make room for Mrs. Fiske and her production of "Becky Sharp," which comes to this week 23-24.

EMPIRE THEATRE (H. C. Jacobs, manager).—The Gay Morning Glory Burlesque gave a good show to packed houses 12-14. The olio included Emily Wait, Dryden and Leslie, the Broadway Trio, Kherns and Cole, McCabe, Sabine and Mlle. Vera. The European Sensational Burlesque won the approval of the patrons of this house 15-17. Troadero Burlesque Nov. 19-21, "The Real Widow Brown" 22-24.

ELMIRA.—At the Lyceum Theatre (M. Reis, manager) the Bon Ton Stock Co., in repertory, has done exceptionally well the past two weeks. For this week the Macaulay-Patton Dramatic Co. is announced.

DIXIE'S THEATRE (Dixie and Anhalt, managers).—The opening of this new playhouse, Nov. 12, was successful beyond anticipation, good crowds being in attendance during the entire week. The following excellent attractions gained instant favor: Ida Mille and Stuart Braddock, Martinetti and Grasse, Annie Whitney, Humbert and Hephworth, Genaro and Thea, and Kopp, eccentric juggler. The talent this week comprises Maltell and MacDonald, the Garretts, Tru, humorist and musician; Hephworth and Humbert.

RAVINE MUSIC HALL (F. W. McConnell, manager).—Bill for week of 19: Brima Negor, Belle Austin, Prof. James German, Fred Wilson, Chas. Hamer and Flame Sisters. Dorothy Hancock was a warm favorite last week. Business continues good.

TROY.—At Rand's Opera House (Martin & Balligan, managers) "Other People's Money" did good business Nov. 12, 13. Mrs. Fiske, in "Vanity Fair," packed the house 17. "Coon Hollow" due 20, 21. Mildred Holland came in "The Power Behind the Throne" 23, 24.

AMELIA BINGHAM has been booked to appear at the Bijou Theatre to begin late in January and continue until the end of the season. Miss Bingham is organizing a strong company, which she will head, not precisely as star, but as the principal member of an evenly balanced stock company. She will finance and manage the enterprise herself. If her venture meets with success it is her intention to appear in New York and the principal large cities of this country next season and in the Spring of 1902 to take her company to London. She is now in New York, dealing with modern fashionable society in New York.

AUBURN.—Burris Opera House (E. S. Newton, manager).—Nov. 9 William Morris and an excellent company presented "When We Were Twenty-one." Gave the best of satisfaction. "A Lucky Coon" had a poor house 14. Chas. Frohman's Co. presented "The Tyranny of Tears" to good business, and gave an enjoyable performance 15. "The Girl from Calcutta" had a full house 16. The company is a strong one and stage settings elaborate. Coming: F. C. Whitney's production of "No Vads" 20. Mrs. Fiske, in "Becky Sharp," 21; Jett De Angelis, in his new opera, "The Royal Rogue," 22; "Human Hearts" 24, with matinee.

Poughkeepsie.—At Collingwood Opera House (R. B. Sweet, manager) a return engagement of "When We Were Twenty-one" played to a large audience. "A Lucky Coon" had a poor house 14. Chas. Frohman's Co. presented "The Tyranny of Tears" to good business, and gave an enjoyable performance 15. "The Girl from Calcutta" had a full house 16. Mrs. Fiske, in "Becky Sharp," 21; Jett De Angelis, in his new opera, "The Royal Rogue," 22; "Human Hearts" 24, with matinee.

UTICA.—At the Majestic Theatre (Warren E. Day, manager) the week opened with "Reaping the Whirlwind," Nov. 15, to a fair sized audience. "The Girl from Calcutta" did well 14. Lulu Glaser, in "Sweet Anne Page," was the favorite of the week, and drew big 15. William Bonelli, in "An American Gentleman," closed the week, to good business, 16, 17. Coming: "The Belle of Bohemia" 21, "Under the Red Robe" 22, "Secret Service" 23, "The Evil Eye" 24.

GENEVA.—At the Smith Opera House (F. K. Henderson, manager) "The Girl from Calcutta," Nov. 15, and "A Lucky Coon," 13, did poorly. "The Girl that Jack Built," 12, and "The Tyranny of Tears," 14, were both well received. Booked: "Quo Vadis" 21, "Human Hearts" 23, "Under the Red Robe" 24, Martin's "T. T. C." Co. 25, "The Commander" 26, The Black Sensation Co. 29.

CHICAGO.—Anna Held, that vivacious, chic Parisienne, is the particular star of the week. On Sunday night, Nov. 18, she opened a two weeks' engagement at the Illinois Theatre, appearing in "Papa's Wife" and succeeding Julia Marlowe. Aside from Anna Held there is no new comer of particular note, but the good show continues to offer a number of attractions. The usual good vaudeville bills and the regular round of melodrama and burlesque are offered, while the Castle Square Opera Co. appears in a good opera, so that there is entertainment for all tastes. The week just past was an excellent one in the theatrical way. All houses profited well, with the exception of Hurtig & Season's Music Hall, which was forced to close its doors on account of the fire which broke out at the opening of the engagement of "Jim" Corbett and his company. This house, however, is now back in the line again, and there is no reason why prosperity should not continue to dwell with all.

ILLINOIS (Will J. Davis, manager).—The last week of Julia Marlowe's engagement here was marked by a slight falling off in attendance, although receipts kept an account well on the right side of the ledger. All things considered, the engagement of Miss Marlowe must be considered a most notable one. In her new play, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," she will doubtless score another triumph. Her last week on the city was culminated by tilt with the author of the novel. In the good old days of Mary Tudor court ladies, it is recorded, swore frequently and fluently. So in the book Mary Tudor eloquently consigns her enemies to perdition, and Paul Kester, the dramatist, followed the author by carrying her words into the play. At the rehearsals Miss Marlowe absolutely refused to sell her lips with the naughty language Mary Tudor is alleged to have uttered. Mr. Major read his contract to her, in which she pledges herself to follow the lines. But all to no purpose. Miss Marlowe stood firm in her position. Mr. Kester arrived in Chicago the latter part of the week and did something to smooth over matters, but the result of his efforts will not be known until the play is produced in St. Louis next week. The advance sale for "Papa's Wife" is large. It is the first musical attraction of note this season. The company which supports Miss Held includes: Charles A. Bigelow, George Marion, Max Fligman, Dan Collier, Adella Barker, Ida Dargland, Adelard Orton, Blanche West, Bessie Wynne, Anita Austin, Charles Sinclair and a good chorus. After Anna Held comes Ada Rehan, in "Sweet Nell of Old

Drury."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (Harry Hamlin, manager).—William Collier, in "On the Quiet," has drawn splendid houses since his opening. It is likely this good condition of affairs will continue until the end of this fiscal week. He is well suited to the part of Ridgway, and has scored a great hit with the Chicago public. This play is by far the best he has ever offered, and Mr. Collier in takes a long stride to the front in his profession. Mrs. Fiske will be here next week, in "Becky Sharp," an attraction which drew crowded houses last year.

POWERS (Harry J. Powers, manager).—Nat C. Goodwin and Maxine Elliott continue to draw large houses. The engagement will terminate next week, Saturday night. An extra matinee performance will be given Thanksgiving Day. Leon Wachsmen's German Dramatic Co. presented "Die Karlsruher" here Sunday night, 18.

GRAND NORTHERN (D. E. Russell, manager).—A strong company presents this week Stephen Townsend's dramatization of Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's novel, "A Lady of Quality." Eugene Blair is the star of the aggregation. Hilarious "Superba" drew well all last week. "A Female Drummer" is new.

TEARFORD (W. W. Tillotson, manager).—The stock presents this week "Lady Windermere's Fan," one of the best plays in its repertory. The play is unusually well staged. Mr. Wilson, Miss Heals and Miss Whitehouse have the principal parts. Last week was another good one at this house, each day the stock making new friends. The exhibitions of ability that this organization have given this season fully warrant excellent patronage. "The Burgomaster" opens a two weeks' engagement here next week, and while this production has the stage, the stock company will make a brief trip on the road.

McVICKER'S (Jacob Litt, manager).—Saturday night, 24, the curtain will finally be rung down on "Caleb West." During its run large houses have greeted "Caleb West" at every performance. There is as yet no letting up in the demand for seats, but full houses are the rule at this theatre, and rather than wait for the popularity of the play to lessen, the management announces a new attraction for next week, "In Old Kentucky." This play will run for two weeks.

STONEMAN'S (Karl Chamberlain, manager).—"The Gypsy Baron" is the offering of the Castle Square Opera Co. this week. This opera has not been sung in Chicago for nearly two years. It gives the opportunity for handsome stage settings, which have been taken full advantage of. The following members of the organization take part: Reginald Roberts, William Preette, Charles W. Meyers, Frank Mounin, Edwin Clarke, George H. Jackson, John Barry, Maud Lillian Berli, Maude Lambert, Eva Lynn, Blanche Chapman. The company will sing "The Lady of the Lake" next week.

HOPKINS (C. J. D. Hopkins, manager).—"That well known war play, 'Held by the Enemy,' is presented by the stock this week. Mr. Seeler, Mr. Travers, Mr. Burnham, Miss Rodgers and Miss Algen have prominent parts. The management bill is a good one, including: 'The Girl with the Auburn Hair,' Genaro and Bailey, Jerome and Alexis, 'Vera, the Worst Woman in London,' which has had a long run at the London Standard, will be presented here next week.

ALHAMBRA (J. M. Ward, manager).—"A Trip to Coney," with Bob Cole and Billy Johnson as the chief members of the aggregation, is the attraction here this week. There is fun from start to finish, and the outlook is bright for a good week. Terry McGovern drew banner houses all last week. "Man's Enemy" is next.

CRIMINAL (L. P. Simpson & E. H. McCoy, managers).—"Lost in the Desert" is the attraction here this week. This play has not been seen before in Chicago. The company consists of fifty persons. There are real camels, genuine Arabs and a horse race in the second act. In fact, the production is one of the best scheduled for this house this season. The play was written by Owen Davis. Terry McGovern, in "The Bowery After Dark," comes here next week.

BIJOU (Macoy & Colvin, managers).—"The Girl from Calcutta" is the attraction here this week. The company is a good one and the play is strong in scenic effects. Last week was an excellent one at this house.

CRITERION (Lincoln J. Carter, manager).—Terry McGovern, in "The Bowery After Dark," is at this house this week, and will undoubtedly enjoy a great success as he has at the Alhambra. He is especially popular with Chicagoans, and the applause which he receives would warm the heart of any foot-light artist. His boxing, of course, is his long suit, but his acting is not bad. This house continues to enjoy big business.

OLYMPIA (Kohl & Castle, managers).—Crowded houses ruled here all last week. Men and women stood waiting in long lines to purchase tickets, and this is far from being an uncommon sight at this theatre. Vaudeville was never in higher favor in Chicago than at the present time, and good patrons have brought marked improvement in the attractions. The bill for the week of Nov. 19 is another good one: Girard and Gardner, in "The Soubrette and the Cop," the De Lauder-Debrimont Trio, J. W. Wilton, the Four Orlans, Johnny Carroll, McCall and Daniels, Ber, and Mrs. Joe Keaton, Leo Bonard, the Hecklows, Gagnon and Pollock, Beale Baus, Miller and May, Ozav and Delmo, Leigh and Bronson, Barr and Benton.

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE (Kohl & Castle, managers).—This house continues to do well. The usual good vaudeville bills and the regular round of melodrama and burlesque are offered, while the Castle Square Opera Co. appears in a good opera, so that there is entertainment for all tastes. The week just past was an excellent one in the theatrical way. All houses profited well, with the exception of Hurtig & Season's Music Hall, which was forced to close its doors on account of the fire which broke out at the opening of the engagement of "Jim" Corbett and his company. L. Geneva.—You are mistaken, for we lack not the will to oblige, but the ability to do so. We know of no one who would instruct you.

I. A. McN., Carey.—If you play in cities of 25,000 inhabitants, or less, you will be obliged to pay a war tax of ten dollars in each State, or a proportionate amount reckoned from the first of each month to July 1 following. The money must be made to some collector of internal revenue.

W. M. M., Omaha.—See reply to H. N., in this column.

W. H. S.—"Meg Merrilies" was revived at Daly's Theatre March 12, 1897. Ada Rehan and Virginia Earle were both in the cast, the latter having the role of Flora.

CONSTANT READER, Newton.—We do not know who owns the play. Address Gus Williams, in care of THE CLIPPER.

C. E. D., Cleveland.—Your surmise concerning the music is right. Songs bearing those words cannot rightfully be sung in public.

BASEBALL, CRICKET, ETC.

F. P. K., Philadelphia.—The Chicago team won the championship of the National League in 1880.

CARDS.

H. D., Walden.—B won, providing he had one thousand points and called out.

P. S. S., Fairmount.—You do not have to show your hand. Here is the rule bearing on the question: "If a player bets, or raises a bet, and no other player goes better or calls him, he wins the pot and cannot be compelled to show his hand."

J. G. H., Walden.—Melds do not count until a trick is taken. If A took the first trick and called game he won, if he had one thousand points.

C. LARNED.—A is entitled to a run of five for the last card in 4, 5 and 7.

RAILROAD CLUB, Philadelphia.—As B had but one point to go, he won the game when he played low, as A needed two points to win.

H. C., New York City.—Any straight flush is what some persons choose to call a "royal" or "tiger" hand, which is simply a designation to distinguish the hand from an ordinary flush.

M. B.—The opener of a jack pot, if not called, need show no more than openers.

W. M., Sioux City.—The hand composed of the king, queen, jack, ten and nine of spades is rated higher than that made up of the five, four, three two and one of spades.

R. L., Atlantic.—A player who breaks the pot on a pair may split the pair in order to draw to a four flush or straight, and it is not necessary that he do other than place the discard in the regular discard pile, or lay it to one side, where it can be readily referred to in case of subsequent dispute.

RING.

H. B. M., Little York.—Jeffries won by a knockout blow.

DICE, DOMINOES, ETC.

N. V. C., Scitico.—In all games of dice the six is high (counting six) and the ace low (counting one), the intermediate numbers on the face of the dice ranking accordingly.

ATHLETIC.

C. N. N., Cleveland.—There are portable bowling alleys. For further information write to F. A. Grote, 14 East Fourteenth Street, New York City.

MISCELLANEOUS.

C. H., North Adams.—The bet is off.

H. F., Corning.—According to your statement, you win the bet, as McKinley polled more votes than Stanley did.

B. C. T., Columbus.—You must await the official decision.

H. H. H., Potsdam.—That depends upon what you were betting, which you fail to state in your letter. Try again, as the same rule does not apply to all sports.

R. R., Boston.—That is merely a matter of mutual agreement; best two in three is usually the most satisfactory way.

A READER, New Haven.—There is nothing in the constitution of the United States requiring either the President or Vice-President to be a native of the United States. It is now many years since THE CLIPPER submitted this point to the State Department at Washington. The answer was: "The courts have decided that a child born out of the United States is a citizen if the father was one at the time of his birth; consequently such male child is eligible to the Presidency of the United States (though through the force of circumstances he was born in a foreign country), the other requirements being fulfilled."

O. H., New York.—Any man, Gentile or Jew, Protestant or Roman Catholic, is eligible to the Presidency of the United States, provided all other requisite conditions are fulfilled in his case.

H. T. E., Metuchen.—1. By "majority" is meant the excess in votes obtained by one candidate over all other candidates for the same office. We will have to await the official announcement before intelligently answering your other inquiry. Watch this column for answer.

J. AUSTIN FYNES' EUROPEAN TRIP.

Among the engagements effected for the Proctor circuit of continuous theatres by General Manager Fynes during his recent European trip are the following: Mlle. Clarice Delbos, equestrian wire walker; the Three Sisters Trentanovi, trapeze balancers; Gilly-Viaz, female sharpshooter; Hill and Gully, who have a new and very funny act for their American audience; the famous Florene Troupe, now augmented in numbers and said to be better than ever; Lina Pantzer, who is prettier and more graceful than ever, and Jean Marcel's "Living Pictures." The latter are likely to make as big a sensation in New York as they recently have in Paris and London. In the latter city they played at the Alhambra for several months, with considerable success. The troupe consists of twenty-two models from the leading Parisian artists' studios, and the element of novelty in their exhibition consists of the reproduction in bas relief of famous classical sculptures. The posing in these studies is said to be marvellously clever. Mons. and Mme. Marcel accompany the troupe, and will supervise the details of the debut at Proctor's Fifth Avenue, Dec. 17. Mr. Fynes, while in London pretty thoroughly canvassed that city for a theatre suitable for Mr. Proctor, and it is currently reported that several sites in prominent localities were immediately offered to the continuous performance magnate. It is not unlikely that Mr. Proctor himself may make a trip to London in the near future, in which case a speedy and decisive move on his part may be confidently expected. Mr. Fynes reports to THE CLIPPER that the last and most of the Paris music halls seemed to be thriving. He found novelties in the line of "dumb acts" quite profuse, but the comedy features were, as indeed they always appear to be in Europe, conspicuously lacking.

Said Mr. Fynes to THE CLIPPER: "Little Tich" is apparently the comedy idol of the hour in Europe, especially in Paris, where he recently appeared by courtesy of H. E. Moss, of London, to whom he is under contract for a year at £100 ($500) a week. In Paris he was paid $750 per week. He seems to have fascinated the Parisian music hall public, although his act is very little changed since he last appeared here. He is certainly funny, however. The Schaeffer family, the Krems Family and the Seven Sisters Darnieff are the really wonderful acrobatic turns, but, as children play an essential part in their work, it was impossible to bring them to this country. Nearly all the American acts in Europe are doing well, notably: Albertus and Bartram, Mlle. Diana, Lydia Yeamans-Titus, Lili Hawthorne, Pauline Moran, Webb and Hassan, Fred Leslie's performing dogs, etc. Mr. Fynes met Mr. Leslie in Paris. He was at a kiosk on the Rue de la Chaussee d'Antin, purchasing a CLIPPER which he found on sale both in London and Paris. In London the "real thing" seems to be the Hippodrome, which, under Mr. Moss' able and astute direction, has achieved an instant and, it is believed, enduring success. It is the only London show place to give daily matinees (barring the Crystal Palace and the Aquarium) and the afternoon performances are invariably crowded. No drinking is permitted, and smoking is also barred at the matinees. The best people of London are patronizing this theatre, which, in architectural design and splendid decoration, is a noteworthy and elegant addition to the Moss-Thornion circuit.

The London Alhambra, conducted with more skill by C. Dundas Slater, is doing splendidly with its big ballets, mostly dealing with patriotic subjects—for England is still in the height of its war fever. The cozy little Oxford, with clever Albert Glimmer at the helm, is nightly packed to the doors, thanks to a long and strong straight vaudeville show. R. G. Knowles continues to delight the English public. It's about an even deal between Mr. Knowles and Dan Leno for first place in the Londoners' affections,—by the way, Knowles is prosperous and will retire a rich man. Leno is already in that enviable condition. Moving pictures continue to be popular in both London and Paris, but of late there is a tendency to revive "living pictures," as a result of Mons. Marcel's great success. It is generally believed that Mr. Morton is to produce a set of his own at the Palace de l'Opera. He was the first to do them in London, five or six years ago, and he is now of the opinion that the public want them again. There is no doubt that Mons. Marcel's production at Mr. Proctor's theatre will cause a widespread revival of "living pictures" in America. There is only one Marcel, however, and his art is imitable.

The cozy little Oxford, with clever Albert Glimmer at the helm, is nightly packed to the doors, thanks to a long and strong straight vaudeville show. R. G. Knowles continues to delight the English public. It's about an even deal between Mr. Knowles and Dan Leno for first place in the Londoners' affections,—by the way, Knowles is prosperous and will retire a rich man. Leno is already in that enviable condition. Moving pictures continue to be popular in both London and Paris, but of late there is a tendency to revive "living pictures," as a result of Mons. Marcel's great success. It is generally believed that Mr. Morton is to produce a set of his own at the Palace de l'Opera. He was the first to do them in London, five or six years ago, and he is now of the opinion that the public want them again. There is no doubt that Mons. Marcel's production at Mr. Proctor's theatre will cause a widespread revival of "living pictures" in America. There is only one Marcel, however, and his art is imitable.

The London Alhambra, conducted with more skill by C. Dundas Slater, is doing splendidly with its big ballets, mostly dealing with patriotic subjects—for England is still in the height of its war fever. The London Al portant proposition, based on a well known precedent, that, owing to the now certain and perhaps unavoidable clash of dates between the Anglo-American cable match and the Monte Carlo international, Messrs. Marshall, Pillsbury and Shawalter go to London and personally play out over the board their assignments on the cable match. Since this idea was broached we see that it is well thought of and may be carried out. Unlike Mr. Solly these American paladins are perfectly insured to long trips and complicated arrangements, and acclimatized to almost any locality. There is no apparent reason why the scheme will not work to mutual satisfaction.

The Ring.

Fatal Fight in Michigan.

A dispatch from Detroit, dated Nov. 7, says: "Kid O'Brien, a famous name in the ring, died in St. Mary's Hospital today from concussion of the brain due to his falling to the floor in the seventh round of the pugilistic show here last night. O'Brien was in poor condition when he entered the ring, having been seriously injured in a fight with Cherry last week. He had the worst of it all through the encounter, but just before the seventh round cautioned his seconds not to give up the fight. 'Don't throw up the sponge,' he said. Just ninety-five seconds after he said this Carroll landed a right hand hook on the jaw and O'Brien fell to the floor, the back of his head striking the padded stage. He never regained consciousness, and died early this morning. His opponent, Carroll, is locked up, and all the seconds and promoters of the fight are under surveillance. The physicians believe that O'Brien's death is largely due to the punishment he received at the hands of Cherry, and that his weakened condition rendered him unfit to fight last night. It means the end of pugilistic shows in Detroit, and the club which gave the fight to-day disbanded and went out of the game."

OSCAR GARDNER and MARTIN FLAHERTY faced each other in the ring before the Crescent Athletic Club, of Hartford, Ct., on the evening of Nov. 7, having been matched to box twenty rounds, at catch weight. In the twelfth round they clinched, and in the struggle both men were precipitated through the ropes to the floor. In the fall Gardner twisted his left leg, and was in such a crippled condition that he was unable to continue, and the referee stopped the contest.

TERRY MCGOVERN was not long in taking the starch out of Joe Bernstein when they met for a twenty round bout before the Nonpareil Athletic Club, at Cincinnati, evening of Nov. 2. Bernstein stood the game as long as he could, receiving severe punishment. In the seventh round Terry sent in a crusher above the heart that put him down and out, after two minutes and five seconds of terrific fighting. About six thousand persons were present, and they cheered the victor wildly.

SAMMY CALLAHAN, the well known boxer and trainer, died at his home in Buffalo, N. Y., last week, and was buried on Nov. 14, the funeral being largely attended, as he was a very popular young man. He was but twenty-three years of age, and leaves a mother, four brothers and one sister.

A CABLEGRAM FROM LONDON, dated Nov. 12, says: "Peelard Palmer and Harry Ware boxed twenty rounds at the National Sporting Club tonight for the lightweight championship of England, £100 a side and a purse of £250. Ware was declared the winner."

TOMMY RYAN, the Syracuse boxer, defeated Jeff Thorne in the third round of a six round bout at Chicago in the arena of the Chicago Athletic Association night of Nov. 10. The superiority of Ryan was made quickly apparent.

JIM JUDGE defeated "Mysterious" Billy Smith before the Australia Athletic Club, at Savannah, Ga., in a glove fight on the evening of Nov. 14, the engagement lasting ten rounds and being decided on a claim of foul.

JACK O'BRIEN obtained the verdict in the fifth round of a glove fight with Jimmy Handler before the Penn Art Club, of Philadelphia, night of Nov. 12, the referee stopping the bout when he saw that Handler was practically a beaten man.

A MEETING of the William B. Curtis monument committee was held Thursday evening, Nov. 15, at the New York Athletic Club house, A. G. Mills, chairman, in the chair. Present: H. E. Buermeyer, vice chairman; Chas. E. Goodhue, treasurer; E. J. Wendell, secretary; M. J. Johnston, assistant secretary; John R. Van Wormer, Julius F. Harder, John John R. Van Wormer, Julius F. Harder, John gomery, of the committee. The site committee reported a site selected in Woodlawn Cemetery for remains of Mr. Curtis. A design committee of A. G. Mills, chairman; Julius F. Harder and John R. Van Wormer were appointed and directed to prepare designs for a sarcophagus, with the burial above ground in the solid of the die under the cap stone. $6,200 was voted to be expended, this amount not including the bronze profile portrait of Mr. Curtis to be placed on monument. Communications were read from a great number of athletic clubs and associations throughout the United States and Canada. A. G. Mills, as chairman, stated that the monument would bear this inscription: "Erected to his memory by the amateur athletes of America."

Wheeling.

HARRY ELKES did some capital riding at the Brockton, Mass., track on Nov. 7, equalling the world's record for two miles and taking from one to fifteen seconds off the following miles up to and including the fourteenth. On the first lap after the fourteenth mile the chain of his motor broke, throwing and injuring Elkes, and compelling him to stop. The time for fourteen miles was 20m. 19 3/4s.

THE CLOSING RACES of the season at the Vailsburg, N. J., track place on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 11, the chief event being a twenty-five miles amateur contest, with special prizes for leaders at each five miles. The winner turned up in Monte Rutter, with Edward Billington second, John Ring third, Thomas Firth fourth and William Dobbins fifth, Time, 1h. 5m. 3 3/4s.

CHARLES JARROTT, at the Canning Town track, London, Eng., mounted a motor tricycle, fitted with a single cylinder engine of nominal eight-horse power, rode forty miles 23yds. in one hour, putting all former British records in the shade, the previous best for an hour being less than forty miles.

M. DEMESTRE, the French motor cycle operator, on Oct. 25, at Paris, rode 71 kilometres 896 metres in an hour, being the equal to 44 miles 1,256 yards, English measurement. At the hour a change of wheels was made, owing to one of the tires having burst, and Demestre continued the ride, covering 100 kilometres in 1h. 27m. 44 3/4s., both times being the best on record.

Cricket.

THE METROPOLITAN DISTRICT CRICKET LEAGUE held its annual meeting Oct. 29, in this city, delegates being present from the Knickerbocker, Manhattan, Livingston, Montclair and New York Clubs. It was announced that F. J. Prendergast, of the Manhattan Club, had won the prize for the best batting average in championship games during the past season, and that M. B. Cobb, of the Livingston Field Club, had won the prize for the best bowling average. The prizes and the championship pennant, which was won by the Knickerbocker Athletic Club's cricket team, will be presented at an entertainment to be given about Dec. 1 and J. D. Boyd and F. F. Kelly were appointed a committee to make all arrangements.

THE VISITING SANTA CRUZ TEAM played the first of two scheduled games Oct. 27, at Alameda, Cal., the Alameda eleven then being their opponents. The contest ended in favor of the home team by a score of 48 for eight wickets to 66, I. B. Hogue made 46, and F. G. Croll bowled five wickets at the cost of 12 runs for the Alameda team. The visitors played the Pacific team Oct. 28 on the same grounds, and the contest resulted in a draw. The Pacific team batted first and got a total of 140, of which J. W. Myers made 121 for four wickets, when time was called. D. Bowley, with 45, and W. H. Howard, with 30, were the highest scorers for the visitors.

THE NEW YORK CRICKET ASSOCIATION held its semi-annual meeting Nov. 13, in this city, delegates then being present from the Paterson, Brooklyn Kings County, Manhattan, Nelson Lodge and Kenzie Clubs. The secretary announced that the Paterson Club's team A had won the championship, with a record of nine victories and only one defeat. The official figures also showed that the prizes for batting and bowling in championship games had been won respectively by F. G. Warburton and W. Dods, of the Paterson Club's team A. The pennant and individual prizes will be presented at a "smoker" to be held Nov. 23, at the Teutonia Assembly Rooms, this city.

WILLIAM YARDLEY, who died Oct. 29, at Kingston, Eng., ranked from 1868 to 1877 as one of the best amateur batsmen in England. He was the first to make a century in the annual contests between the Cambridge and Oxford University eleven, making 100 for the former in 1870. He scored 130 against the Oxford University eleven in 1872, and his feat of twice getting a century in these contests remains unique to this day.

JONES WINTER, the veteran American cricketer, was elected president of the Belvidere County Club at its annual meeting, Nov. 6, at Philadelphia. The cricket team played twenty games during the past season, of which nine were won, nine lost and two drawn.

TWENTY-EIGHT ANNUAL GAMES have been played between representative teams of the United States and Canada, eighteen of which have been won by the United States teams and eight by the Canada teams, while two have been left unfinished on account of rain. THE WANDERERS team, of Chicago, which played the newly organized Cincinnati team Sept. 29, at Cincinnati, was the first visiting club to play in that city since 1867.

THE MANHATTAN CLUB held its annual meeting Oct. 29, when the secretary's report showed that the past season had been successful, and the treasurer reported a satisfactory balance to be carried forward to next year's account. A committee meeting will soon be held to make arrangements for the annual dinner of the club.

MAJOR LEAGUE RECORDS.

Official Averages of the Players for the Season of 1900.

N. E. Young, president of the National League, has given out the official batting and fielding averages made by the players of that organization for the season of 1900. At a glance one can see that they differ considerably from the non-official averages published just after the close of the campaign. Wagner, of the Pittsburgh team, heads the list of batsmen, with a percentage of .380, while Flick, of the Philadelphia, is only two points behind him. Keeler, of the champion Brooklyn, who led the major league batsmen twice, is twelve points behind Flick. Then comes Burdett, of St. Louis, followed by forty-four others. In a fielding Warner, of the New Yorks, heads the catchers; Kelley, of the Brooklyn, leads the first basemen; Lowe, of Boston, the second basemen; Cross, of St. Louis and Brooklyn, the third basemen; Davis, of New York, the short stops, and Barry, of Boston, the outfielders. The standing of all the players is given below:

OUR EUROPEAN LETTER.

NUEMBURG, Nov. 5.

The music halls of Germany are now in full bloom, each one of them having American acts as features. Among the latest to open is the new Orpheum, in Vienna, which is one of the prettiest and cosiest in all Europe. The headlines for the month are: The Whitney Brothers, well known American musical team, and their novel instruments have made a pronounced sensation on the Wiener. On the same programme are Burton's dogs, in a remarkable performance, and Ty Sylphe, a dancer, all Americans, while at the Colosseum Col. Shelby and son were engaged as opposition to Houdini. "King of Handcuffs," but at the last moment Houdini cancelled his engagement in Vienna, as the management of intertainers, Berlin paid him five of 5,000 marks and refused to let him leave Berlin, as he has made a sensation there. Circus Busch engaged a German performer to expose how Houdini does his act. The entire press opposed Houdini, but he claimed, won $1,000 from Herrmann, as Houdini opened every handcuff Hermann had.

At Rounacher's, Vienna, Juno Salmo is the leading feature. In Prague, Austria, Smith and Cook, Sugimoto's Japs and Elsie Leslie are the features. In Central Theatre, Dresden, Kelly and Miller are the leaders. A new comer on the programme is Catherine Bartho, a ballet dancer, and who has done nicely. At Krystal Palast, Leipzig, O. K. Sato and the Deonzo Brothers are the bright lights.

In Nuremberg, Saharet, who recently underwent a slight operation, did not open until Nov. 4, and the first three nights the management had to refund thousands of marks, as she was billed to open on the first. On her opening night the theatre was packed to suffocation and she made a terrific sensation. She is once again in the best of health. On her opening night about thirty people journeyed from Munich to Nuremberg and gave a grand reception and banquet in her honor at the leading hotel here. They also gave her a handsome necklace as a token of their affection. She is undoubtedly the most popular music hall performer in Germany.

At the Apollo Theatre, in Berlin, Madge Ellis has made her debut in Germany and has made a big hit. At the Metropole, in Berlin, the "Patched Brothers" are the headliners, and at the Wintergarten can be seen the Rose's Importation, Chung Ling Soo and wife, and Prince Fee Lung, who with Houdini, the "handcuff king," take all the honors. They are the most talked of acts now in Berlin. London and Lower and Burns and Evans are also on the programme. The last two made a big hit. At the Reichellen, in Cologne, are the Salambo, electrical experts, and at the Opello, in Dusseldorf, Stuart, the Male Patti, is as usual, meeting with big success. This is his re-entrance into Germany after a year's absence.

Once again I would like to advise all American performers who sign for Germany to carefully read their contracts and strike out the clauses by which the managers can discharge performers after three or fifteen days. Several acts who were booked came from America and found themselves thrown out after three or fifteen days. There is no redress for them, as the court says you should read your contract before signing. There are many acts that come over here and make a failure, but I never mention their names, as it would be an injury. Every act that comes over does not suit the public.

Julius Greenbaum, who first brought over Astaire to Germany, now has fifteen bioscope picture machines in different cities throughout Germany and Austria.

The managers here are trying to form an association similar to the one in America, so as to get the acts cheaper, as at no time since the first vaudeville theatre was built have vaudeville acts received the salaries they now command. It is all blamed on American acts, as they were booked from America and found themselves thrown out after three or fifteen days. There is no redress for them, as the court says you should read your contract before signing. There are many acts that come over here and make a failure, but I never mention their names, as it would be an injury. Every act that comes over does not suit the public.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans.—At the Grand Opera House (H. Greenwald, manager) the Baldwin-Melville Stock Co. played to an immense business during week of Nov. 11, producing "The Silver King," which was highly presented, handsomely staged and costumed. The two stars, Maurice Freeman and Lavinia Shannon, as well as Tom Grady and J. Salpino, won merited applause throughout the week. For week of 18 "Hands Across the Sea" is underlined.

Tulane Theatre (W. H. Rowles, manager).—Thomas Q. Seabrooke, in "The Rounders," did big business during the past week at this beautiful playhouse. The comedian is as funny as ever, and the company supporting him is all that could be desired, and give a performance well worth the advanced prices. For week of 18 "The Christian," with a local actor, Lyon L. Adams, as leading man, is billed, and, no doubt, crowded houses will prevail during this engagement.

Crescent Theatre (W. H. Rowles, manager).—Hundreds were turned away on the opening Sunday night of "The Flower Walkers," and the standing room prevailed during the week. These popular comedians, with such aids as Lucy Daly, Margaret Daly Vokes and others in a large company of pretty girls, proved funnier than ever, and deserve packed houses. For week of 18 "Faust" is the attraction.

Notes.—Jane Holly, late of the Baldwin-Melville Co., has gone to join the Hopkins Stock Co. at Memphis. Walter Baldwin, the popular manager, and his charming wife have leased a beautiful up town residence, and are nicely quartered for the winter season. Manager Chas. Fourton, of Athletic Park fame, will soon assume the management of the French Opera House.

OREGON.

Portland.—At the Marquam Grand (Calvin Hellig, manager) "A Stranger in New York" gave the first of three performances Nov. 9, to big business. "A Trip to Chinatown" comes 16, 17.

Cordray's Theatre (John F. Cordray, manager).—The "Hotest Coon" in Dixie did a good business week of 11. "A Hot Old Time" comes week of 11, and will be followed by the Frawley Co., opening in "Secret Service."

Metropolitan Theatre (Clarence H. Jones, manager).—"A Young Wife" did a fair business week of 11. "The Dog and Pony Show" drew good houses 9, 10. Ben Hendricks will be seen week of 11, in "Old Ole." To be followed by Hoyt's "A Day and a Night."

The Frederickstuebing Music Hall (Brown & Grant, managers).—La Lista, Dylvan and Ronolzo, Little Nero, Marie D. Wood, Dell Adolphia.

Notes.—The Royal Marine Band of Italy, which played a successful engagement at the Marquam Grand 1-3, gave three additional concerts at the Exposition Building 4, 5, which were largely attended. They were assisted by Signor Giannini, tenor.

NOTES FROM FRANK ADAMS' WAGON SHOW.—Business for the past ten days has been wonderful. We have turned people away every night. At Elba, Ala., half the crowd could not get in. At Weir, Mo., the crowd every night and the result was another packed house. The show will undergo repairs and prepare to be on the road all winter.

Prof. R. C. Carlisle, the original Wichita Jack, a clever lasso thrower, expert rifle shot, fancy trick and rider, is touring Germany with Barum & Bailey's Great Circus on Earth, and has re-engaged for the winter season 1901 in Vienna, Austria.

NOTES FROM A. H. REED'S CIRCUS.—We closed our tenting season of twenty-seven weeks at Vernon, Ind., Oct. 29, and everything is neatly stored away for the winter. We have had the best season in the history of the show. The show will be enlarged in every department next season and it will be made one of the most complete wagon shows on the road.

THE GREAT FAMILY WRITES: "We closed a season of twenty-seven weeks with Campbell Bros. Consolidated Shows at Exeter, Mo., and jumped to St. Paul. On the night of Nov. 6 we played the following places: Elks Mystic Shrine and Exhibition Building, Minneapolis; then over to St. Paul at the Grand Opera House. We are now resting at our home in St. Paul."

BONHEUR BROS. SHOW NOTES.—The yellow wagon shows opened at its home town April 26, for the season of 1900, reconstructed, enlarged and rechristened the New Golden Allied Shows for the Twentieth Century, to splendid business. It returned Nov. 14, and closed and a biting frost with new and much larger tents and additional attractions, after a most prosperous season, resulting from many years of reputation building and repeated visits over its beaten routes, to be greeted by friends and their substantial welcome heartily shown by an income of coin of the realm, and a very blue seat and R. S. chair packed, and the S. R. O. sign brought into requisition at the market entrance long before the performance opened. The season was prosperous beyond past records. All surplus profit will be sold and prepared to immediately begin the season of 1901, under the vision of the Messrs. Bonheur, to completely remodel the entire outfit. All the performers who left Winter quarters with Bonheur Bros. came back with the show to home quarters, and the Brenans, Edward and Maude, left for their home on a visit to follow the Keckers, Euteria, Lydia, "Little Sybil" and Nelo, remain at the quarters a few days before starting on a tour of their own. The rest of the company left for their various homes at the close of the last entertainment under the tents for the season of 1900, well satisfied with the business accomplished and pleasant termination of the tour. W. H. Tibbo closed his engagement with the advance under A. G. Bonheur, and returned to his home in Coffeyville, Kansas. Mr. Tibbo owns the entire bill boards and bill posting at Coffeyville.

CHAS. LEE'S GREAT LONDON SHOWS will open about May 1, at Wilkesbarre, Pa., as a railroad show. Mr. Lee having sold right and title to Fred N. Price and C. M. Honeywell, of Wilkesbarre, Pa. It will take ten cars to transport the show, with two bill cars ahead. The show will carry three band wagons and fifteen baggage wagons, one sleeper, one privilege car, two stock cars and six foot flat cars, and employ about one hundred people, forty head of horses and ten Shetland ponies. The winter quarters will be at Wilkesbarre; home office, Canton, Pa., Mr. Lee's old winter quarters. Mr. Lee will be in charge of the home office and attend to the organizing, while Mr. Price and Honeywell will attend to the stock cars and painting and lettering of wagons and general paraphernalia of the show.

ADVERTISING CAR, NO. 1, OF THE GREAT SYNDICATE SHOWS, closed a season of thirty-two weeks at Fort Gibson, I. T., Nov. 8, and the men departed for their homes as follows: W. S. Dunnington, manager, Chicago; Cliff Redfield, boss bill poster, Denver; Lon Adams, lithographer, Indianapolis; James McConnell, programmer, Spokane, Wash. Bill posters as follows: Fred Redfield, Denver; Frank Walden, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Wm. G. Bolton, Texas; Sam McFarland, Brownwood, Tex.; John D. Magly, Chicago; G. G. Payne, Larned, Kansas; Michael O'Donnell, postmaster, Centropolis, Mo.

THE WINTERMUTE BROS. SHOW closed a season of twenty-one weeks Oct. 1, and are wintering at Hebron, Wis., where they recently purchased a farm of one hundred and fifteen acres joining the Winter quarters. Harry Wintermute has just returned from a two weeks' visit among Eastern relatives. Already preparations are beginning to be made for the coming season.

CANADA.

Montreal.—"Antiquity" was the main feature in the shows put on at Her Majesty's and Academy last week, and as a general rule business suffered thereby. There has been a rumor afloat as to the erection of a new downtown theatre, to be devoted to vaudeville principally, and further announcements are daily expected.

HER MAJESTY'S (J. A. Grose, manager).—"Leah, the Forsaken," with Maudie Batcliffe and Arthur Elliot in the roles of Leah and Rudolf, respectively, was received indifferently week of Nov. 12, with "A Celebrated Case" week of 19.

ACADEMY (J. B. Sparrow, manager).—Bartley Campbell's "Siberia," with a load of good scenery, but only a fair company, came 12-17. Big business is looked for 19-24, when "Sporting Life" will be played.

ROYAL (J. B. Sparrow, manager).—Flynn's Big Sensation Co. crowded this house during the week ending 17. The burlesquers were well costumed, and there was lots of ginger in them. The Keckley Bros. in bag punching, were the stars of the olio.

SOMMER PARK.—The patronage 18 did not suffer from the wet weather. The bill was: The Howards, Emma Zipp, Meldon and Golden, Richmond and Clements, Flossie La Bouché, Thomas, Jackson and Thomas, and Lavigne's Band.

Toronto.—At the Grand Opera House (O. B. Shepard, manager) Blanche Walsh, in "More Than Queen," Nov. 12-17; "The Christian" week of 19.

ROYAL OPERA HOUSE (A. J. Small, manager).—"The Telephone Girl" drew large business week of 12. Coming, week of 19, "Reaping the Whirlwind."

PRINCESS (O. B. Shepard, manager).—The Valentine Stock Co. in "Romeo and Juliet" drew fair business 12-17. The card for week of 19, "The Silver King."

SIDRA'S (J. Shea, manager).—Good business ruled for week of 12. The card included: Charles Hooker and Mabelle Davis, Joseph A. Phillips, Charley Grapevine, Elizabeth Murray, Musical Dale, Harry Watson, Comedian, and the Young America Quintet and Mlle. Christina.

MARSH MUSIC HALL (Stuart Houston, manager).—Freidheim will be with us 19.

ROYAL THEATRE (A. E. Moore, manager). The bill 12-17 included: A farce, entitled "The Doctor's Birthday Party," the Little Georgia Coon Shouter, Lafa Woodson and Laura Wells, the Neals, Baby Ashley and concluded with "O'Hulahan's Visit."

St. John.—At the Grand Opera House (A. O. Skinner, manager) the Truss Stock Co. opened its third week Nov. 12 with "The Charity Ball," to fair business, and gave satisfaction. Manager Truss is paying special attention to stage scenery.

MECHANIC INSTITUTE (R. J. Wilkins, manager).—Captain Lane, of the First Canadian contingent, will give a lecture on the South African war 19.

NOTES.—Eileen Moretta and Rankine Jones closed with the Truss Stock Co. and left for New York 17. Duke and J. Hatet, scenic artists, who have been painting scenery for the Truss Stock Co., leave for New York 15. Lorenzo Ritchey and Adelaide Petrie, of the Boston Stock Co., are in town, having closed with that company. As the Opera House is engaged for week of 19 for a production of "Zephra," the Truss Co. will go to Calais, Me., for that week.

Hamilton.—At the Grand Opera House (A. R. Loudon, manager) Joseph Murphy, in "Shaula Rhue" and "Kerry Gow," 9, 10, to the customary good business. "Way Down East," 13, 14, had fair business. "Reaping the Whirlwind," 17. "The Girl from Calcutta," 20, Robert Fitzsimmons, in "The Honest Blacksmith," 24.

STAR THEATRE (W. Bessey, manager).—The Butterfly Extravaganza Co. opened 12 for week, but played only three nights. A dispute arose between the managers concerning the contract, and the company's manager declined to play after Wednesday night. For week of 19 Rose Sydel's London Belles Co. will hold the boards.

Ottawa.—At the Russell Theatre (C. W. A. Drowne, manager) Vogel & Deming's Minstrels came for two nights, Nov. 9, 10, to big business. "The Christian," 12-14, played to crowded houses, doing: Arthur Friedheim, Russian pianist, 16; "The Prisoner of Zenda," 22-24.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (J. Frank, manager).—"Through the Breakers" opened 1-3, to crowded houses. Smith O'Brien, in "The Game Keeper," came 12 and week, to good business. Coming: "A Ride for Life" 19 and week.

London.—At the London (Alex Harvey, manager) "Down Mobile," Nov. 12, 13, had only fair houses. The principal drawback was counter attractions. A local concert, 14, with Dora Taylor, did not draw very well. Marks Bros. is due 19-Dec. 1.

Bellefonte.—At the Carman Opera House (Fred Adams, manager) the Spooners had good business all week of 12. "Down Mobile" comes 21, "Darktown Swells" 23, "Shannon of the Sixth" 27, 28, "A Stranger's Daughter" 30, Dec. 1.

Winnipeg.—The Winnipeg Theatre was dark during past week. The fire lads' entertainment comes off Nov. 14, 15, and the S. R. O. sign will surely be out. "Why Smith Left Home" comes 16, 17.

Berlin.—At the Berlin Opera House (G. O. Philip, manager) "Down Mobile" played Nov. 16, to good business. The house will be dark week of 23.

CONNECTICUT.

New Haven.—A week of unusually strong attractions, with excellent financial returns, was last week's record in matters theatrical in this city. With the advent of cooler weather, and the presentation of strong attractions already booked and others under negotiation, the outlook for the present season is most encouraging, and unless all signs fail, the season will be a record breaker.

HYPERION (G. B. Bunnell, manager).—Business here was excellent last week. Nell Burgess came, in the County Fair, Nov. 15, to first class returns, as did also Francis Wilson, in "The Monks of Malabar," 16, 17. Coming: Burton Holmes 19, Lulu Glaser Opera Co. in "Sweet Anne Page," 20, 21; H. Henry's Minstrels 22, "The Cadet Girl" 24.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (G. B. Bunnell, manager).—Last week's business here was excellent. "Aunt Hannah" came 12-14, to good returns, and "The Great White Diamond" fared satisfactorily 15-17. Bob Manchester's Cracker Jacks Burlesque Co. is due 19-21, "Through the Breakers" 22-24.

POLI'S WONDERLAND THEATRE (S. Z. Poli, manager).—Business here was all that could be desired. This week's bill includes: Gertrude Haynes and the Choir Celestial, assisted by Jamie Hyman, Johnson and Dean, Gracie Emmett and Company, the Three Westons, Bailey and Madison, J. C. Nugent and Grace Fertig, Aurie Dagwell and the Murphys.

Hartford.—Business for the week of Nov. 19 was only fair.

Parsons' (H. C. Parsons, manager).—Francis Wilson, in "The Monks of Malabar," 14, 15, was the only attraction at this house for the week, and did good business. Mr. Wilson was as popular as ever and was ably assisted by Madge Lessing, Hallen Mostyn, Edith Bradford and a large, well selected company. The opera is pleasing, but does not present anything strikingly new. Coming: "Ulle Akerstrom 20, "Theodora" 21, "The Cadet Girl" 22, Lulu Glaser Opera Co. 23, 24, H. Henry's Minstrels 28, "The Girl from Maxim's" 28, "Arizona," 29, 30.

OPERA HOUSE (Jennings & Graves, managers).—Al. Reeves' Big Co., 8-10, came to fair business. Mr. Reeves and Inez Meckusker made their usual hits. Chas. E. Blaney's "An African King," 12-14, had its initial production and was well received. "Other People's Money," 15, 16, had light business. "The Heart of Chicago" 17. Bookings: "A Young Wife" 19-21, Weber's Parisian Widows 22-24, "Side tracked" 26, "The Village Postmaster" 27, 28, the Royal Lilliputians 29-Dec. 1.

Bridgeport.—Despite the fact that Bridgeport celebrated its centennial last week business in the theatrical line did not diminish to any appreciable extent, and big business prevailed at both the local theatres.

SMITH'S THEATRE (Edwin C. Smith, manager).—The Elroy Stock Co., which played this house the entire week, had one of the most successful weeks of the year. "Way Down East," "Hans Hansen," "Sapho," and "The Coast of Maine," taxed the capacity of the theatre. Booked: Weber's Parisian Widows 19-21, Lincoln J. Carter's "Heart of Chicago" 22-24.

PARK CITY THEATRE (Walter Rowland, manager).—Catherine Robert's Co. did a big business at this house throughout the week, especially when the following were produced in the repertoire: "Romeo and Juliet," "Madame Sans Gene," "Moths of Society," "Sapho" and "Quo Vadis." Booked: Lulu Glaser, in "Sweet Annie Page," 19; H. Henry's Minstrels 21, Burton Holmes' lectures 22.

NOTES.—The Goodrich & Southey Wagon Shows have arrived Winter quarters here, and the company has been reorganized with increased capital. During the week Mr. Goodrich purchased a number of trick ponies, chariots, trained horses and other paraphernalia from Port Richmond, S. I. Goldwin S. Patten, juvenile man of the Catherine Robert Co., was called from his work in this city this week by the sad news of the death of his brother, F. James Patten, in New York last Tuesday.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Manchester.—At the Opera House (E. W. Harrington, manager) the Corse Payton Comedy Co. held full away week of Nov. 12. Coming: Andrew Mack 19, "Our New Minister" 24, "The Sorrows of Satan" 29, "The Girl from Maxim's" Dec. 1.

THEATRE (O. A. Court, manager).—"Side Tracked" was the bill 12-14, followed by "The Gay Maskers" 15-27. Coming: Week of 19, the Cook-Church Comedy Co.

PALACE THEATRE (Billy Nelson, manager).—The Batchelor Sisters were the headlines week of 12. Jackson and Douglas and others are due 19 and week.

"Mr. Hoyt is resting comfortably and feeling rather well, thank you," was the greeting your correspondent had when he called at Charles H. Hoyt's house, Nov. 16, at Charleston, N. H.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit.—At the Detroit Opera House (C. J. Whitney, manager) this week Blanche Walsh, in "More than Queen." Last week Modjeska claimed the attention of the patrons of this house the first three evenings. "King John" was the offering Monday evening, and the star was greeted by a large and appreciative audience, receiving frequent curtain calls, both for herself and her splendid troupe. Her engagement closed with "Macbeth," the reception equalling, if not exceeding, the opening night. Anna Held, in "Papa's Wife" finished the week to fine patronage. Next week, the Bostonians, in "The Viceroy."

LUXEM THEATRE (E. D. Stair, manager).—This week, "The Heart of Maryland." Last week Eugene Blair, in "A Lady of Quality," won admiration and applause from well filled houses. Next week, "A Hole in the Ground."

WHITNEY'S THEATRE (E. D. Stair, manager).—"Lost in the Desert" played to good business. Next week, the Wilbur Opera Co.

CAPITOL SQUARE THEATRE (Dr. Campbell, manager).—This week Henry C. Jacobs' Butterfly Burlesquers. Last week Rose Sydel's London Belles offered a fair entertainment to a well filled crowd of "smokers." Next week, the Bon Tons.

WONDERLAND THEATRE AND MUSÉE (James H. Moore, manager).—This week's offering: J. F. Crosby Jr. and Inez Forman, presenting St. U. Collins' playlet, "A Model Heiress of Harley Case," the fellow who talks about his father, the Young American Quintet, Mattie Boorum, Master George Wright, Harry Robinson, Johnnie Fox, Joe Kauffman, Sidney Grant and Miss Norton, Elsetta, toe dancer; Miles and Raymond, in a sketch.

Grand Rapids.—At Powers' Opera House (Orin Stair, manager) "The Little Minister," Nov. 14, played to a large audience; Modjeska, 16, 17, packed the house. Coming: Hanlon's "Supper" 19-21, Tim Murphy, in "A Bachelor's Romance," 29.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (Orin Stair, manager).—"A Night Before Christmas," 11-14, played to the capacity of the house, as did "Humpty Dumpty" 15-17. Coming: "Midnight in Chinatown" 18-21, "Man's Enemy" 22-24.

SMITH'S OPERA HOUSE (Mrs. W. B. Smith, manager).—Rush's Bon Ton Burlesquers did an immense business. Coming week of 19: Miacco's City Club Co.; week of 26, Woodhull's High Rollers.

Saginaw.—At the Academy of Music (J. H. Davidson, manager) "The Little Minister," Nov. 12, drew a good house and pleased everybody. Walter E. Perkins presented "The Man from Mexico" to good business 15. "At Piney Ridge" 17, "What Happened to Jonas" 24, Tim Murphy 26, "A Girl from Calcutta" 29.

Lansing.—At the Baird Opera House (F. J. Williams, manager) "The Little Minister" played Nov. 12, to a packed house. Modjeska, in "King John," followed 14 to S. R. O. Coming: Hanlon's "Supper" 22. James J. Baird, owner of the theatre, leaves 21 for a three months' European trip.

Bay City.—At Wood's Opera House (Fred P. Walter, manager) "The Little Minister" drew a large house and was well received Nov. 10. "The Man from Mexico" pleased a large audience 14. Coming: Tim Murphy 24.

Jackson.—At the Athenaeum (H. J. Porter, manager) Himmelman's Imperial Stock Co., in a repertoire of standard plays, had a week of splendid business Nov. 12-17. Due: Modjeska 19, Hanlon's "Supper" 23, 24. Fred Felton, for the past two seasons assistant manager of the Athenaeum, has resigned, and will devote his future time to the interests of the Central City Printing Co., of this city, of which he is manager.

Kalamazoo.—At the Academy of Music (B. A. Bush, manager) Porter J. White, in "Faust," gave a delightful rendition of that role to only a fair house Nov. 13. "Humpty Dumpty" had a rather light business 14. "The Little Minister" came 16, and from the advance sale a large business seems assured. "A Trip to Countown" is booked for 17, the Chicago Symphony Orchestra of fifty-five pieces is due 19, "The Tyranny of Tears" 20.

Battle Creek.—At Hamlin's Opera House (E. R. Smith, manager) Porter J. White, in "Faust," Nov. 12, and "Piney Ridge," 14, both gave excellent satisfaction to crowded houses. Coming: "The Man from Mexico" 19, Davidson Stock Co. 26-Dec. 1. After the performance of "Trip to Countown" Co., Nov. 16, the entire company attended a reception given in their honor by the colored 4th of battle Creek, in the Armory. There was dancing, card playing and feasting.

Miscellaneous.

NOTES FROM BOSTOCK'S INDIANAPOLIS ZOO. Frank Bostock, sole proprietor and director general.—The third week of the Indianapolis Zoo is proving a bonanza. Out of town visitors are rounding in. All Indiana endorses the institution. This comes from a special exhibition given to Governor Mount and party. The governor issued a statement commending the Zoo. Swell society people are attending in large numbers. Elephant and camel riding parties are the rage. Handsome, catchy souvenirs each week please patrons. Those that attracted the most attention were a ring and costly steel engraving of McKinley and Bryan. Mr. Bostock is using nothing but the finest paper and plenty of it. He has a new arrival, which is a tremendous drawing card. It is called "Hoot Mon, What is it?" The strange creature was captured in South Africa by a British soldier, a friend of Mr. Bostock's, who is in Scotland. In this way it got "round" to the Indianapolis Zoo. It has pink eyes, black teeth, long, dark brown hair, and cannot walk or run. Having no use for feet, its legs end in ugly looking claws six inches in length. A special exhibition of "Hoot Mon" was given to the newspaper men and physical culturists. Bonavita is working his lions with one arm in a sling, the result of an attack on him by four of the beasts. They frightfully clawed and chewed his arm. Mme. Morelli continues to win favor with her jugglery. Baby Ida is making a hit with her Cuban dances and her "Tango" act. Cal Albert Corrado's Italian Band, in daily concerts, wins rounds of applause. Leonie Akoun has joined, as treasurer; Fay Warner and Tinnie Akoun, ticket takers at balcony; Will Howell, head doorkeeper and chief booker; John Francis, head animal man; Sam Stevenson, Chas. Dixon and Wm. Gardiner, assistant animal men; Thomas Wotten, butcher; Albert Klien, Bert Neilson and Wm. Johnson, groomsmen. The band consists of Albert Corrado, cornet; Frank Corrado, cornet; Lahr Massimino, clarinet; Alfonso baritone; Carmo Tarras, alto; Cecilio Cedomo Giarratana, alto; Epifanio Odds, tuba; Benedetto Corrado, drums. Mr. Bostock is at Savannah, Ga., where he is putting on a big street carnival for the Elks. At this carnival Chiquita will be the queen and the feature.

BUTLER & SCOBELL'S ELECTRIC THEATRE Co. opened in Chester, Pa., Nov. 10, to good business. The roster includes W. R. Butler and R. T. Scobell, sole owners; Prof. Wm. Le Compt, general manager and electrician; D. O. Mills, treasurer; Frank Williams, advance agent; Buck Scobell, box props, with one assistant. Among the performers are: Mrs. Kate Butler, in fire dance and electrical illusion; Bernice Bernard, illustrated songs; Kate Moya, in poses plastique; Zantilla, toe dancer, with electrical effects; the Ashton Sisters, song and dance; Prof. Wm. Le Compt, fire act, one of the leading features is a series of pictures of the Galveston flood. THE OLD RELIABLE is a welcome visitor every week.

"POXY" MOORE, who managed the Philippine village at the Omaha Exposition last year, has been selected to manage the Philippine village at the Pan American Exposition at Buffalo. He leaves San Francisco Dec. 6 for Manila to collect one hundred natives and the necessary material for the erection of the village. The concession covers eleven acres and will be the big feature of the exposition. Moore for three seasons past has been dress agent and business manager for Woodward & Burgess, lessees of the Boyd Theatre, Omaha; the Auditorium and Coates' Opera House, Kansas City, and owners of the Woodward Stock Co.

J. F. MILLER started on the road Nov. 1 as advance agent of Howarth's Hippodrome. Mr. Miller, who was formerly with the McAvoy show, has been in the business for a score of years.

LA BELLE'S IMPERIAL ENTERTAINERS have completed a two years' tour of Ontario, Can., and opened two weeks ago in Quebec Province. They report a successful season during the election campaign, but now that the excitement is over big business is the rule. Jas. C. De Lancey left Nov. 1, and Al. Dobbins is filling his place. Mr. Yorn has joined hands with Carrie Winstanley, and are introducing their character sketches. Maurice La Belle has returned for a short visit home, and will again do the double wire with his brother, Harry Rinaldo, wonder worker, has also joined.

EDWARD VINTON joined Blake & Bishop

HARRY, EDWARDS, KERNELL and WILLIAMS, BEN.

"A NIGHT OUT."

A Comedy Hit from start to finish.

ADDRESS 214 E. 14TH ST., NEW YORK, OR ALL FIRST CLASS AGENTS.

Jennie Davenport, West and Fowler, Dalton and Boyle and Dot Collins.

Savannah.—At the Savannah Theatre business was unusually good for week of Nov. 12. Matthews and Bulger gave a satisfactory performance 13. Rusco & Holland's Minstrels, 16, followed to a large house. Howard Gould, in "Rupert of Hentzau," 17, played two performances before two of the largest houses of the season. Coming: Murray and Mack, in "Shooting the Chutes," 21; "A Milk White Flag," 22.

New Albany.—Jas. J. Sheeran and his company continue to draw large houses nightly, and the performance is a success in every way. The people: Marguerite Barker, Jessie Haynes, John Beavis, May Ballard, Carroll and Clark, Chas. F. Haynes, Flo Tennette, Howard and Earle and Adella Berg. The afterpieces, "More Trouble," scores a hit.

Frank Binney and his wife, Kittie Chapman, will open at the Imperial 26.

Augusta.—Last week was entirely occupied by the Elks Street Fair and was a success. Boston's Midway Carnival Shows had space in five squares on Broad Street and have done a fine business. Weather was perfect and visitors plentiful. The Elks have added to their charity fund a snug sum.

Opera House (W. L. Bremen, manager).—Morison's "Faust" drew only moderate attendance Nov. 12. Outside attractions were too much for it. The James-Kidder Co., in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," followed 13, and did not fare much better. Coming: Murray and Mack, in "Shooting the Chutes," will appear 19; "A Milk White Flag" 21.

Macon.—At the Academy of Music (H. Horne, manager) "The Night of the Fourth" pleased an audience of fair proportions Nov. 12. "Faust" came to a snarl and did not fare much better. Coming: Murray and Mack, in "Shooting the Chutes," will appear 19; "A Milk White Flag" 21.

The Carleton Sisters, Hazel and Daisy, have joined Murray & Mack's Eastern "Finnigan's Hall" Co.

MADISON'S NEW BUDGET No. 7.

Bigger and grander than ever before, and positively the greatest volume of stage comedy in the world. The towering apex of brilliant originality and wit. A glance at will convince you. Briefly stated the new Budget No. 7 contains 30 of my latest parodies on popular songs, including "Blue and Gray," "Bird in Gilded Cage," "Picture No. Artist Can Paint," "Always," "Little Georgia Rose," "A Little Bit Off the Top," and 14 others; also SEVEN great monologues, including one written especially for lady performers; also a great act for hobo and subterfuge, entitled "A TRAMP'S OPPORTUNITY," also two other new acts for sketch teams; also a brilliant new 50 minute afterpiece in one act, entitled "A HEBREW'S BUSY DAY," also brand new sidewalk patter for two males and male and female teams, respectively; also an entirely original act for two Hebrew comedians, entitled "COHEN AND LEVI," besides a lot of new monologues for single Hebrew performers; also a sensational 7 song, "I LOVE MY GLASS OF RUM" (words and music complete); also a gigantic miscellaneous assortment of the latest comic poems, interludes, jokes, miscellaneous gags, etc. Dozens of other features. Notwithstanding the fact that MADISON'S NEW BUDGET No. 7 contains vaudeville material that I would not write to order for less than $1,500, the price will remain as heretofore.

The Star Contents

One Dollar Per Copy.

Such famous stars as Rogers Ferguson, Will H. Fox, Jas. T. Kelly, Barney Bergson, Jack Norworth, have already ordered Budget No. 7, BECAUSE they know a good thing when they see it. And here's another tip: Get a Budget file before the limited supply of back issues has become exhausted. FOR $3.50 I WILL SEND Budgets 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 (No. 1 is out of print), or any 2 for $1.50, any 3 for $4 for $2.50, or any 5 for $3. SEND ALL ORDERS TO THE PUBLISHER, JAMES MADISON, 134 EAST 79TH ST., New York City. Interviews by appointment. IF YOU WANT TO OBTAIN a Budget personally, go to HELL'S MUSIC STORE, 1404 Third Ave., near 79th.

MANAGERS' ATTENTION IS CALLED TO THE GREAT SCENIC NOVELTY, ENTITLED A TRIP FROM THE JUNGLES OF AFRICA TO THE PALACE OF THE KING IN 1 SECOND,
 THE MOST STARTLING TRANSFORMATION EVER ATTEMPTED, INTRODUCED BY THE FAMOUS
4 WILSON FAMILY 4

We carry Special Scenery, consisting of three leg P. A. and stage, a novel and unique Jungle Scene of four wings and drop. SYNOPSIS: Scene 1st—An African Jungle on the banks of the River Nile; in this scene the Kaffir Mystery and the Jungle Jamboree, two new novelties, will be introduced. Scene 2d—The Palace of the King; in this scene everything that a Negro can do is the line of singing and dancing will be presented, introducing the two cutest and cleverest Pickaninies before the American public. REMARKS: The First Scene is in three, with bare stage, yet positively and without any exaggeration in the space of a second is transformed into a gorgeous palace, with carpet extending down to its usual place back of one, literally covered with furniture, rugs, palms, etc., done upon an entirely original and novel principle and positively sure fire. Invite offers from combinations or vaudeville. All open time, except three weeks in December. Address GEO. H. WILSON, 146 West 37th St., New York.
 P. S.—FOR SALE, that Inexplicable Mystery, "THE FAIRIES' CASTLE," as performed by the Wilson Family; also a Trick Watermelon Drop and large Mechanical Watermelon. This Drop and Watermelon have been used in Chicago and San Francisco only.

RALPH JOHNSTONE
 Greatest of All Bicyclists.

Has broken all records. Has not lost one week in two years, having played New York forty-five weeks in that time, at Hammerstein's and Astor & Bial's only. This is what Chico says in his review of Koster & Bial's Show: "Ralph Johnstone has his act in very good shape, and condensation makes this single act appear better than the one in which he appeared with Jackley. He has gotten his stair climbing well in hand, and can now perform the trick at the first attempt when he really wishes to do so. Ordinarily, he falls off the steps a couple of times, just to let the audience realize that the feat is a difficult one, a bit of faking which is permissible under the circumstances."

AT LIBERTY FOR A FEW WEEKS ONLY, COMMENCING NOV. 26.

SPECIAL NOTICE. CLIPPER ANNUAL FOR 1901.

We respectfully request our patrons to send in their advertisements for the next edition of

THE New York Clipper Annual

Now in course of preparation, and will be issued about January 1st.

This valuable Record Book, the only one of its kind published, has always proved an excellent advertising medium and a most direct means of communication for MANAGERS OF OPERA HOUSES and HALLS, ACTORS and PERFORMERS IN ALL DEPARTMENTS, MUSEUM and CIRCUS MANAGERS, DEALERS IN THEATRICAL GOODS and COSTUMES, or PERSONS WHO SUPPLY ANYTHING USED IN A THEATRE, CIRCUS or MUSEUM; dealers in baseball, cricket and other sporting goods and implements, dealers in guns, ammunition, etc., fishing tackle makers, boat builders, etc., etc.

This edition of THE CLIPPER ANNUAL will be an especially attractive and useful book, containing upwards of two hundred pages, illustrated with beautiful half tone engravings etched on copper, and its several special features, including a complete HISTORY OF EVENTS IN THE THEATRICAL WORLD, together with a record of all that has taken place in the WORLD OF SPORTS during the past year, will give it a distinct value that will entitle it to a permanent place as a reference book. It will fully sustain the Annual's reputation for reliability and full information in all of the departments with which it deals. These points will be sure to give it a special value to advertisers, as it will be retained and often consulted where the ordinary year book will secure only passing notice.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

For one page 7 1-2x4 1-2,	$40.00
For half a page,	20.00
For quarter of a page,	10.00

To persons contemplating advertising, and who may be unfamiliar with the "ANNUAL," we will send a copy of our last edition (while our limited supply lasts) on receipt of ten cents.

Please send in advertising matter early, and address all communications to

THE NEW YORK CLIPPER,
CLIPPER BUILDING, NEW YORK CITY.

"FOR OLD TIME'S SAKE."

By CHAS. K. HARRIS,
The Most Original Song Writer in America.

This Song is the ONLY REAL LIVE SONG HIT on the market today, and is being sung with the greatest of success by all the leading Descriptive Singing Artists of America, who will be advertised in connection with this great hit in the Christmas Edition of THE NEW YORK CLIPPER. The Singers using this song will surprise the profession, as well as the public at large, as they are all Artists who are at present playing engagements in Vaudeville, Minstrel, Concerts, Burlesque and Farce Comedy. This song does not need the waving of old glory, or the beating of the drums, as it stands upon its own merits, and needs no other composer's brains to make it a hit.

DON'T WAIT until it is another "AFTER THE BALL," but be in the swim, and up to date. Learn it before it is sung to death. Twenty magnificent, colored slides now ready. Fifty cents per slide. Professional copies and orchestrations free to recognized singers enclosing programme.

Singers playing New York can secure copies by calling at the NEW YORK OFFICE, 51 West 28th St. CHICAGO OFFICE, Ogden Bldg., Corner Clark and Lake Sts. Address all communications to the home office,

ONLY A FEW NUMBERS, BUT THERE ARE THREE POSITIVE HITS IN IT, AND WE KNEW IT, THEREFORE WE GOT IT, THAT'S WHY WE GOT IT.

GOOD BYE, DOLLIE GRAY.

The Daintiest, Sweetest and Prettiest Little Song that was ever written, by PAUL BARNES and WILL D. COBB, the author of "I CAN'T TELL WHY I LOVE YOU, BUT I DO."

HAMILTON HILL, the Great Baritone, wires from Phila., Pa.;

Nov. 6, 1900.

MORSE MUSIC CO.—Press Unanimously declare "Dolly Gray" greatest ever.—HAMILTON HILL.

Nov. 5, 1900.

MORSE MUSIC CO.—Dollie Gray biggest hit ever had. Recalled four times; speech, then sang it again.—HAMILTON HILL.

DOWN BY THE RIVERSIDE.

By PAUL BARNES. Here's the Chorus. It will give you an idea of what the song is:

Down by the riverside, down by the riverside,
He sighed, she sighed, then they sighed side by side
Down by the riverside.

The melody is as good as the words, therefore a combination that cannot be beaten. HERBERT HOLCOMB, of CUSHMAN, HOLCOMB and CURTIS, says: "The best song I've ever sung—will keep it on indefinitely."

MY RAINY DAISY.

By BRYAN and VERNON.

An Exceptionally Pretty Little Waltz Number.

PICKIN' ON A CHICKEN BONE.

BOB COLE'S latest and the best he has ever written. Receiving four and five encores nightly.

These are three of the best songs from this catalogue, and three that are sure comers. We are banking on every one of them, and you can take our word for it that they will be a credit to your act. As we have just secured this catalogue we are not in position to know the names of all who are using these songs. That is why due credit is not given in this advertisement. Should be glad to hear from anyone who is using any of the above songs now. We could fill a page of this paper expatiating on the merits and beauty of these four songs, but we won't. We will let you do that, and you'll agree with us after you've heard them. Professional copies of all are ready. Orchestrations also if you want them in various keys to suit your voice. Send for all of these songs for they are three absolute gems. You must send LATE PROGRAMME with stamps for postage, or your letter will receive no attention. These copies are for VOCALISTS ONLY. Kindly remember this.
